Dominicans Slay Assassin, Three Others Captured

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Dominican armed forces of young Rafael Trujillo Jr. announced Friday assassination of his father has been partly avenged by the slaying of one assassin and capture of three others by special agents.

But the military conceded the accused mastermind, ex-Brig. Gen. Juan Tomas Diaz, got away, and said he is being hunted.

The announcement came as a dramatic aftermath of a massive funeral in tribute to the old dictator, Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo Sr., 69, who was cut down from ambush Tuesday night.

POST GUARDS

The military statement said one assassin was machine-gunned to death Thursday while firing at special agents from behind an aunt in whose home he was found hiding here. It said another was seized in the home of a Roman Catholic priest.

Despite an old feud between the Trujillos and the Catholic Church over repressive measures under the dictatorship, the slain feudal ruler was given Catholic funeral rites at his home city, San Cristobal, 23 miles from the capital.

And the armed forces said it was posting guards at churches throughout the nation as a result of finding that one assassin had been given asylum by the clergy.

Efforts went ahead here to give the old Trujillo dictatorship a future under Lt. Gen. Rafael Jr., 32, and the nominal government chiefs who served his father. Rafael Jr. was a year-old infant when Rafael Sr. took over in 1930.

Rafael Jr. — a colonel by appointment of his doting father at 5 and a brigadier general at 9 — became chief of the air, sea and land forces Thursday night by decision of the government heads.

Late Friday afternoon, after the funeral, Rafael Jr. was confirmed in the newly created post by unanimous vote — 24-0 in the Senate and 60-0 in the Chamber of Deputies.

60 Injured In Uprising By Leftists

TOKYO (AP) — Thousands of leftist-led demonstrators tried to storm the Japanese Parliament Friday in a protest against legislation to outlaw violence by both right-wing and leftist organizations. There also were riots in Kyoto.

More than 60 persons, including three Socialist deputies and a number of policemen, were injured in the first major antigovernment riots since last summer when demonstrators forced cancellation of a goodwill trip here by President Eisenhower.

With the leftist People's Council Against the U. S.-Japan Security Treaty threatening new outbreaks Saturday, police stationed 5,000 helmeted guards around Parliament Friday night for all-night protection of the building.

Police estimated 18,000 to 21,000 demonstrators led by the people's council converged on Parliament where the antiviolence bill was approved by a committee of the lower house.

Some 3,500 police were mobilized to stop the demonstrators from storming the Parliament compounds.

Scuffles resulted in an estimated 20 injuries in Tokyo, most of them police who were stoned by the students.

In the city of Kyoto 43 students were injured, five seriously, when demonstrators clashed with police during a protest demonstration. Seven police were injured.

The antiviolence bill is aimed at controlling all acts of political violence. Sponsored by the ruling government party, it is supported by the moderate Democratic-Socialists.

GEORGE S. KAUFMAN

Stroke Fatal For Famous Playwright

NEW YORK (AP) —Playwright George S. Kaufman, the so-called "gloomy dean" of Broadway, whose tart wit delighted theater audiences for nearly half a century, died Friday at the age of 71.

A series of strokes that began 18 months ago left him bedridden and a final stroke caused his death at his Park Avenue home, where he lived alone except for his household staff.

PULITZER WINNER

"He held his wit and humor up to a few weeks ago," said his only child, a daughter, Anna Schneider.

Kaufman produced his best works in a series of collaborations with some of the great names of the American theater. He and Morris Ryskind won a Pulitzer Prize in 1932 for "Of Thee I Sing," and he won a second with Moss Hart in 1937 for "You Can't Take It With You."

Other big Kaufman hits included "The Royal Family," "Dinner at Eight," and "Stage Door," written with Edna Ferber; "Bring Up the Girls," with Ryskind; "I'd Rather be Right," and "The Man Who Came to Dinner," with Hart.

Court Is Asked To Bar Arrest By U.S. Officers

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Attorneys for Carlos Marcello Friday asked for a restraining order to prevent immigration officials from arresting the rackets boss until a federal court could rule on his deportation appeal.

U. S. District Court Judge Ben C. Dawkins set a conference on the request for 10:30 a.m. Saturday.

FLYING TO STATE

Jack Wasserman of Washington and Michel Maroun of Shreveport, Marcello's lawyers, and asst. U. S. Attorney E. V. Boagni were to confer with the judge then.

The meeting was originally scheduled for Friday afternoon. But Dawkins moved it back a day to permit special asst. U. S. Atty. Gil Zimmerman to fly here from Washington.

The order, if granted, could let the New Orleans underworld czar remain at liberty on bond with the jurisdiction of the western Louisiana district court.

Meanwhile, the area stayed saturated with immigration and border patrol officials. Maroun charged they flocked here after he notified the government Wednesday of Marcello's intention to surrender.

Maroun said he filed for a restraining order because immigration and border patrol officials were trying to arrest Marcello and get him out of the country before he could turn himself in.

Marcello dropped from sight in May after he was reportedly forced to leave Guatemala. On April 4, U. S. immigration officials deported him to Guatemala after a 9-year-old court battle.

How and when Marcello came back to this country was not known.

Maroun said Marcello was somewhere within the confines of the district court for western Louisiana. The district extends across the state's northern parishes to the Mississippi river and covers the Lake Charles area in the southwest portion.

Since the disclosure that Marcello intends to give up, Maroun

CIA Denies Dulles Will Resign Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—A spokesman Friday denied reports that Central Intelligence Agency chief Allen W. Dulles has or is about to resign.

One version of the reports broadcast by the National Broadcasting Co. from Washington was that Dulles was quitting because of bad health and because of pressures for him to leave.

The CIA spokesman laughed when told of the reports, saying he had seen Dulles only two hours earlier and he looked in the best of health.

However, about a month ago informed members of Congress expressed belief that a drastic shakeup of the CIA was in the making with Dulles on his way out.

A task force of investigators headed by retired Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, former Army chief of staff, has been looking into possible changes in the intelligence agency's setup, because of its involvement in the ill-fated Cuban invasion.

Boy Never Attends School, Graduates

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Billy Browne, 14, was graduated Friday from the school he never attended.

Afterwards, the boy's classmates joined him for a party sponsored by the telephone company. It played a big part in his education.

Billy, who spends his days in bed and his nights in an iron lung was stricken with polio when he was 6.

His first three years of schooling came from tutors. Then, in 1956, Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Co. set up a two-way communication system between Billy's bedroom and St. Bartholomew School.

When he wanted to speak to the class or ask questions, Billy used a loudspeaker system, manipulating the switch with his knee. Was it difficult keeping up with the other students?

"Not particularly hard, one way or the other," Billy said.

A lot of credit goes to his brother, Paul, 13, who was in the same class and brought him assignments.

The party gave Billy a chance to see his classmates, many of whom he knew by their voices.

Southern Bell provided ice cream and cake and set up a display demonstrating the process used in bouncing a signal off the satellites. A technician was on hand to explain it.

Texan Is Top Academy Cadet

Academy officials Friday named John L. Kammerdiener, 23, of Alice, Tex., as the No. 1 man in general order of merit in the class graduating next week. The top cadet militarily has not been named.

Kennedy, Khrushchev To Open Talks Today

Hopes Faint For Settling Of Problems

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — The leaders of a divided world's two rival camps open a summit meeting Saturday in this gracious old city on the blue Danube.

Cautious and barely hopeful, President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev privately expect to come away with little more than a richer knowledge of each other's personalities and policies. They do not expect to work any major changes in two days.

Khrushchev arrived in Vienna Friday afternoon after passing through a gate in a complex barbed wire fence that forms the Iron Curtain cutting Czechoslovakia off from Austria.

"We know one cannot settle everything at once," he said. "If however, one has good will, one can also achieve much within a short time."

He told welcomers the Soviet Union "is for peace, for better relations between states and for Soviet-American relations built on peace and business-like cooperation."

Kennedy is due Saturday from Paris and his talks with French President Charles de Gaulle. In the French capital Friday, Kennedy said he feels greater confidence because of the conferences there.

He said he has seen that it is important that we understand [illegible] Khrushchev — what we want and the implications of it, and it is equally important that he understand ours.

His get-acquainted session has set loftier sights than any in the postwar annals of summit diplomacy, perhaps to avoid another disastrous collapse such as ended the last summit meeting in Paris a year ago.

Khrushchev arrived in Paris then in a belligerent mood, ostensibly because an American U-2 reconnaissance plane had been spotted and shot down over the Soviet Union only two weeks before. Whatever his reasons, he de-

U.S. Group Wires Castro On Tractors

Ask Confirmation On Trade Offer For Prisoners

DETROIT (UPI)—The Tractors for Freedom, Inc. Committee late Friday wired Cuban Dictator Fidel Castro with a list of the types of tractors it has "prepared to make available" to the island government in exchange for prisoners of the abortive invasion.

In a letter signed by committee co-chairmen Walter P. Reuther and Dr. Milton Eisenhower, honorary chairman Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and Joseph M. Dodge, treasurer, the committee told Castro as soon as he confirmed his May 17 proposal to carry out the release of the 1,214 prisoners, and forwarded a list of their names, the committee would begin working out shipping details on the tractors and on securing the PW's release.

FARM TRACTORS

The cable said the committee, on the basis of its meeting this afternoon with five agricultural experts, was prepared to make available 500 agricultural tractors, with attachments of plows, discs and harrows, of the sizes and types "most needed to increase the agricultural production of Cuba, and raise the living standards of the Cuban people."

The committee said the types and sizes, with the number in each category, "represent a balanced tractor group ideally suited to increase and diversify Cuban agricultural production of foods needed to increase and improve the diet of Cuban people."

The list of tractors the committee said it would make available was:

—15 tractors of the D6 type with 93 to 105 engine horsepower, 15 of the D4 type with 65 to 70 horsepower; 20 of the TD6 type with 40 to 55 engine horsepower, 100 of the 50 to 75 drawbar horsepower type, capable of pulling 4 to 6 plows, 125 of the 40 to 49 drawbar horsepower type, 4 to 5 plows, 125 of the 30 to 39 drawbar horsepower type, 3 to 4 plows, and 100 of the 25 to 29 drawbar horsepower type, 2 to 3 plows.

The committee said it was prepared to ship the tractors to Cuba within two weeks following acceptance of the proposal.

Mrs. Fudickar Dies; Funeral Rites Pending

Mrs. Jennie Belle Fudickar, well - known Monroe woman, died early Friday morning. She was 67.

The coroner's office said Mrs. Fudickar died in her sleep at her apartment following a heart attack.

Active in community activities until a few years ago when failing health curtailed her efforts, Mrs. Fudickar was a life - long resident of Monroe, a member of the Grace Episcopal Church and the Daughters of the American Revolution.

She was the aunt of Fred Fudickar Jr., prominent Monroe attorney and a former district attorney.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete last night, but will be held sometime Sunday. Burial will be be in Riverview Cemetery under direction of Mulhearn Funeral Home.

Surviving are a son, E. W. (Bill) Fudickar; four grandchildren, Betty Jane Fudickar, Paul Fudickar, Libby Lou Fudickar, all of McAllen, Tex., and Mrs. James Healey, Monroe.

Rain Possible This Afternoon

The weatherman says that along with hot weather and mostly dreary skies, a little rain might fall this afternoon.

Partly cloudy skies, temperatures ranging from 65 to 90 degrees and showers compose the forecast today.

Yesterday's top reading in the Twin Cities was 90 degrees. The low, as recorded by Federal Aviation at Selman Field, was a mild 65.

Winds today will be mostly southerly and southeasterly from 8 to 16 miles per hour.

New Riders Land In Jail At Jackson

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Ten integration-minded "Freedom Riders" launched a new-type assault on Mississippi racial laws Friday — peacefully and unsuccessfully.

The riders came in two Trailways buses, with six arriving at midafternoon and seven Friday night. White riders went into the Negro waiting room in a new maneuver, and Negroes went into the white waiting room.

ALL CHARGED

The segregated assault on segregation was complete in the first wave Friday and partial in the second wave, when some white persons went into the white waiting room with the Negroes.

The 17, charged with breach of the peace, brought to 65 the number arrested since the ride began last week.

Five months later they were together again, in the police paddy wagon on their way to jail on breach of peace charges.

The new wave of riders came shortly after Hinds County supervisors cleared Max Thomas, superintendent of the County Penal Farm, on charges that he beat a Negro rider assigned briefly to the farm near Jackson.

The supervisor revoked the temporary suspension of Thomas after Sheriff J. R. Gilfoy reported his investigation showed Rev. G. T. Vivian of Chattanooga, Tenn., "was not hit, but instead got this small laceration on his head in the scuffle which ensued while Mr. Thomas was in the process of defending himself."

The riders charged Vivian was beaten and the supervisors ordered an investigation. Others have said they were well-treated by authorities.

The new arrivals Friday were sent to the city jail, where seven white riders previously convicted on breach of peace charges were held, pending their trial Monday afternoon.

U.S. Marines Ready To Move

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP) — The Greensboro Daily News reported Friday night that Marine Corps units along the eastern seaboard are being loaded aboard carriers to take position in the Caribbean off the coast of the Dominican Republic. The paper quoted reliable sources.

It was learned that leaves of some Marines at Camp LeJeune, N. C., have suddenly been canceled.

Naval sources at Norfolk had no comment. Efforts to reach officials at Camp LeJeune were unsuccessful.

In Washington, officials declined to discuss any specific troop movements, but the military obviously is on the alert to move if needed to protect American lives.

IN ALABAMA

U.S. Judge Bans Freedom Riders

By The Associated Press

A federal judge who threatened Negro and white leaders alike with prison terms ordered "Freedom Riders" Friday to halt their racial challenge in Alabama until further notice.

In a series of sweeping decrees, U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. also put Montgomery police and a former reserve policeman under stern injunctions against bus violence, with indefinite prison sentences as the penalty for violation.

He also left in effect, until further court action, a restraining order issued earlier prohibiting the Ku Klux Klan and three individuals from any future violence against Freedom Riders or any other interstate bus passengers.

PLACES BLAME

Although he put the blame for the recent race riotings in Montgomery and elsewhere in Alabama squarely on the Klan — and charged police with "willful failure" to prevent violence, Johnson was critical of Negro leaders and Freedom Rider organizations, too.

He said the segregation - challenging bus trips through Alabama "are directly causing an undue burden and restraint upon interstate commerce."

Denouncing the Freedom Rides as "agitation" and "nonbonafide interstate trips," Johnson declared, "those who sponsor, finance and encourage groups to

Court Docket Shows Speed Warning Result

Maj. Jack Davis' warning against traffic violators last week showed conspicuously Friday on the docket of municipal court here.

Davis, head of the Monroe police department's traffic division, warned last week that with the close of school sessions, motorcycle squads would be free to concentrate on traffic violators throughout the city.

Friday Judge W. M. Harper's court docket was flooded with traffic cases. Of a total of 64 cases on the docket, 50 of them concerned some phase of traffic.

The court docket showed that most motorists stopped were speeding, with 22 processed.

But the docket showed that policemen are on the lookout for a number of infractions.

Also included in the list were driving while intoxicated, reckless driving, running red lights, following too close, no drivers' licenses, defective brakes and incorrect mufflers.

Child Killed In Ferriday Auto Crash

FERRIDAY, [illegible] A 7-month old child was killed and two other persons were injured in a car-truck collision about three and a half miles south of here Friday afternoon.

Dead is Kenneth Fowler, son of Mr. Eldridge Fowler, 29. Both persons in the car driven by Mrs. Alfred C. Smith, 28, Vidalia are of Ferriday.

The two women received multiple lacerations when the car they were driving was struck by a late model flat body truck driven by James Richardson, a 32-year old Mexican Negro. Richardson was not hurt in the accident.

The wreck occured when the front end of Richardson's truck reportedly swerved left into the side of Mrs. Smith's automobile.

The occupants of the car were taken to Jefferson - Davis Memorial Hospital in Natchez where the baby died two hours later. Mr. Fowler and Mrs. Smith were treated for [illegible] condition.

WORST IN 50 YEARS

Severe Hailstorm Pounds Colorado

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A 45-minute hailstorm—perhaps the worst to hit southeastern Colorado in half a century—pounded the community of Lamar Friday night, flailing wheat and sugar beet crops, smashing windows and flooding streets.

The storm spilled out of a weather system which scattered patches of heavy rain and wind across a wide swath of the country from the central Rockies to the Middle Atlantic states.

Yards in the city of Lamar—40 miles west of the Kansas border on U. S. 50—were covered by five to six inches of hail. Rural areas were given a midwinter-like covering.

Heavy rain which fell with the hail flooded some main thoroughfares in Lamar with 18 inches of water when smashed shrubbery and trees blocked storm sewers. Waters seeped through small holes into many offices and stores.

The hail bombardment smashed 111 windows on one side of a Lamar Hospital. Twenty patients had to be moved to other rooms.

A similar combination of heavy rain and hail raked the southwestern Kansas community of Syracuse. In half an hour, 3.50 inches of rain and 2.50 inches of small hail fell on the area.

Severe weather warnings, with the possibility of tornadoes, were in effect for portions of Colorado, Kansas, New Mexico, Texas and Oklahoma.

Twisters were reported sighted in southern Idaho, southeastern Colorado and extreme western Nebraska.

Kennedy is due Saturday from Paris and his talks with French President Charles de Gaulle. In the French capital Friday, Kennedy said he feels greater confidence because of the conferences there.

He spelled out his aim this way: "It is important that we understand his —Khrushchev's — viewpoint and the implications of it, and it is equally important that he understand ours."

This get-acquainted session has set lower sights than any in the postwar annals of summit diplomacy, perhaps to avoid another disastrous collapse such as ended the last summit meeting in Paris a year ago.

Khrushchev arrived in Paris then in a belligerent mood, ostensibly because an American U2 reconnaissance plane had been spotted and shot down over the Soviet Union only two weeks before. Whatever his reasons, he de-

U.S. Group Wires Castro On Tractors

Ask Confirmation On Trade Offer For Prisoners

DETROIT (UPI)—The Tractors for Freedom, Inc. Committee late Friday wired Cuban Dictator Fidel Castro with a list of the types of tractors it has "prepared to make available" to the island government in exchange for prisoners of the abortive invasion.

In a letter signed by committee co-chairmen Walter P. Reuther and Dr. Milton Eisenhower, honorary chairman Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and Joseph M. Dodge, treasurer, the committee told Castro as soon as he confirmed his May 17 proposal to carry out the release of the 1,214 prisoners, and forwarded a list of their names, the committee would begin working out shipping details on the tractors and on securing the PW's release.

FARM TRACTORS

The cable said the committee, on the basis of its meeting this afternoon with five agricultural experts, was prepared to make available 500 agricultural tractors, with attachments of plows, discs and harrows, of the sizes and types "most needed to increase the agricultural production of Cuba, and raise the living standards of the Cuban people."

The committee said the types and sizes, with the number in each category, "represent a balanced tractor group ideally suited to increase and diversify Cuban agricultural production of foods needed to increase and improve the diet of Cuban people."

The list of tractors the committee said it would make available was:

—15 tractors of the D6 type with 93 to 105 engine horsepower; 15 of the D4 type with 65 to 70 horsepower; 20 of the TD6 type with 40 to 55 engine horsepower; 100 of the 50 to 75 drawbar horsepower type, capable of pulling 4 to 6 plows; 125 of the 40 to 49 drawbar horsepower type, 4 to 5 plows; 125 of the 30 to 39 drawbar horsepower type, 3 to 4 plows; and 100 of the 25 to 29 drawbar horsepower type, 2 to 3 plows.

The committee said it was prepared to ship the tractors to Cuba within two weeks following acceptance of the proposal.

Mrs. Fudickar Dies; Funeral Rites Pending

Mrs. Jennie Belle Fudickar, well - known Monroe woman, died early Friday morning. She was 67.

The coroner's office said Mrs. Fudickar died in her sleep at her apartment following a heart attack.

Active in community activities until a few years ago when failing health curtailed her efforts, Mrs. Fudickar was a life - long resident of Monroe, a member of the Grace Episcopal Church and the Daughters of the American Revolution.

She was the aunt of Fred Fudickar Jr., prominent Monroe attorney and a former district attorney.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete last night, but will be held sometime Sunday. Burial will be be in Riverview Cemetery under direction of Mulhearn Funeral Home.

Surviving are a son, E. W. (Bill) Fudickar; four grandchildren, Betty Jane Fudickar, Paul Fudickar, Libby Lou Fudickar, all of McAllen, Tex., and Mrs. James Henley, Monroe.

Rain Possible This Afternoon

The weatherman says that along with hot weather and mostly dreary skies, a little rain might fall this afternoon.

Partly cloudy skies, temperatures ranging from 85 to 90 degrees and showers compose the forecast today.

Yesterday's top reading in the Twin Cities was 90 degrees. The low, as recorded by Federal Aviation at Selman Field, was a mild 65.

Winds today will be mostly southerly and southeasterly from 8 to 16 miles per hour.

New Riders Land In Jail At Jackson

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Thirteen integration-minded "Freedom Riders" launched a new-type assault on Mississippi racial laws Friday — peacefully and unsuccessfully.

The riders came in two Trailways buses, with six arriving at midafternoon and seven Friday night. White riders went into the Negro waiting room in a new maneuver, and Negroes went into the white waiting room.

ALL CHARGED

The segregated assault on segregation was complete in the first wave Friday and partial in the second wave, when some white persons went into the white waiting room with the Negroes.

The 13, charged with breach of the peace, brought to 65 the number arrested since the rides began last week.

Five minutes later they were together again, in the police paddy wagon on their way to jail on breach of peace charges.

The new wave of riders came shortly after Hinds County supervisors cleared Max Thomas, superintendent of the County Penal Farm, on charges that he beat a Negro rider assigned briefly to the farm near Jackson.

The supervisor revoked the temporary suspension of Thomas after Sheriff J. R. Gilfoy reported his investigation showed Rev. G. T. Vivian of Chattanooga, Tenn., "was not hit, but instead got this small laceration on his head in the scuffle which ensued while Mr. Thomas was in the process of defending himself."

The riders charged Vivian was beaten and the supervisors ordered an investigation. Others have said they were well-treated by authorities.

The new arrivals Friday were sent to the city jail, where seven white riders previously convicted on breach of peace charges were held, pending their trial Monday afternoon.

U.S. Marines Ready To Move

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP)—The Greensboro Daily News reported Friday night that Marine Corps units along the eastern seaboard are being loaded aboard carriers to take position in the Caribbean off the coast of the Dominican Republic. The paper quoted reliable sources.

It was learned that leaves of some Marines at Camp LeJeune N. C., have suddenly been canceled.

Naval sources at Norfolk had no comment. Efforts to reach officials at Camp LeJeune were unsuccessful.

In Washington, officials declined to discuss any specific troop movements, but the military obviously is on the alert to move if needed to protect American lives.

IN ALABAMA

By The Associated Press

A federal judge who threatened Negro and white leaders alike with prison terms ordered "Freedom Riders" Friday to halt their racial challenge in Alabama until further notice.

In a series of sweeping decrees, U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr., also put Montgomery police and a former reserve policeman under stern injunctions against bus violence, with indefinite prison sentences as the penalty for violation.

He also left in effect, until further court action, a restraining order issued earlier prohibiting the Ku Klux Klan and three individuals from any future violence against Freedom Riders or any other interstate bus passengers.

PLACES BLAME

Although he put the blame for the recent race rioting in Montgomery and elsewhere in Alabama squarely on the Klan — and charged police with "willful failure" to prevent violence, Johnson was critical of Negro leaders and Freedom Rider organizations, too.

He said the segregation - challenging bus trips through Alabama "are directly causing an undue burden and restraint upon interstate commerce."

Court Docket Shows Speed Warning Result

Maj. Jack Davis' warning against traffic violators last week showed conspiciously Friday on the docket of municipal court here.

Davis, head of the Monroe police department's traffic division, warned last week that with the close of school sessions, motorcycle squads would be free to concentrate on traffic violators throughout the city.

Friday Judge W. M. Harper's court docket was flooded with traffic cases. Of a total of 64 cases on the docket, 50 of them concerned some phase of traffic.

The court docket showed that most motorists stopped were speeding, with 22 processed.

But the docket showed that policemen are on the lookout for a number of infractions.

WORST IN 50 YEARS

Severe Hailstorm Pounds Colorado

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A 45-minute hailstorm—perhaps the worst to hit southeastern Colorado in half a century—pounded the community of Lamar Friday night, flailing wheat and sugar beet crops, smashing windows and flooding streets.

The storm spilled out of a weather system which scattered patches of heavy rain and wind across a wide swath of the country from the central Rockies to the Middle Atlantic states.

Yards in the city of Lamar—40 miles west of the Kansas border on U. S. 50—were covered by five to six inches of hail. Rural areas were given a midwinter-like covering.

Heavy rain which fell with the hail flooded some main thoroughfares in Lamar with 18 inches of water when smashed shrubbery and trees blocked storm sewers. Waters seeped through sand bags into many offices and stores.

The hail bombardment smashed 114 windows on one side of a Lamar Hospital. Twenty patients had to be moved to other rooms.

A similar combination of heavy rain and hail raked the southwestern Kansas community of Syracuse. In half an hour, 3.50 inches of rain and 2.50 inches of small hail fell on the area.

Severe weather warnings, with the possibility of tornadoes, were in effect for portions of Colorado, Kansas, New Mexico, Texas and Oklahoma.

Child Killed In Ferriday Auto Crash

FERRIDAY (Special) — A 7-month old child was killed and two other persons were injured in a car-truck collision about three and a half miles south of here Friday afternoon.

Dead is Kenneth Fowler, son of Mrs. Eugene Fowler, 29, both passengers in the car driven by Mrs. Alfred C. Smith, 28. All are of Ferriday.

The two women received multiple lacerations when the car they were driving was struck by a late model flat body truck driven by James Richardson, a 28-year old Minden Negro. Richardson was not hurt in the accident.

The wreck occured when the front end of Richardson's truck reportedly veered left into the side of Mrs. Smith's automobile.

The occupants of the car were taken to Jefferson - Davis Memorial Hospital in Natchez where the baby died two hours later. Mrs. Fowler and Mrs. Smith were reported to be in "fair" condition.

State troopers E. H. Nelson and Marion Barnette, who investigated the accident, said that Richof the old dictatorship, and the extension of Trujillo tactics won out there as expected, but forces of the assassin faction still were at large.

From elsewhere in the Americas, nations that put this country outside their pale because of its totalitarian character openly expressed misgivings.

The United States asked the Organization of American States to send a watchdog team here to head off what it called a reported wave of terror since the assassination. The OAS group in charge of penalties (sanctions) against offending nations then decided to meet again early next week.

In Caracas, Venezuela asked for an urgent meeting of the OAS on the critical Dominican situation and said Venezuela would invoke an OAS right to intervene in this country in case of attack or [illegible] by Cuba.

The arrests made in Ciudad Trujillo, capital of the Caribbean nation, were said to have been carried out quietly, not disturbing the outward appearance of calm in the city. Reports from the rest of the Dominican Republic are sketchy.

Some accounts reaching Washington say that troops are leaving Ciudad Trujillo for other parts of the country and some fighting could be in progress there. That would indicate anti-Trujillo elements may control some army garrisons in the countryside.

Under OAS regulations, the Sanctions Committee would have authority to inquire into violations of human rights in any hemisphere nation. But some diplomatic circles speculated that the real purpose of Friday's meeting was to warn the new regime in the Dominican Republic against excesses in prosecuting those responsible for the Trujillo assassination.

Diplomatic circles here believe that U.S. approval or disapproval can be a powerful factor in determining whether the regime which succeeded Trujillo stands or falls.

Diplomatic sources also said the State Department is in a different position because some of the Dominican exile groups to whom it normally could cast support are dominated or tinged with pro-Communist groups or those favorable to Cuban Premier Minister Fidel Castro.

Meanwhile, the U.S. Immigration Service announced a partial relaxation of its controls over departures from this country for the Dominican Republic.

The controls, announced only Thursday, were invoked at the request of the State Department and barred departures of Dominicans and certain U.S. citizens.

The service said this has now been amended "to prevent departures only of certain individuals both American and Dominican, whose names have been supplied to immigration officials by the State Department."

Kaufman's first Broadway story was "Suk Stockings," which he had written with his second wife, Leueen MacGrath. It opened in 1925. Two years later, he said Miss MacGrath were divorced. However, they continued their theatrical collaboration and six months after finished another joint produced comedy, "I Gave It Six Months."

Kaufman was married for 29 years to Beatrice Bakrow, by whom he had his only child. The first Mrs. Kaufman died before his marriage to Miss MacGrath.

As colorful in a quiet way off stage as he was on, Kaufman found himself embroiled in a piquey scandal in the 1930s when his name turned up in screen star Mary Astor's diary as the man she loved. The matter came to light in a custody suit between Miss Astor and her husband of the time over a daughter. Kaufman dismissed the whole incident with aplomb and his first wife wrote it off as a "flirtation."

As a member of the famed Algonquin Hotel round table group, Kaufman held his own with some of the great wits of his generation who gathered regularly in midtown for conversation and intellectual high jinks. Numbered among the set were Dorothy Parker, Franklin P. Adams, Alexander Woollcott, Robert Benchley and Harold Ross.

Hopes Faint For Settling Of Problems

This time Khrushchev arrived in Austria in a sober and even friendly mood. As his train pulled into the border town of Marchegg he was greeted by a security official who commented that the blue skies were a good omen for the two-man summit.

Khrushchev replied: "The climate in Austria is always very good."

The people of this neutral nation greeted the Soviet premier as they had when he visited here earlier. They were cool and correct, with only minor exceptions. Once he was booed as he moved through a round of ceremonies at the railroad station in Vienna. There was also a scattering of cheers.

Soviet sources told Westerners privately they believe the meeting has this weekend offer real prospects for easing tensions. They spoke of the need for a "give and take" arrangement between the two big powers.

Yet Pravda took up the Berlin question in editorial terms which had an uneasy ring for Western ears. The Soviet Communist party organ demanded an early German peace treaty and said the Berlin "situation must be eliminated radically and quickly."

Pravda particularly denounced reports that Kennedy and De Gaulle had agreed to fight it necessary to keep the Communists from overrunning West Berlin.

Western diplomats said Kennedy faces a task of the greatest delicacy when he confers with Khrushchev.

Kennedy will be meeting Khrushchev at a time when the Soviet leader is giving every public impression of great confidence in the Communist cause. He obviously feels the tide is running in his favor because of U.S. setbacks in such places as Cuba and Laos.

Even Khrushchev can be expected to argue that a base shift in the world balance of power is taking place and that it is up to the United States to recognize the situation gracefully.

Western sources stressed that Kennedy could not accept this argument on any account. To do so would put him in a position of offering one concession after another to the Soviet Union.

AT HANDS OF ASSASSINS

Driver For Trujillo Tells Of His Death

The chauffeur, Capt. Zacarias de la Cruz, who was recuperating from numerous bullet wounds suffered when attackers killed Trujillo on a coastal Tuesday night.

In an exclusive interview with the San Juan Star, he corroborated the newspaper's report that the Dominican military commander was deserted in giving the orders of the assassination. The Communique placed the attack at the intersection of Sanchez High way and George Washington Boulevard. The chauffeur said the shooting actually took place two miles closer to the capital on a lonely stretch of shoreline drive called Kennedy Park.

The powerfully built chauffeur said driven by Trujillo for 12 years.

He said he was wounded five times in defense of "mi jefe" my chief.

He said he managed to wound two assailants.

"I dropped them. I dropped them good," he said.

From his hospital bed here, the chauffeur gave this account of the attack. The murder car came from behind with its lights out. Its first warning was a short blast of machine gun fire that hit Trujillo but not the chauffeur. The car then swerved to the right and cut in front of Trujillo's auto.

Another car was parked some distance ahead but its occupants did not participate in the attack.

But Trujillo insisted: "We are going to fight."

Trujillo [illegible] mortally wounded. The chauffeur was still inside the car using two light machine guns—one after the other.

Shortly afterward the chauffeur lost consciousness, presumably from a creasing head wound. Left for dead, he awoke several minutes later and was discovered by rural police who had been attracted by the gunfire.

The chauffeur was taken to a hospital and underwent an immediate operation. Bullets fractured his left leg and right shoulder. He also suffered a wound in another part of his left leg and received superficial wounds in the abdomen and head.

The chauffeur, father of seven children, described the attack as merciless and he said Trujillo had no chance to surrender.

From the first outburst of fire, he said, the assailants shot to kill.

He voiced hopes that "another Trujillo will step at the head of the government."

said government men have followed him closely and may have tapped his telephone line.

At the time of his April deportation, Marcello's lawyers claimed he was kidnaped by immigration officials. They said officials violated a court order by failing to notify Marcello 72 hours before his deportation.

In Washington, district Judge Alexander Holtzoff ruled Marcello's deportation was valid. The ruling was appealed by Marcello's lawyers to the District of Columbia court of appeals. The case is now pending there.

Maroun earlier gave his account of Marcello's whereabouts after he mysteriously dropped from sight in Guatemala.

Maroun said:

Secret police took him to neighboring San Salvador on May 3. There, national guardsmen kept Marcello and him hidden away in the country's capital city for five days.

Then, guardsmen took them to another country—which Maroun did not name — and left them stranded on a mountain top. He and Marcello had to hike 17 miles to the nearest village. Marcello fainted three times during the walk.

DEMANDS TV TIME

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Republican National Chairman Thruston B. Morton said Friday the GOP has protested and demanded equal time from the television networks for the "many TV shows" on President Kennedy and his administration.

Morton told the Republican National Committee that the party is preparing three full-hour television shows. The first will be June 11 from 5 to 6 p.m. EDT on NBC titled "The Loyal Opposition."

Propane Burns Out Of Control

PERRY, Mich. (UPI) — Thousands of gallons of propane gas burned out of control Friday night at a bottling plant in this central Michigan community.

Residents within a half-mile radius of the plant were evacuated Friday afternoon when an explosion set off a chain reaction of blasts and flames at the Dry Gas Bottling Corporation branch here.

The largest of several storage tanks on the property held 21,000 gallons of gas. It threatened to blow up for several hours after the fire started, but firemen said there was a possibility safety devices on the tank would prevent an explosion.

The gas started escaping into the air and burning through one of the safety valves, firemen said.

U.S. Judge Bans Freedom Riders

come into this area with the knowledge that such publicized trips will foment violence . . . are just as effective in causing an obstruction" to interstate travel as the mobs themselves.

He issued a "temporary restraining order against four Freedom Riders organizations — including the Congress of Racial Equality — and five Negro leaders, and "all persons acting in concert with them."

The injunction, which will remain in effect at least until a hearing set for June 12, prohibits the Freedom Rider groups from "sponsoring, financing, assisting or encouraging any individual or groups of individuals in proceeding in interstate commerce through or in Alabama for the purpose of testing the state or local laws as those laws relate to racial segregation."

Johnson also restrained the Freedom Ride sponsors from another act "designed to cause violence upon, or threats toward" interstate bus passengers, or anything else which obstructs the movement "of bona fide interstate passengers."

In New York CORE said it will appeal Johnson's order to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

A spokesman added: "We feel that the Supreme Court has ruled that every person has the right to travel on the public highways with dignity and this is what we in CORE have been trying to do. There is no justification for this 'temporary injunction.'"

The action against the Freedom Rider groups came at the request of attorneys for the police department. All other injunctive measures were requested by the Justice Department.

Seven other riders had departed four hours earlier aboard another bus for Jackson.

But court officials said the injunction would not apply to anyone who could not be shown to have knowledge of it.

What effect the order would have on riders who might contend they were unfamiliar with its provisions was not spelled out. But they might have to appear in John[illegible] that they had no [illegible] agreement from a [illegible] sanction.

If there are [illegible] incidents as this [illegible] again, I am going to put [illegible] Klansmen, some city officials, some city policemen and some Negro preachers in the federal penitentiary."

Enjoined from further Freedom Rider activity, besides CORE, were the Southern Christian Leadership Conference headed by the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., the Student Nonviolent Movement of Nashville, Tenn., and the Montgomery County Jail Council. The latter is a group formed by Ala-

Reduced Rates In West Monroe Said Possible

Public Commissioner John J. McKeithen Friday pointed out possibilities that a Louisiana Supreme Court decision handed down this week in New Orleans against the Federal Gas Pipe Line Company could have the effect of reduced rates in West Monroe.

In essence, the court's ruling found the company not entitled to a six per cent return on gas delivered in the New Orleans area, instead setting the rate at 4.9 per cent, as originally fixed by the Louisiana Public Service Commission.

Just what the effects on Monroe rates would be, if any, was not known immediately.

Water Resources Development Hearings Slated

Senate and House Committees on Appropriations June 13 and 14 will hear public witnesses in favor of water resources development projects in the Ouachita River Basin, as covered in administration budget proposals for fiscal 1962.

According to information released Friday from headquarters of the Ouachita River Valley Association in Camden, Ark., all projects have been well provided for in the president's new budget, which becomes effective July 1.

"For once we will have the pleasant experience of only having to support . . . the budget and not be fighting for additional funds," commented ORVA executive vice president H. K. Hatcher.

Among delegations expected to appear in Washington, before [illegible] of the House Subcommittee on Appropriations for Public Works, June 13, and the Senate Subcommittee on Appropriations for Civil Functions, June 14, are Monroe Mayor W. Hopes Faint For Settling Of Problems

This time Khrushchev arrived in Austria in a sober and even friendly mood. As his train pulled into the border town of Marchegg he was greeted by a security official who commented that the blue skies were a good omen for the two-man summit.

Khrushchev replied: "The climate in Austria is always very good."

The people of this neutral nation greeted the Soviet premier as they had when he visited here earlier. They were cool and correct, with only minor exceptions. Once he was booed as he moved through a round of ceremonies at the railroad station in Vienna. There was also a scattering of cheers.

Soviet sources told Westerners privately they believe the meetings this weekend offer real prospects for easing tensions. They spoke of the need for a "live and let live" arrangement between the two big powers.

Yet Pravda took up the Berlin question in editorial terms which had an uneasy ring for Western ears. The Soviet Communist party organ demanded an early German peace treaty and said the Berlin situation must be eliminated "radically and quickly."

Pravda particularly denounced reports that Kennedy and De Gaulle had agreed to fight if necessary to keep the Communists from overrunning West Berlin.

Western diplomats said Kennedy faces a task of the greatest delicacy when he confers with Khrushchev.

Kennedy will be meeting Khrushchev at a time when the Soviet leader is giving every public impression of great confidence in the Communist cause. He obviously feels the tide is running in his favor because of U.S. setbacks in such places as Cuba and Laos.

Thus Khrushchev can be expected to argue that a basic shift in the world balance of power is taking place and that it is up to the United States to recognize the situation gracefully.

Western sources stressed that Kennedy could not accept this argument on any account. To do so would put him in a position of offering one concession after another to the Soviet Union.

DEMANDS TV TIME

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Republican National Chairman Thruston B. Morton said Friday the GOP has protested and demanded equal time from the television networks for the "many TV shows" on President Kennedy and his administration.

Morton told the Republican National Committee that the party is preparing three full-hour television shows. The first will be June 11 from 5 to 6 p.m. EDT on NBC titled "The Loyal Opposition."

REP. WILLIAM E. Miller of Olcutt, N.Y., acknowledges applause Friday after his election as chairman of the Republican National Committee. In an acceptance speech in a Washington hotel he launched a sharp attack on the Kennedy administration. Miller, 47, succeeds Sen. Thruston Morton of Kentucky. (AP Wirephoto)

AT HANDS OF ASSASSINS

Driver For Trujillo Tells Of His Death

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP) — "They shot him like he was an animal."

The chauffeur, Capt. Zacarias de la Cruz, 55, was recuperating from numerous bullet wounds suffered when attackers killed Trujillo in a gunfight Tuesday night.

In an exclusive interview with the San Juan Star, he corroborated the newspaper's report that the Dominican military communique was incorrect in giving the location of the assassination. The Communique placed the attack at the intersection of Sanchez Highway and George Washington Boulevard. The chauffeur said the shooting actually took place two miles closer to the capital on a lonely stretch of shoreline drive called Kilometer Eight.

The powerfully built chauffeur had driven for Trujillo for 18 years.

He said he was wounded five times in defense of "mi jefe" (my chief).

He said he managed to wound two assailants.

"I dropped them, I dropped them good," he said.

From his hospital bed here, the chauffeur gave this account of the attack: The murder car came from behind with its lights out. Its first warning was a short blast of machine-gun fire that hit Trujillo but not the chauffeur. The car then swerved to the right and cut in front of Trujillo's auto.

Another car was parked some distance ahead but its occupants did not participate in the attack.

But Trujillo insisted, "We are going to fight."

Trujillo soon fell mortally wounded. The chauffer was still inside the car using two light machine guns, one after the other.

Shortly afterward the chauffeur lost consciousness, presumably from a creasing head wound. Left for dead, he awoke several minutes later and was discovered by rural police who had been attracted by the gunfire.

The chauffeur was taken to a hospital and underwent an immediate operation. Bullets fractured his left leg and right shoulder. He also suffered a wound in another part of his left leg and received superficial wounds in the abdomen and head.

The chauffeur, father of seven children, described the attack as merciless and he said Trujillo had no chance to surrender.

From the first outburst of fire, he said, the assailants shot to kill.

Decsion Due On Marcello Immunity Bid

said government men have followed him closely and may have tapped his telephone line.

At the time of his April deportation, Marcello's lawyers claimed he was kidnaped by immigration officials. They said officials violated a court order by failing to notify Marcello 72 hours before his deportation.

In Washington, district Judge Alexander Holtzoff ruled Marcello's deportation was valid. The ruling was appealed by Marcello's lawyers to the District of Columbia court of appeals. The case is now pending there.

Maroun earlier gave his account of Marcello's whereabouts after he mysteriously dropped from sight in Guatemala.

Maroun said:

Secret police took him to neighboring San Salvador on May 3. There, national guardsmen kept Marcello and him hidden away in the country's capital city for five days.

Then, guardsmen took them to another country—which Maroun did not name — and left them stranded on a mountain top. He and Marcello had to hike 17 miles to the nearest village. Marcello fainted three times during the walk.

Propane Burns Out Of Control

PERRY, Mich. (UPI) — Thousands of gallons of propane gas burned out of control Friday night at a bottling plant in this central Michigan community.

Residents within a half-mile radius of the plant were evacuated Friday afternoon when an explosion set off a chain reaction of blasts and flames at the Dry Gas Bottling Corporation branch here.

The largest of several storage tanks on the property held 21,000 gallons of gas. It threatened to blow up for several hours after the fire started, but firemen said there was a possibility safety devices on the tank would prevent an explosion.

The gas started escaping into the air and burning through one of the safety valves, firemen said.

come into this area with the knowledge that such publicized trips will foment violence . . . are just as effective in causing an obstruction" to interstate travel as the mobs themselves.

He issued a temporary restraining order against four Freedom Riders organizations — including the Congress of Racial Equality — and five Negro leaders, and "all persons acting in concert with them."

The injunction, which will remain in effect at least until a hearing set for June 12, prohibits the Freedom Rider groups from: "sponsoring, financing, assisting or encouraging any individual or groups of individuals in traveling in interstate commerce through or in Alabama for the purpose of testing the state or local laws as those laws relate to racial segregation."

Johnson also restrained the Freedom Ride sponsors from any other act "designed to cause violence upon, or threats toward" interstate bus passengers, or anything else which obstructs the movement "of bona fide interstate passengers."

In New York, CORE said it will appeal Johnson's order to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

A spokesman added: "We feel that the Supreme Court has ruled that every person has the right to travel on the public highways with dignity and this is what we in CORE have been trying to do. There is no justification for this temporary injunction."

The action against the Freedom Rider groups came at the request of attorneys for the police department. All other injunctive measures were requested by the Justice Department.

Seven other riders had departed four hours earlier aboard another bus for Jackson.

But court officials said the injunction would not apply to anyone who could not be shown to have knowledge of it.

What effect the order would have on riders who might contend they were acting on their own was not spelled out. But they might have to prove to Johnson that they had no help or encouragement from a sponsoring organization.

Immediately after he announced his ruling, the judge warned: "I want to make it abundantly clear that this injunction and restraining order will be enforced. If there are any such incidents as this (mob violence) again, I am going to put some Klansmen, some city officials, some city policemen and some Negro preachers in the federal penitentiary."

Enjoined from further Freedom Riders activity, besides CORE, were the Southern Christian Leadership Conference headed by the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr.; the Student Nonviolent Movement at Nashville, Tenn., and the Montgomery County Jail Council. The latter is a group formed by 11 integrationists after they were jailed last week while trying to eat at the same bus station lunch counter where other riders were served Friday.

The order also applies to King himself and four other Negro ministers, the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy and the Rev. Solomon S. Seay Sr., both of Montgomery; the Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth of Birmingham, and the Rev. Wyatt Tee Walker of Atlanta.

Johnson ruled that mob rioting in Montgomery and earlier at Birmingham and Anniston, Ala., was "caused directly" by Klan members.

Reduced Rates In West Monroe Said Possible

Public Commissioner John J. McKeithen Friday pointed out possibilities that a Louisiana Supreme Court decision handed down this week in New Orleans against the United Gas Pipe Line Company could have the effect of reduced rates in West Monroe.

In essence, the court's ruling found the company not entitled to a six per cent return on gas delivered in the New Orleans area, instead setting the rate at 5.5 per cent, as originally fixed by the Louisiana Public Service Commission.

Just what the effects on Monroe rates would be, if any, was not known immediately.

Water Resources Development Hearings Slated

Senate and House Committees on Appropriations June 13 and 14 will hear public witnesses in favor of water resources development projects in the Ouachita River Basin, as covered in administration budget proposals for fiscal 1962.

According to information released Friday from headquarters of the Ouachita River Valley Association in Camden, Ark., all projects have been well provided for in the president's new budget, which becomes effective July 1.

"For once we will have the pleasant experience of only having to support . . . the budget and not be fighting for additional funds," commented ORVA executive vice president H. K. Hatcher.

Among delegations expected to appear in Washington, before hearings of the House Subcommittee on Appropriations for Public Works, June 13, and the Senate Subcommittee on Appropriations for Civil Functions, Jun 14, are Monroe Mayor W. L. Howard and E. J. Seymour, also of Monroe, chairman of the Tensas Levee Board.

Soviet Gets Cool Vienna Reception

VIENNA (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev smiled and waved his way into a heavily guarded Vienna Friday night for an exchange of views with President Kennedy on "major world problems."

Almost nobody smiled or waved back.

The Viennese who remember 10 postward years of Russian occupation stopped only to stare as the bouncy chief of the Kremlin was whisked from the railroad station through the center of town in a red upholstered open car.

There were a few whistles—a sign of derision in Vienna.

Austrian authorities were hoping fervently nothing would happen to their unpredictable guest. They assigned 6,000 police to guard him and Kennedy. The route of Khrushchev's special train from the Czech border was covered by helicopsters. Fierce police dogs were stationed outside his suburban villa.

If Khrushchev hoped to steal the scene from the young American President who arrives Saturday he failed. But he did not seem to mind. The crowd was cool but he treated them to a typical smiling, hand-shaking barn storming show.

Citizens who momentarily lined the streets from the south station to the Hofburg Palace did so because they had to: police stopped traffic and no one could cross the street.

Moscow radio's report of Khrushchev's reception was a startling contrast.

It accused right-wing newspapers of publishing the wrong arrival time so no one would come out to meet the premier.

Republicans Name Miller As Chairman

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republicans Friday chose as their national chairman for the 1962 elections Rep. William E. Miller of New York, a fast-talking political warrior who loves to battle the Democrats.

The Republican National Committee unanimously elected Miller to succeed Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, who stepped down to devote more time to his own re-election campaign next year.

The election of Miller, who has been involved in a number of controversies during his 11 years in Congress, foreshadowed an especially vigorous 1962 congressional election campaign. He is a campaigner of the rock-'em, sock-'em school.

Miller lost no time in teeing off on President Kennedy and his administration. In his acceptance speech he said that "if we had a parliamentary form of government there would be a resounding vote of no confidence in the Kennedy administration."

"The American people now know there is one hell of a difference between a sense of histronics and a sense of history," he said.

Miller as nominated for the chairman-ship by Albert K. Mitchell of New Mexico. Seconding speeches were made by Rep. Jessical Weis of New York, aJames C. Wood of Arizona, Joseph Martin Jr. of California, Rep. Howard Baker of Tennessee and Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Ohio.

Brown told the committee that Ohio had wanted to nominate its state chairman, Ray C. Bliss, for the post. But he said Bliss took himself out and urged support for Miller.

During the 1960 election, Miller served as chairman of the GOP Congressional Campaign Committee. He will step down from that post next Wednesday. He mentioned Reps. Robert Wilson of California and John Rhodes of Arizona as possible successors.

At a news conference after his election, Miller said Republicans should speak up on foreign policy issues while programs are being formed. Once a decision is made, he said, all Americans should support the President.

Miller predicted the GOP would win control of the House next year. He made no such claim for the Senate but said the patry had a reasonable chance of unseating Democrats in Colorado, Idaho, Massachusetts, Oregon and Missouri.

College To Open Air-Conditioned Residence Halls

Northeast Louisiana State College opens its first air-conditioned residence halls with the beginning of the summer session, June 6.

Madison Hall, for 300 men, and Breard Hall, for 150 women, are among the first air-conditioned residence halls available in Louisiana.

College students desiring to live in either of these air-contioned facilities should make application immediately, college officials said.

Several months ago college officials announced that all new students—unmarried, under 21 years of age, not living with parents or near relatives — must reside in residence halls. This policy will enable college officials to work more effectively with these students, they said.

Applications for housing should be directed to the dean of student services, Dr. Fred J. Vogel. Rooms are assigned in the air-conditioned and other residence halls according to dates requests are received.

Funeral Slated On Sunday For W. L. Wooley

Funeral services have been set for 2:30 p.m. Sunday in the chapel of Mulhearn's Funeral Home for Monroe resident William Lester Wooley.

Mr. Wooley, of 1012 Civic St., a native of Clifton, Ohio, died Thursday in a local hospital following a brief illness. He was a member of the First Methodist Church, and past president of the Northeast Louisiana Purchasing Agents Association.

He was employed as purchasing agent for Southwest Gas Producing Company here.

Officiating will be the Rev. G. W. Pomeroy, pastor of the Monroe First Methodist Church, with interment scheduled in Memorial Park Cemetery.

Johnny Clark Funeral Slated 2 P.M. Today

Funeral services are scheduled for 2 p.m. Saturday in the Carrent Baptist Church near Hico for Johnny W. Clark, West Monroe resident of 2232 Jonesboro Rd., who died Thursday at his home.

Interment in the Carrent Cemetery will be under direction of Hixson Bros. Funeral Home.

Mr. Clark, retired and a native of Lincoln Parish, is survived by six sons, Leon, Connie, Roy and Lee Clark, all of West Monroe, and Billy and Eugene Clark, both of Monroe; three brothers, Clayton and Aubrey Clark, both of Monroe, and Sylvester Clark, West Monroe; four sisters, Mrs. Minnie Hart, Miss Annie Clark and Miss Elma Clark, all of Dubach, and Mrs. Velma Gardner, Shreveport; and 12 grandchildren.

3 Face Terms After Session Of Court Here

Three men face terms in the Ouachita Parish jail after being sentenced by Judge Jesse Heard in a brief session of Fourth District Court Friday.

Ellender Lee Bishop, 25, 607 Vick St., West Monroe, was sentenced to 60 days on a charge of theft of $19 from Mills Cafe on Nat Street in West Monroe.

Conley Grabner, alias C. G. Conley, 43, Shreveport, drew 30 days from the date of his arrest, May 23, on a charge of theft of $10 from Weingartens on Jan. 21.

Freeman Meade, 29, Bonita Negro, was sentenced to 15 days from date of arrest on a charge of driving with switched license plates.

Trial was set for September 22 for Leo Carroll, 46, Kenner, charged with driving while under the influence of intoxicating alcoholic beverages.

Novice Bosses Farming

Ever hear of a man with only six months of medical training being named chief surgeon at a big hospital? Ever hear of a man with no local knowledge being appointed attorney general?

Undoubtedly, we would not like either one of these things but the man whom President Kennedy wants to be supreme boss of farming in the United States admitted less than six months ago that he was not an expert on farming but was willing to learn.

After he has had less than six months in office, Orville Freeman, secretary of agriculture, must have learned fast since he told a congressional committee, when seeking confirmation earlier this year, that he knew little about agriculture.

We've never seen anyone become highly proficient in a profession or sport that requires a great deal of knowledge or ability without spending years, instead of months, learning how. We don't believe Freeman has any great capacity for learning fast. We believe he wants to attempt to do a job of dictating without knowing anything about it.

We hope Freeman is now an expert, because, if the Cochran-Freeman farm bill becomes law he will be absolutely in charge of every chicken, every cow, and every crop in all of the 50 states.

Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, speaking in behalf of more than a million United States farm families, pointed out why this bill would place all power over America's largest industry in Freeman's hands.

Of course, President Kennedy is Freeman's boss and, having dictatorial aspirations, he undoubtedly would plan to direct Freeman in a general way but that simply adds another difficulty — he doesn't know anything about farming either. Even if he did and even if Freeman did, the farmers and the citizens of this country want free enterprise and not a supreme farm boss.

Under the plan, Shuman pointed out, Freeman and his assistants would hand-pick the farmers who would "advise" the department on programs for the crops they would grow. This means, of course, that Freeman would pick a bunch of crackpots and socialists who were interested only in the complete socialization and control of farming and who were not interested in things either best for the farmers or for the citizens of this country as a whole.

Freeman is under no compulsion to accept even the advice of men he selects. Of course, he probably would accept it most of the time, as the men he would choose would be expected to give him the kind of advice he wanted to listen to. He could, however, place his own alternative program on the ballot when the farmers go to vote on the program. He could "exempt" any farmers he chose from the privilege of voting. This would give him absolute control over the ballot, so he could be entirely sure of having his own program "accepted."

Cattle growers, who consume feed grains, would have nothing to say about the feed program. Feed grain growers, who depend on cattle growers for much of their market, would not be represented when a cattle program is considered.

This city man at the head of the agriculture department would have the final say on acreage allotments. Such allotments already have brought new farms into wheat production while cutting down the wheat regular wheat farmers may grow.

Freeman could put a ceiling on the amount of federal largesse any farmer might receive, thus making sure that no farmer could run contrary to his wishes without facing a penalty. He could put a ceiling on what crops each farm could bring into the free market—spelling financial distress, if not ruin, for the farmers who have proved themselves most efficient.

Controls would spread from crop to crop. For instance, a control on cattle would mean that feed prices would fail. So chicken farmers would step up egg production. Then we'd have to have control on eggs.

Aside from the nightmare of having absolute dictatorship over agriculture in this country, the bill proposes another atrocity which should repel even those who may think they have no interest in what happens to the farmers of this country.

The bill would allow the agriculture department free access to the United States treasury without having to get congressional appropriations.

South Singled Out

People in the north generally are no fonder of integration than those in the south. They also resist. But the south has been singled out as an area which must be used as an example. Resistance in northern states is played down while that in the south is played up. It's all a part of a campaign to make it look as if the south were the only area which objects.

Editor James Ward of the Jackson Daily News, said recently that "freedom riders" were arrested in Ohio a short time ago without national publicity.

We join with him in asking:

"Where are the headlines: Where are the television commentators? Where are the federal marshals? When will the biased slander of the south be ended?"

In a Coney Island amusement park near Cincinnati, eight members of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the Congress of Racial Equality were arrested on charges of trespassing when they made an effort to gain admittance to the swimming pool.

The story of this incident was not generally carried in the news services. Why should anyone be surprised or disturbed because the people of Ohio did not want race-mixing in the schools and in all sistance to integration looked upon as a sin by the northern radicals who have sought votes by arousing Negroes to demand not only mixing in the schools and in all other places, both public and private, but intermarriage as well.

In Ohio the trespassers were not even called freedom riders. They were merely people trying to get into a place where they were not wanted. Under the laws of every state a person who persistently seeks to go where he is not wanted and to intrude upon others may be arrested for trespassing.

Why should the south be condemned for something which is condoned or disregarded in the northern states?

Kennedy Told Khrush Wise

Given Grim Warning That Soviet Leader Has Full Information On RB-47 Reconnaissance Flights

President Kennedy is taking to his meeting with Premier Khrushchev a grim warning that the Soviet leader has full information on a U. S. intelligence operation almost as sensitive as the ill-fated U-2 "spy" plane mission.

He was warned by the Airforce that the Kremlin, through espionage in Britain and the U. S., has obtained vital secret details of its RB - 47 reconnaissance flights near the Soviet borders.

The Kremlin's possession of this highly sensitive military intelligence and the deadly effectiveness of Soviet spy operations has "shocked" the President and his top military and intelligence aides.

That's the alarming report made to the Senate Armed Service Committee by Senators Styles Bridges, R-N. H., and John Stennis, D-Miss., who just completed an investigation into the circumstances surrounding Russia's release of two airforce fliers shot down last year near Russia.

Captains Freeman Olmstead and John McKone were captured when their RB - 47 jet was drowned by Soviet fighters last July over the Barents sea in international waters about 30 miles from the Soviet coastline. They were held prisoner until their surprise release on January 25 — jus five days after President Kennnedy took office.

In reporting their findings to the committee, Senators Bridges and Stennis said they had been told that "The accuracy of Soviet information of the Airforce's RB-47 reconnaissance operations had severely shocked the President and his top military and intelligence aides."

They revealed that the Soviet officials who conducted the around the - clock interrogation of Captains Olmstead and McKone knew the names of all the personnel in the flier's squadron, where their plans and other RB-47 units were based, the squadron's secret mission, and highly secret details of information gathered by the fliers in previous flights.

"I am tearful that if the full story of the Soviet's knowledge of our operations were made public that it would severely effect the morale of the airmen that are now flying these reconnaissance missions," Bridges told the committee.

He reported that it was the concensus of the government's top intelligence officials that Russia had obtained this sensitive military intelligence by espionage ring operating in Britain and the U. S.

Western intelligence chiefs are now on a worldwide spy alert to try to uncover the communist's espionage operations.

NO DEAL — The Senators reported that their month long investigation turned up no evidence that the U. S. made a deal with Russia for the release of the two fliers.

Bridges told the committee that "all top officials from President Kennedy on down assured us that no secret promises or agreements were made or offered to the Soviets for the return of the airmen."

Instead, Senator Stennis credited Dr. Walter Rostow and Dr. Jerone W. Wiesner, scientists now serving as assistants to the President, with playing major roles in obtaining the release of the fliers.

The Mississippi Senator said that the two scientists interceded with top Kremlin officials when they were in Moscow last December for the so - called Pugwash conference that brought together U. S. and Soviet scientists to discuss disarmament. Rostow and Wiesner suggested the return of the airmen would be looked on by President - elect Kennedy as a tremendous "act of goodwill" on Khrushchev's part.

Senators Bridges and Stennis praised the conduct of the RB-47 fliers while they were prisoners of the Russians. They reported that despite endless grilling by Soviet officials the two Airforce captains refused to give the Communists any information of value about their missions or to sign phony confessions.

"All efforts of the Communist interrgators to get the fliers to sign statements that they were shot down over Soviet territory failed," Senator Bridges told the senators.

TAKING NO CHANCES — The "curtain reconnaissance," as the RB - 47 flights are now known, was temporarily suspended last week by President Kennedy until after his week - end meeting with Khrushchev. It was felt by the President that continuation of the flights might jeopardize his meeting with the Soviet leader. Khrushchev used the U-2 incident to torpedo the last "Big Four" meeting in Paris . . . President Kennedy is makin gsure that he has all his top Russian experts on hand for his meeting with Khrushchev. He has cabled Ambassador George Kennan in Belgrade to drop everything and come to Vienna. . The Japanese government and not the State Department vetoed former President Eisenhower's trip to Japan. Top officials there were afraid of new riots . . . Assistant Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester ordered General Nathan Twining, former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, to cancel a speech he was about to make on "Current Military Problems" last week in Canada.

About Face Lift

Those With Deformities Should Correct Mistake Of Nature

Dear Dr Steincrohn: How does one go about finding a reliable plastic surgeon? I am interested in having a face lift. I am 65 and feel like 45. Besides, my job requires that I look younger than I do. What do you think? Sincerely, Mrs. O., Missouri.

COMMENT: I will tell you what not to do. Don't choose a surgeon on the advice of some friend who says "he's tops." That may be, but better get a recommendation from the secretary of your medical society, or from your own doctor. Success or failure thappiness or grief often depend upon the proper choice.

Now, as for the face lift. Many patients have asked me what I think of a nose job, or an operation for muscle sag, or for ears that stick out like sails. My answer is usually: "Go ahead and good luck. But be sure to check on the plastic surgeon's reputation: and talk fees and other expenses before the operation."

On moral, or other grounds that I can't quite understand, there are many people who look down their noses on plastic surgery. "This is the nose God gave me. Unsightly as it may be, I'll live with it. I haven't got the right to tamper with Nature."

"Oh, yes you have," I tell patiens. When nature can be improved upon, why hesitate to do so? You won't be committing sacrilege. You won't be offending your Maker. Why go through life suffering the pricks of psychological barbs unnecessarily? If you have a long nose, a hooked nose, a crooked nose (or any other kind of proboscis you consider a monstrosity) have a repair job. Have it done when you are still young. Otherwise it may blight your life.

There's nothing so plaintive as the wail of the immensely pleased woman (or man) who has had a successful nose bob at 40 or 50: "Why oh why, didn't I have this done when I was younger? It would have changed my life for the better."

I hope I have given you your answer, Mrs. O. What I have said applies to you, too. You didn't need a face lift when you were younger, so I can't accuse you of waiting too long. In fact, I compliment you on your spirit. There's no more cause for shame in having a face lift at your age than having a nose operation at 21. Don't let your stodgy old friends influence you against having the operation.

For Mrs. R., N. Y.: I agree with your doctor that it is not safe for you to share your bathroom with a person who has active tuberculosis, especially with one who refuses to take the treatment his doctor suggests.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Would you please print this letter for the benefit of Mr. J. of Arizona who haas been suffering from herpetic neuralgia? I had shingles and a bad case of neuralgia. I had vitamin B tablets and Vitamin B injections. The relief from pain was miraculous. — Mrs. C., Ohio.

COMMENT: It's worth a try. However, I tell patients not to be discouraged if it doesn't work. We have the choice of dozens of other treatments for this condition. Which proves that we don't have one specific sure cure.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: What signs can a person look for in cancer of the colon? What kinds of tests are taken to make the diagnosis? — Mrs. U., Indiana.

A: Bleeding, change of bowel habits, severe anemia, loss of weight and fatigue are important symptoms. The doctor establishes the diagnosis by taking special X-rays. Also with the aid of sigmoidoscopic examination (a lighted tube passed up into bowel.)

GEORGE SOKOLSKY

De Gaulle Is 2nd

Not Happy That Kennedy Trip Is Halfway To Khrushchev

The French have not been too happy that President Kennedy's visit to President de Gaulle was a halfway stop to Khrushchev. Although the de Gaulle journey was announced first, the impression is that it is second in importance. De Gaulle does not like to be second. It is not to the glory of France.

This is a small matter of etiquette but it is not trivial because a state visit is undertaken to accomplish some major purpose and is usually surrounded by pomp and circumstance to make both host and guest happy. We do not know what was accomplished by President Kennedy's state visit to Canada. From outward signs, nothing in particular was accomplished. The Canadians are still going their own way as regards Red China and Cuba; they show no interest in a joint foreign policy with the United States, although the two countries are supposed to be allies.

De Gaulle unquestionably wants a larger role for France in NATO. Although the United States saved France from the Nazis, it was the United States that has been largely responsible for France's loss of her empire, particularly Indo-China in Asia and the African colonies. De Gaulle is a profound nationalist who will not do anything to weaken France's moral position in the world.

What the visit with Khrushchev can accomplish, it is possible to estimate. Kennedy and Khrushchev will be excessively pleasant in a peasant-like way. Kennedy will ask many questions which Khrushchev will take hours to answer. When all the conversations are over, the entire matter will go back to the Teheran Conference of 1943 during which Roosevelt and Stalin reached a series of secret agreements which are still secret as to words but not as to effects. So secret were these that no copies of them were deposited in the State Department and Secretary of State Hull knew nothing about them. Some documents found in the White House files may be the record. However, there have been leaks and some, if not all, of the documents have been scanned. They are very bad from an American standpoint. When we speak of the Russian violations of agreements, we do not have all the facts as long as the Teheran documents remain secret — as long as any of them remain secret.

So it would be overly optimistic to expect much to come of the Kennedy - Khrushchev visit, but whatever does occur should be made completely public. The habit of keeping the affairs of the American people from the American people is a dangerous one. The assumption that a little clique of great minds is wiser than the whole American people is untenable. Mr. Roosevelt was the Great White Father who knew everything but when we reach the year 1961, the United States finds itself in a very awkward position and every little trouble can be traced to the international relations of the Roosevelt Administration.

Presidents since Woodrow Wilson have been anxious to be their own Secretaries of State and to advertise themselves as the most brilliant men in the world. When John Hay, Elihu Root and Charles Evans Hughes were Secretaries of State, they conducted the foreign affairs of their government and the Secretary of State was an out-standing figure in the country. Neither Robert Lansing nor Cordell Hull was of their calibre. Presidents did not leave this country during their terms of office. The advantage was that no irrevocable arrangements were made such as Franklin D. Roosevelt made at Teheran and Yalta. Even Woodrow Wilson's major effort at Paris — the treaty providing for a League of Nations — was rejected by the United States Senate, but Roosevelt avoided treaties and while the United States has been faced by a fait accompli on many occasions, this country is neither legally nor morally bound by any promise which is not included in a treaty.

At Summit Conferences there are no treaties to be ratified by the Senate, after proper investigation and debate. Instead there are private conversations among exalted rulers sitting on a summit, as though they were absolute monarchs.

The real peril is that these men are, in their own estimates, monarchs who cannot trust their own people and who demand acknowledgement and support for whatever they do although we do not know what they do.

SYLVIA PORTER

Dangerous Time

Businessmen Can't Afford To Ease Fight Against Tax Change

There's now hardly a chance that President Kennedy's much-touted and feared package of tax reforms will be voted by Congress this year. Time alone is running powerfully against this. The antagonism to key parts of the package is simply too great to permit easy compromises.

But this doesn't mean that businessmen who are understandably horrified at the government's attack on their deductions for travel and entertainment expenses can relax. The next few weeks actually could be the most "dangerous" for legislation that would impose the most drastic tax curbs ever on business expenses accounts.

The reason is that before the end of this month, Congress must pass a law extending present corporate tax and certain excise tax rates for one year. If it doesn't pass this law, these rates would automatically go down July 1 and this would be considered intolerable at this stage. The House Ways & Means Committee will prepare a separate bill to extend these rates, therefore, will soon present it to Congress — and then the threat of expense account legislation will intensify.

When the Senate gets the extension bill, for instance, it is most likely it will tack on "amendments" and among them easily could be a special curb on expense accounts. Last year, the Senate did precisely this, and severe controls would be on the books right now had a House-Senate Conference Committee not knocked them out. Once the amendments are hooked on, they are difficult to unhook, for no politician likes to appear the defender of the big spender. The weeks of danger are now.

Have you any concept of just how far the Administration has gone with its proposals to erase expense account abuses? I suspect most people haven't; so here's a brief outline of what would happen:

Entertainment expenses would not be deductible AT ALL. This sentence means what it seems to mean. No matter how legitimate a business expense the spending was, no tax deduction could be claimed for entertainment at the theatre, night clubs, parties, dues to social and athletic clubs, hunting and fishing parties, etc.

Businessmen could claim deductions for business gifts only up to $10 per person per year. It wouldn't matter whether a $10 gift would be ridiculous — the $10 limit would apply.

A businessman traveling for business purposes could deduct for his meals and lodging only up to $30 a day. Here too, it wouldn't matter whether his legitimate spending for meals and lodging came to twice $30.

A businessman furnishing food and beverages to business guests could deduct only between $4 and $7 per guest per day, and even this would be allowed only if the food and beverages were served during business discussions on specific matters. The purpose couldn't be good will.

This is tough! This explains the howl of protest from businessmen across - the - board. This is the background for warnings that such curbs would create a "wasteland" in hotel and restaurant dining rooms, cripple the huge, vital convention business, slash earnings — and as a result, yield a lot less in taxes than the Administration thinks.

Of course, there's no doubt that the expense account is being used by many as a tax dodge. A basis for the Kennedy proposals was a survey of 33,000 business returns by the Internal Revenue Service last year. On a towering 58 per cent of the returns, deductions for travel and entertainment expenses were disallowed. In almost two-thirds of the cases the reason was the expense was personal, not business, and in another 33 per cent the taxpayer couldn't substantiate his claim.

But there is a valid question whether the solution to the abuses is a crackdown so harsh that it could in fact send a dreadful shudder through the entire economy. Stricter administration of the present law could achieve an immense amount by itself. This already is occurring, is producing results and there will be much more of the same.

Those With Deformities Should Correct Mistake Of Nature

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: How does one go about finding a reliable plastic surgeon? I am interested in having a face lift. I am 63 and feel like 45. Besides, my job requires that I look younger than I do. What do you think? Sincerely, Mrs. O., Missouri.

COMMENT: I will tell you what not to do. Don't choose a surgeon on the advice of some friend who says "he's tops." That may be, but better get a recommendation from the secretary of your medical society, or from your own doctor. Success or failure (happiness or grief) often depend upon the proper choice.

Now, as for the face lift. Many patients have asked me what I think of a nose job, or an operation for muscle sag, or for ears that stick out like sails. My answer is usually: "Go ahead and good luck. But be sure to check on the plastic surgeon's reputation; and talk fees and other expenses before the operation."

On moral, or other grounds that I can't quite understand, there are many people who look down their noses on plastic surgery. "This is the nose God gave me. Unsightly as it may be, I'll live with it. I haven't got the right to tamper with Nature."

"Oh, yes you have," I tell patiens. When nature can be improved upon, why hesitate to do so? You won't be committing sacrilege. You won't be offending your Maker. Why go through life suffering the pricks of psychological barbs unnecessarily? If you have a long nose, a hooked nose, a crooked nose (or any other kind of proboscis you consider a monstrosity) have a repair job. Have it done when you are still young. Otherwise it may blight your life.

There's nothing so plaintive as the wail of the immensely pleased woman (or man) who has had a successful nose bob at 40 or 50: "Why oh why, didn't I have this done when I was younger? It would have changed my life for the better."

I hope I have given you your answer, Mrs. O. What I have said applies to you, too. You didn't need a face lift when you were younger, so I can't accuse you of waiting too long. In fact, I compliment you on your spirit. There's no more cause for shame in having a face lift at your age than having a nose operation at 21. Don't let your stodgy old friends influence you against having the operation.

For Mrs. R., N. Y. : I agree with your doctor that it is not safe for you to share your bathroom with a person who has active tuberculosis, especially with one who refuses to take the treatment his doctor suggests.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Would you please print this letter for the benefit of Mr. J. of Arizona who haas been suffering from herpetic neuralgia? I had shingles and a bad case of neuralgia. I had vitamin B tablets and Vitamin B injections. The relief from pain was miraculous. — Mrs. C., Ohio.

COMMENT: It's worth a try. However, I tell patients not to be discouraged if it doesn't work. We have the choice of dozens of other treatments for this condition. Which proves that we don't have one specific sure cure.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: What signs can a person look for in cancer of the colon? What kinds of tests are taken to make the diagnosis? — Mrs. U., Indiana.

A: Bleeding, change of bowel habits, severe anemia, loss of weight and fatigue are important symptoms. The doctor establishes the diagnosis by taking special X-rays. Also with the aid of sigmoidoscopic examination (a lighted tube passed up into bowel.)

THE ALMANAC

By United Press International

Today is Saturday, June 3, the 154th day of the year with 211 more in 1961.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning stars are Jupiter, Saturn and Venus.

The evening stars are Mercury and Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1865, King George V of Great Britain and Ireland was born.

Thought for today: British historian H. A. L. Fisher said: "Politics is the art of human happiness."

GEORGE SOKOLSKY

De Gaulle Is 2nd

Not Happy That Kennedy Trip Is Halfway To Khrushchev

The French have not been too happy that President Kennedy's visit to President de Gaulle was a halfway stop to Khrushchev. Although the de Gaulle journey was announced first, the impression is that it is second in importance. De Gaulle does not like to be second. It is not to the glory of France.

This is a small matter of etiquette but it is not trivial because a state visit is undertaken to accomplish some major purpose and is usually surrounded by pomp and circumstance to make both host and guest happy. We do not know what was accomplished by President Kennedy's state visit to Canada. From outward signs, nothing in particular was accomplished. The Canadians are still going their own way as regards Red China and Cuba; they show no interest in a joint foreign policy with the United States, although the two countries are supposed to be allies.

De Gaulle unquestionably wants a larger role for France in NATO. Although the United States saved France from the Nazis, it was the United States that has been largely responsible for France's loss of her empire, particularly Indo-China in Asia and the African colonies. De Gaulle is a profound nationalist who will not do anything to weaken France's moral position in the world.

What the visit with Khrushchev can accomplish, it is possible to estimate. Kennedy and Khrushchev will be excessively pleasant in a peasant-like way. Kennedy will ask many questions which Khrushchev will take hours to answer. When all the conversations are over, the entire matter will go back to the Teheran Conference of 1943 during which Roosevelt and Stalin reached a series of secret agreements which are still secret as to words but not as to effects. So secret were these that no copies of them were deposited in the State Department and Secretary of State Hull knew nothing about them. Some documents found in the White House files may be the record. However, there have been leaks and some, if not all, of the documents have been scanned. They are very bad from an American standpoint. When we speak of the Russian violations of agreements, we do not have all the facts as long as the Teheran documents remain secret — as long as any of them remain secret.

So it would be overly optimistic to expect much to come of the Kennedy - Khrushchev visit, but whatever does occur should be made completely public. The habit of keeping the affairs of the American people from the American people is a dangerous one. The assumption that a little clique of great minds is wiser than the whole American people is untenable. Mr. Roosevelt was the Great White Father who knew everything but when we reach the year 1961, the United States finds itself in a very awkward position and every little trouble can be traced to the international relations of the Roosevelt Administration.

Presidents since Woodrow Wilson have been anxious to be their own Secretaries of State and to advertise themselves as the most brilliant men in the world. When John Hay, Elihu Root and Charles Evans Hughes were Secretaries of State, they conducted the foreign affairs of their government and the Secretary of State was an out-standing figure in the country. Neither Robert Lansing nor Cordell Hull was of their calibre. Presidents did not leave this country during their terms of office. The advantage was that no irrevocable arrangements were made such as Franklin D. Roosevelt made at Teheran and Yalta. Even Woodrow Wilson's major effort at Paris — the treaty providing for a League of Nations — was rejected by the United States Senate, but Roosevelt avoided treaties and while the United States has been faced by a falt accompli on many occasions, this country is neither legally nor morally bound by any promise which is not included in a treaty.

At Summit Conferences there are no treaties to be ratified by the Senate, after proper investigation and debate. Instead there are private conversations among exalted rulers sitting on a summit, as though they were absolute monarchs.

The real peril is that these men are, in their own estimates, monarchs who cannot trust their own people and who demand acknowledgement and support for whatever they do although we do not know what they do.

SYLVIA PORTER

Dangerous Time

Businessmen Can't Afford To Ease Fight Against Tax Change

There's now hardly a chance that President Kennedy's much-touted and feared package of tax reforms will be voted by Congress this year. Time alone is running powerfully against this. The antagonism to key parts of the package is simply too great to permit easy compromises.

But this doesn't mean that businessmen who are understandably horrified at the government's attack on their deductions for travel and entertainment expenses can relax. The next few weeks actually could be the most "dangerous" for legislation that would impose the most drastic tax curbs ever on business expenses accounts.

The reason is that before the end of this month, Congress must pass a law extending present corporate tax and certain excise tax rates for one year. If it doesn't pass this law, these rates would automatically go down July 1 and this would be considered intolerable at this stage. The House Ways & Means Committee will prepare a separate bill to extend these rates, therefore, will soon present it to Congress — and then the threat of expense account legislation will intensify.

When the Senate gets the extension bill, for instance, it is most likely it will tack on "amendments" and among them easily could be a special curb on expense accounts. Last year, the Senate did precisely this, and severe controls would be on the books right now had a House-Senate Conference Committee not knocked them out. Once the amendments are hooked on, they are difficult to unhook, for no politician likes to appear the defender of the big spender. The weeks of danger are now.

Have you any concept of just how far the Administration has gone with its proposals to erase expense account abuses? I suspect most people haven't; so here's a brief outline of what would happen:

Entertainment expenses would not be deductible AT ALL. This sentence means what it seems to mean. No matter how legitimate a business expense the spending was, no tax deduction could be claimed for entertainment at the theatre, night clubs, parties, dues to social and athletic clubs, hunting and fishing parties, etc.

Businessmen could claim deductions for business gifts only up to $10 per person per year. It wouldn't matter whether a $10 gift would be ridiculous — the $10 limit would apply.

A businessman traveling for business purposes could deduct for his meals and lodging only up to $30 a day. Here too, it wouldn't matter whether his legitimate spending for meals and lodging came to twice $30.

A businessman furnishing food and beverages to business guests could deduct only between $4 and $7 per guest per day, and even this would be allowed only if the food and beverages were served during business discussions on specific matters. The purpose couldn't be good will.

This is tough! This explains the howl of protest from businessmen across - the - board. This is the background for warnings that such curbs would create a "wasteland" in hotel and restaurant dining rooms, cripple the huge, vital convention business, slash earnings—and as a result, yield a lot less in taxes than the Administration thinks.

Of course, there's no doubt that the expense account is being used by many as a tax dodge. A basis for the Kennedy proposals was a survey of 38,000 business returns by the Internal Revenue Service last year. On a towering 56 per cent of the returns, deductions for travel and entertainment expenses were disallowed. In almost two-thirds of the cases the reason was the expense was personal, not business, and in another 35 per cent the taxpayer couldn't substantiate his claim.

But there is a valid question whether the solution to the abuses is a crackdown so harsh that it could in fact send a dreadful shudder through the entire economy. Stricter administration of the present law could achieve an immense amount by itself. This already is occurring, is producing results and there will be much more of the same.

Court Told Of Revolt In Death Camp

JERUSALEM (UPI) —A survivor of the Warsaw Ghetto revolt and three Nazi death camps told the Israeli court trying Adolf Eichmann Friday about a futile revolt by desperate Jewish inmates at notorious Auschwitz in the fall of 1944.

Israel Gutman said the prisoners succeeded in blowing up a crematorium and killing a number of SS men and German convict guards known as "Kapos" before they were recaptured and slain. Four Jewish girls who helped the rebels obtain the explosives were hanged publicly, he said.

Eichmann, on trial on charges of the mass murders of six million Jews, listened apparently unmoved by Gutman's testimony. He showed little interest while two other Polish-born Jews swore the Nazis slaughtered Polish Jewish war prisoners in defiance of international conventions.

The former SS oficial leafed through his files and made notes when the prosecution submitted documents designed to prove he blocked the emigration to Palestine of thousands of central European Jews, including 5,000 children, because of opposition from the former Grand Mufti of Jerusalem, Haj Amin el Husseini.

Chief Prosecutor Gideon Hausner said the Jews were deported to Polish extermination camps to die in the gas chambers.

Hausner offered as evidence one page from the Mufti's diary containing the words in Arabic characters "the best friend of the Arab people" and immediately under it in Latin characters the word "Eichmann."

Chief defense counsel Dr. Robert Servatius protested that there was no proof that the Mufti himself wrote the name "Eichmann." But the three-man Israeli court decided to accept the document in evidence.

Subdivision Road Airing Is Scheduled

Ouachita Parish Highway Engineer Wayne Huckaby plans to ask for stricter requirements for design and construction of roads in subdivisions at the next meeting of the Police Jury Road Committee, June 13.

He revealed this Friday, after inspecting parish roads for two days.

Newly hired by the parish, Huckaby, who held the post of Louisiana Fifth District Highway Engineer for four years wasted no time in looking over road situations. He began work Thursday.

He said that Police Jurors "seem to be in accord with" his plans.

"Subdivision road construction is one problem that is giving them all concern," he said.

Subdivision developers build roads, then the parish takes over the roads and maintains them.

"Some of the streets are unsatisfactory. This makes an undue burden not only on the Police Jury but eventually on the property owners themselves," the engineer stated.

Huckaby revealed this at the Police Jury's Purchasing Committee meeting yesterday afternoon.

Ward five juror Leslie Hamm asked, "What's wrong with the roads?"

Hamm then revealed that "Lots of homeowners have told me that the quality of street work in the subdivisions is inferior."

Rankin Earle, ward three juror, stated "We can't accept any more work like that."

"They put in as cheap blacktop as they can," said Ward 10 juror V. E. Montgomery.

Earl also warned that the jury has got to clean out a ditch and pond on the Winnsboro Road.

Two children were almost drowned in a pond this week, he said.

He suggested that the parish use a dragline to cut out a 150 to 200 foot long ditch.

"They've got the dirt piled up there to do it, but nobody will. The children walk along in knee high water, then step into six to eight feet deep water," he said.

Jurors decided to purchase a $365 machine to stamp letters, and 250 budget ledger sheets for the secretary-treasurer's office.

Louisiana Woman Killed In Accident

MAGNOLIA, Ark. (AP)—Alice Faye Mayfield, 22, of Springhill, La., was killed Friday when the car in which she was riding collided with a pulpwood truck north of Taylor near the Arkansas-Louisiana state line.

State police said the impact sheared off the top of the car, driven by Willie D. Payne Jr., 21, Rt. 1, Taylor. Payne was hospitalized with injuries.

AUSTERITY IS DECREED

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—South Korea's revolutionary government has decreed austerity including dilution of rice at a 4-1 ratio with other grains. It provides also that boys must quit hanging around tea rooms and pool halls.

MOON RACE

Space Authorities Disagree On Winner

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Key U.S. space authorities agree that America must do its best to beat Russia to the moon.

Some feel the odds favor the United States. In this group are James E. Webb, director of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), and Dr. Lloyd V. Berkner, chairman of the Space Science Board of the National Academy of Sciences.

Others say the odds favor Russia. The odds may change in the next several years. But solely on the basis of past performance, some of the space experts say, a shrewd betting man today would have to put his money on Russia.

An animated discussion of the moon race odds was kicked off at a small dinner of space leaders and others by a remark of Webb's.

The table talk had been about President Kennedy's decision committing the United States to send men to the moon and back in this decade.

The consensus among officials present was that Kennedy was right in putting this country into a race to the moon with Russia. Wiesner said America must spend whatever effort and money is necessary to make a real race of it.

But neither Kennedy in his May 25 message to Congress nor Webb in subsequent public discussions of the message had gone so far as to predict the winner. Webb had contended himself with saying the United States wants to win and will try hard to do it.

At the dinner, however, Webb said he believed and was willing to go on record as stating the odds favor American victory. He was challenged at once to say how he arrived at that belief.

Webb said he based it on "the totality" of the U.S. space effort, its accomplishments of the past 3½ years, and the multibillion dollar program on which the country is now embarked to develop the giant boosters it must have to put men on the moon in a spaceship capable of returning them to earth.

He said the United States is far ahead of Russia in space science and that he objects to the notion that it is inferior because it has been second best in rocket weight-lifting power.

Bird-Brained? Wrens' Home Is Mobilized

Ever hear of a bird driving a car?

Mrs. Wesley Walters, of Wallace Dean Road in West Monroe, has had experience with at least one wren family that rides around in one, or rather on one.

Several weeks ago, one of the tiny birds began building a nest in a recessed area underneath the Walters auto. Although the car was moved often to different points around the house, the job eventually was completed, and soon after eggs started to appear in the little mobile home.

All efforts to discourage the mother bird failed and despite the necessity of having to go along nearly everywhere the car went, she finally managed to hatch her brood.

Now, true to form, while mama's out making a living and rummaging a little food, her youngsters likely are gone for a spin in the family automobile.

However, Mrs. Walters says she makes every effort to leave the car as near as possible to other, more suitable, homes waiting for the birds to become old enough to vacate.

CONDEMNED AGAIN

State May Padlock Town's City Hall

TRACY, Calif. (AP)—The seat of democracy here is plagued with dry rot. Officials are concerned lest government and justice go through the floor.

The state has condemned City Hall again.

The state first condemned it 23 years ago, when it was a school. It was first condemned for dry rot, sagging foundations, falling plaster and loose windows.

Four more years of deterioration, and city offices were moved in.

Finally, four months ago, the state building inspector put his foot down lightly, so it wouldn't go through. But he was adamant. He gave City Hall four months. No more.

The state will padlock City Hall if it is not vacated by next Tuesday.

The mayor and city manager visited San Francisco Friday to plead for an extension on the state's eviction notice. The only other alternative, said City Manager Warren Benson, is court action.

But it'll be a little difficult if they padlock the place," he mused. "The courtroom is in City Hall."

Completion Of Oil Well Tried Near Winnsboro

WINNSBORO Special) — Walace A. Stanberry, independent Shreveport operator, is attempting the completion of an oil well near here. It was abandoned as a dry hole one year ago.

The well is located on the Dr. Hollis T. Rogers farm, five and one-half miles north of Winnsboro.

Munoco Co. of El Dorado, Ark. drilled it to a depth of 4,517 feet, then abandoned it.

Drilling contractor on Stanberry is J. B. Markham of Production Service Inc. of Shreveport.

If the well comes in, it will open a new field.

'Cat Burglar' Given 45-Year Sentence

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Dist. Judge Jess Johnson gave 45 years Friday to an 18-year-old Negro "cat burglar," so called because he slipped into homes while occupants were absorbed in television.

Clarence Willie Jones was arraigned on two counts of armed burglary and three of simple burglary.

But police said he admitted more than 100 house burglaries spread over the last 18 months.

Subdivision Road Airing Is Scheduled

Ouachita Parish Highway Engineer Wayne Huckaby plans to ask for stricter requirements for design and construction of roads in subdivisions at the next meeting of the Police Jury Road Committee, June 13.

He revealed this Friday, after inspecting parish roads for two days.

Newly hired by the parish, Huckaby, who held the post of Louisiana Fifth District Highway Engineer for four years wasted no time in looking over road situations. He began work Thursday.

He said that Police Jurors "seem to be in accord with" his plans.

"Subdivision road construction is one problem that is giving them all concern," he said.

Subdivision developers build roads, then the parish takes over the roads and maintains them.

"Some of the streets are unsatisfactory. This makes an undue burden not only on the Police Jury but eventually on the property owners themselves," the engineer stated.

Huckaby revealed this at the Police Jury's Purchasing Committee meeting yesterday afternoon.

Ward five juror Leslie Hamm asked, "What's wrong with the roads?"

Hamm then revealed that, "Lots of homeowners have told me that the quality of street work in the subdivisions is inferior."

Rankin Earle, ward three juror, stated "We can't accept any more work like that."

"They put in as cheap blacktop as they can," said Ward 10 juror A. E. Montgomery.

Earl also warned that the jury has got to clean out a ditch and pond on the Winnsboro Road.

Two children were almost drowned in a pond this week, he said.

He suggested that the parish use a dragline to cut out a 150 to 200 foot long ditch.

"They've got the dirt piled up there to do it, but nobody will. The children walk along in knee high water, then step into six to eight feet deep water," he said.

Jurors decided to purchase a $565 machine to stamp letters, and 250 budget ledger sheets for the secretary-treasurer's office.

Louisiana Woman Killed In Accident

MAGNOLIA, Ark. (AP)—Alice Faye Mayfield, 22, of Springhill, La., was killed Friday when the car in which she was riding collided with a pulpwood truck north of Taylor near the Arkansas-Louisiana state line.

State police said the impact sheared off the top of the car, driven by Willie D. Payne Jr., 21, Rt. 1, Taylor. Payne was hospitalized with injuries.

AUSTERITY IS DECREED

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—South Korea's revolutionary government has decreed austerity including dilution of rice at a 4-1 ratio with other grains. It provides also that boys must quit hanging around tea rooms and pool halls.

MOON RACE

Space Authorities Disagree On Winner

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Key U.S. space authorities agree that America must do its best to beat Russia to the moon.

Some feel the odds favor the United States. In this group are James E. Webb, director of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), and Dr. Lloyd V. Berkner, chairman of the Space Science Board of the National Academy of Sciences.

Others say the odds favor Russia. The odds may change in the next several years. But solely on the basis of past performance, some of the space experts say, a shrewd betting man today would have to put his money on Russia.

An animated discussion of the moon race odds was kicked off at a small dinner of space leaders and others by a remark of Webb's.

The table talk had been about President Kennedy's decision committing the United States to send men to the moon and back in this decade.

The consensus among officials present was that Kennedy was right in putting this country into a race to the moon with Russia. Wiesner said America must spend whatever effort and money is necessary to make a real race of it.

But neither Kennedy in his May 25 message to Congress nor Webb in subsequent public discussions of the message had gone so far as to predict the winner. Webb had contended himself with saying the United States wants to win and will try hard to do it.

At the dinner, however, Webb said he believed and was willing to go on record as stating that the odds favor American victory. He was challenged at once to say how he arrived at that belief.

Webb said he based it on "the totality" of the U.S. space effort, its accomplishments of the past 3½ years, and the multibillion dollar program on which the country is now embarked to develop the giant boosters it must have to put men on the moon in a spaceship capable of returning them to earth.

He said the United States is far ahead of Russia in space science and that he objects to the notion that it is inferior because it has been second best in rocket weight-lifting power.

3 Monroyans Get Commissions

Three Monroe men were among 12 new second lieutenants commissioned this week by the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps at Louisiana Tech in Ruston.

One of them, Charles E. Cotton, was named Distinguished Air Force ROTC graduate and has been offered a regular Air Force commission.

ADOPT BILL ON BUYING

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—The Commonwealth Legislature has adopted a buy-Puerto Rican bill requiring island government agencies to give local products preference in bids even though prices may be higher. It is to combat unemployment.

Bird-Brained? Wrens' Home Is Mobilized

Ever hear of a bird driving a car?

Mrs. Wesley Walters, of Wallace Dean Road in West Monroe, has had experience with at least one wren family that rides around in one, or rather on one.

Several weeks ago, one of the tiny birds began building a nest in a recessed area underneath the Walters auto. Although the car was moved often to different points around the house, the job eventually was completed, and soon after eggs started to appear in the little mobile home.

All efforts to discourage the mother bird failed and despite the necessity of having to go along nearly everywhere the car went, she finally managed to hatch her brood.

Now, true to form, while mama's out making a living and rummaging a little food, her youngsters likely are gone for a spin in the family automobile.

However, Mrs. Walters says she makes every effort to leave the car as near as possible to other, more suitable, homes waiting for the birds to become old enough to vacate.

CONDEMNED AGAIN

State May Padlock Town's City Hall

TRACY, Calif. (AP)—The seat of democracy here is plagued with dry rot. Officials are concerned lest government and justice go through the floor.

The state has condemned City Hall again.

The state first condemned it 23 years ago, when it was a school. It was first condemned for dry rot, sagging foundations, falling plaster and loose windows.

Four more years of deterioration, and city offices were moved in.

Finally, four months ago, the state building inspector put his foot down lightly, so it wouldn't go through. But he was adamant. He gave City Hall four months. No more.

A bond issue for a new City Hall was defeated last week.

The state will padlock City Hall if it is not vacated by next Tuesday.

The mayor and city manager visited San Francisco Friday to plead for an extension on the state's eviction notice. The only other alternative, said City Manager Warren Benson, is court action.

"But it'll be a little difficult if they padlock the place," he mused. "The courtroom is in City Hall."

Completion Of Oil Well Tried Near Winnsboro

WINNSBORO (Special) — Wallace A. Stanberry, independent Shreveport operator, is attempting the completion of an oil well near here. It was abandoned as a dry hole one year ago.

The well is located on the Dr. Hollis T. Regers farm, five and one-half miles north of Winnsboro.

Munoco Co. of El Dorado, Ark. drilled it to a depth of 4,517 feet, then abandoned it.

Drilling contractor ofr Stanberry is J. B. Markham of Production Service Inc. of Shreveport.

If the well comes in, it will open a new field.

'Cat Burglar' Given 45-Year Sentence

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Dist. Judge Jess Johnson gave 45 years Friday to an 18-year-old Negro "cat burglar," so called because he slipped into homes while occupants were absorbed in television.

Clarence Willie Jones was arraigned on two counts of armed burglary and three of simple burglary.

But police said he admitted more than 100 house burglaries spread over the last 18 months.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Six Persons Killed In Two-Car Crash

BELLEVUE, Iowa (AP) — Six persons died Friday in a two-car, head-on collision at the crest of a hill on a county road about four miles west of this eastern Iowa town.

Three of the victims were children. Two other youngsters were seriously injured.

The dead, all from Bellevue, were Gerald Leroy Kintzle, 26; his wife, Una, 24; their 11-month-old son, Gary; Mrs. Karma Hoff, 35, and two of her children, Lenita, 3, and Terry, 11.

Injured were Dwain Becker, 9, son of Elmer Becker, of Bellevue, and Mary Hoff, 10, another daughter of Mrs. Hoff.

Officers said Kintzle was driver of one of the cars and Mrs. Hoff was driving the other.

Wailing Crowd Attends Trujillo Funeral Rites

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Dominicans by the thousands, many weeping and wailing, said funeral goodbys Friday to their dictator, the tough old Generalissimo Rafael Leonidas Trujillo who ruled his Caribbean domain in feudal style for a generation.

Officials rallied to his son, Lt. Gen. Rafael Trujillo, Jr., 32, newly named chief of Dominican armed forces, on their project to perpetuate the Trujillo dynasty, an outcast of the Americas.

The Dominican Congress met in special session after the funeral to deal with the immediate aftermath of the assassination of the elder Trujillo.

Crowds crashed through police lines to get near the slain strongman's closed casket, lined a 33-mile funeral route to watch his hearse go by.

Six Persons Killed In Two-Car Crash

BELLEVUE, Iowa (AP) — Six persons died Friday in a two-car, head-on collision at the crest of a hill on a county road about four miles west of this eastern Iowa town.

Three of the victims were children. Two other youngsters were seriously injured.

The dead, all from Bellevue, were Gerald Leroy Kintzle, 26; his wife, Una, 24; their 11-month-old son, Gary; Mrs. Karma Hoff, 35, and two of her children, Lenita, 3, and Terry, 11.

Injured were Dwain Becker, 9, son of Elmer Becker, of Bellevue, and Mary Hoff, 10, another daughter of Mrs. Hoff.

Officers said Kintzle was driver of one of the cars and Mrs. Hoff was driving the other.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Wailing Crowd Attends Trujillo Funeral Rites

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Dominicans by the thousands, many weeping and wailing, said funeral goodbys Friday to their dictator, the tough old Generalissimo Rafael Leonidas Trujillo who ruled his Caribbean domain in feudal style for a generation.

Officials rallied to his son, Lt. Gen. Rafael Trujillo, Jr., 32, newly named chief of Dominican armed forces, on their project to perpetuate the Trujillo dynasty, an outcast of the Americas.

The Dominican Congress met in special session after the funeral to deal with the immediate aftermath of the assassination of the elder Trujillo.

Crowds crashed through police lines to get near the slain strongman's closed casket, lined a 33-mile funeral route to watch his hearse go by.

How To Keep Well

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

THE PROBLEM OF TEMPER TANTRUMS

A temper tantrum in a tot makes an adult feel helpless. The best advice is to keep your own temper and realize that the child has lost control of himself and cannot be reasoned with at the moment. Make known to him in some way that he is still loved but don't let him gain anything through his kicking, screaming, and throwing himself all over the place.

We received several letters suggesting ways to handle the problem. One said, "My grandmother cured me once and for all by throwing a dipper of ice water over me when I was holding my breath and pounding the floor."

F. C. wrote: "My brother-in-law had a son who went into temper tantrums frequently. The father solved the problem by holding the boy's head under the water faucet for a few seconds. You may use this for what it is worth." We never get letters telling us of the failures from this type of treatment.

In my opinion, the "don't care" treatment has merit, as many youngsters get over the tantrum in a hurry when they are ignored. This remedy backfires occasionally in that the child is frightened or goes into a more violent rage. Some tykes need to be coddled whereas others must be restrained for a few moments to prevent injury. What helps one may not help another and the mother should play each tantrum by ear.

The child who holds his breath when angry may become unconscious. When this occurs, voluntary control of breathing is lost, the youngster begins to breathe, and consciousness returns.

I made the statement recently that I have never known a child to die in this way. A Chicagoan sent me a clip from a Florida paper in which a fatality was reported in a 1-year-old boy who held his breath. This case may be the exception to the rule but not all cases of breath holding are temper tantrums. Some of these children have epilepsy and the parents mistake the convulsion for a tantrum.

BLOOD WILL TELL

A. F. writes: How does infectious mononucleosis differ from leukemia?

REPLY

HELP FOR ASTHMATIC

M. S. F. writes: What first aid is best to give when a severe asthmatic attack begins?

REPLY

The asthmatic must sit up to breathe, so place several pillows behind his back to lend support. Do not smoke in the patient's room and don't try to engage him in conversation. Meanwhile, call the physician.

GOOD LUCK

C. F. writes: I'm 45 years old, was married at 34, and had my first baby at 44 without difficulty. Do you think it safe to try for another?

REPLY

Why not?

TIC OF THE FACE

S. C. M. writes: Can a tic of the cheek be cured?

REPLY

Yes, provided the causative tensions can be decreased and it is possible to interrupt the habit pattern. But this is easier said than done because a well established tic is difficult to cure.

DRAINING SINUSES

D. A. writes: Will the lungs be affected by a sinus that drains down the throat?

REPLY

The secretions that seep down the back of the throat (post-nasal drip) usually are swallowed and the acid in the stomach kills the organisms. On the other hand, infection in the nose and sinuses may spread to the lungs, causing chronic bronchitis. Send stamped, self - addressed envelope for leaflet on post - nasal drip.

THIS WAS THE CIVIL WAR

By MERTON T. AKERS
United Press International

The first land battle of any consequence in the Civil War occurred June 10, 1861, at Big Bethel, a crossroads in eastern Virginia on the peninsula between the York and the James Rivers, the sea gateway to Richmond, Confederate capital.

Casualties were light, 76 Yankees killed, 11 Rebels. In contrast to the later fighting, it hardly could be called a battle, but early in '61 with troops marching on the perimeter of the Confederacy, a clash would be called a battle. In another year the Bethel fight would not rate two lines in a dispatch.

But it was a Confederate victory and they made the most of it.

SOUTH GETS HEROES

The battle proved to southerners that their boast that one Confederate soldier could lick eight Yankees any day was sound. Their new troops had stood and fought against odds of about 4-to-1 and won. Moreover, they had pursued the beaten enemy. No ground had changed hands, no army was crushed, but the fight did spotlight a couple of heroes for the South — John Bankhead Magruder and Daniel Harvey Hill.

Half a continent away in Vicksburg, Miss., William Howard Russell, London Times correspondent who was touring the South, heard the Confederates talking about Big Bethel:

He wrote June 14 in his diary: The news of the defeat of an expedition from Fortress Monroe against a Confederate post at Great Bethel, has caused great rejoicing. The accounts show that there was the grossest mismanagement on the part of the Federal officers."

HARD ROAD

In Richmond, John B. Jones, a War Department clerk and a newspaperman who had been forced to flee from Baltimore because of his secessionist sympathies, wrote on June 11:

It is coming in earnest. The supposed thunder, heard down the river yesterday, turns out to have been artillery. A fight has occurred at Bethel, and blood — Yankee blood — has flowed pretty freely . . . The road to Richmond is a hard one to travel."

Mary Boykin Chesnut, whose husband was with the Confederate troops at Manassas in northern Virginia, wrote in her diary June 12:

Colonel Magruder has done something splendid on the peninsula. Bethel is the name of the battle. Three hundred of the enemy killed, they say."

Magruder had what it took to be a hero. Called "Prince John" by his old Army friends, he was a handsome, impatient, theatrical officer of 51 and a host who knew his food and wine and how to serve them.

"Prince John" was not in the battle. He was in command of the area with headquarters at Yorktown, Va., but he nevertheless was not a man to lag in reporting a victory on his front. While the fighting was going on, he sent a series of dispatches to Richmond by couriers, describing the progress. The man who commanded on the field was Daniel Harvey Hill, a colonel leading the 1st North Carolina Infantry, an exceptionally well drilled outfit recruited from the North Carolina Military Institute, where he had been superintendent. Both Magruder and Hill later became major generals.

SLAVE REPORTS

First word that the Confederates had moved out from Yorktown toward Hampton, Va., and Fortress Monroe came from an escaping Negro slave, George Scott. Fleeing from his master near Yorktown, Scott made his way to Fortress Monroe, one of the few forts in the South which the Confederates had not seized. Enroute Scott noted the Confederates had fortified two points between Yorktown and the fortress. He told his story to Maj. Gen. Benjamin F. Butler, commanding at Fortress Monroe, and Maj. Theodore Winthrop was sent to check the slave's information. Winthrop found the Confederates entrenched at Big Bethel and Little Bethel about three miles southeast.

Suspecting Magruder was planning an advance toward Hampton on the James River and the fortress, Butler assembled an expedition of seven regiments under the command of Brig. Gen. Ebenezer W. Pierce, an inexperienced and, as it turned out, incompetent, officer. He was ordered to attack.

FEDERAL MOVE

The force of 4,400 men moved in three columns and were ordered to meet at a crossroads near Little Bethel for the attack on Big Bethel. This was a complicated maneuver, difficult for seasoned troops, virtually impossible for soldiers only one stage advanced from recruits. The simplest moves are the best," Napoleon had written, but Butler was a politician, not a strategist.

The inevitable happened. The 3rd New York, wearing gray uniforms, was fired on by the 7th New York as the regiments ap- Civil War Stnd Hd Sat World N"

But the time the columns were broached the rendezvous, shaking the morale of the troops and precluding a surprise attack. (Early in the war about as many Union regiments wore gray as Confederates.)

UNION RETREATS

By the time the columns were sorted out and advanced to the attack on the Confederate works at Big Bethel, it was too late and the Federals were repulsed. They retreated into the woods and after one maneuvering, started back to their base.

The chief casualty of the Federal side was Maj. Winthrop. He was killed by a Confederate volley as he stood on a fence waving his sword and urging on the Union men. Winthrop by virtue of having scouted the battlefield, had asked permission to accompany the force as a volunteer aide.

So far as my observation extended, he was the only one of the enemy who exhibited even an approximation to courage during the whole day," Hill said in his report of the battle.

The gesture was typical of Winthrop, a dedicated Union man who had laid down his pen at the start of the war and enlisted in the 7th New York. He was a writer of promise. Several of his novels, among the first to be written on the western theme, were published after his death. He was a Yale graduate and numbered among his noted ancestors a colonial governor of Connecticut.

He soon rose to a majority and as a staff officer for Butler volunteered for dangerous duty at every opportunity. While scouting before the Big Bethel battle he crept so close to the Confederate lines that he was forced to lie 24 hours in the brush to escape detection.

The Federals beaten off, all was quiet along the York and James for many months, but in a year almost to the day, this same peninsula would give its name to a series of bloody battles which saw the Northern army in sight of the spires of Richmond.

Gas-Distillate Field Discovered Near Cheniere

A new gas-distillate field was discovered this week in Ouachita Parish, it was learned from Duncan S. Cook, manager of the 14-parish Monroe district of the State Department of Conservation.

The new well, a wildcat venture, is located west of Lake Cheniere about eight miles west and south of West Monroe in section 10, township 17 north and range 2 east.

Cook said a 24-hour test last week on a 14-64 in. choke showed a production capacity of 4,500,000 cubic feet of gas with 117 barrels of distillate per million feet. Shut-in pressure was 6530 pounds and flowing tubing pressure of 5334 pounds.

The distillate is 50.7 gravity oil and was described as being somewhat of a lighter color than the distillate being produced in the rich Cadeville and Calhoun fields.

The wildcat was drilled by B. E. Gamble, a independent Shreveport operator and is called the B. E. Gamble Bacon No. 1. At a depth of about 9650 feet the drill showed good production, and a deeper depth of 10,315 feet was reached but failed to produce. The casing was then perforated for a stretch of 15 feet from 9638 to 9702.

The next step toward development of the new field will be taken, Cook said, when the conservation department holds a hearing to decide on the size of the units on which additional wells will be drilled. Units in the Cadeville and Calhoun fields have 320 acres, and the new field will also probably be divided into that size drilling plots.

How To Keep Well

THE PROBLEM OF TEMPER TANTRUMS

A temper tantrum in a tot makes an adult feel helpless. The best advice is to keep your own temper and realize that the child has lost control of himself and cannot be reasoned with at the moment. Make known to him in some way that he is still loved but don't let him gain anything through his kicking, screaming, and throwing himself all over the place.

We received several letters suggesting ways to handle the problem. One said, "My grandmother cured me once and for all by throwing a dipper of ice water over me when I was holding my breath and pounding the floor."

F. C. wrote: "My brother-in-law had a son who went into temper tantrums frequently. The father solved the problem by holding the boy's head under the water faucet for a few seconds. You may use this for what it is worth." We never get letters telling us of the failures from this type of treatment.

In my opinion, the "don't care" treatment has merit, as many youngsters get over the tantrum in a hurry when they are ignored. This remedy backfires occasionally in that the child is frightened or goes into a more violent rage. Some tykes need to be coddled whereas others must be restrained for a few moments to prevent injury. What helps one may not help another and the mother should play each tantrum by ear.

The child who holds his breath when angry may become unconscious. When this occurs, voluntary control of breathing is lost, the youngster begins to breathe, and consciousness returns.

I made the statement recently that I have never known a child to die in this way. A Chicagoan sent me a clip from a Florida paper in which a fatality was reported in a 1-year-old boy who held his breath. This case may be the exception to the rule but not all cases of breath holding are temper tantrums. Some of these children have epilepsy and the parents mistake the convulsion for a tantrum.

BLOOD WILL TELL

A. F. writes: How does infectious mononucleosis differ from leukemia?

REPLY

HELP FOR ASTHMATIC

M. S. F. writes: What first aid is best to give when a severe asthmatic attack begins?

REPLY

The asthmatic must sit up to breathe, so place several pillows behind his back to lend support. Do not smoke in the patient's room and don't try to engage him in conversation. Meanwhile, call the physician.

GOOD LUCK

C. F. writes: I'm 45 years old, was married at 34, and had my first baby at 44 without difficulty. Do you think it safe to try for another?

REPLY

Why not?

TIC OF THE FACE

S. C. M. writes: Can a tic of the cheek be cured?

REPLY

Yes, provided the causative tensions can be decreased and it is possible to interrupt the habit pattern. But this is easier said than done because a well established tic is difficult to cure.

DRAINING SINUSES

D. A. writes: Will the lungs be affected by a sinus that drains down the throat?

REPLY

The secretions that seep down the back of the throat (post-nasal drip) usually are swallowed and the acid in the stomach kills the organisms. On the other hand, infection in the nose and sinuses may spread to the lungs, causing chronic bronchitis. Send stamped, self - addressed envelope for leaflet on post - nasal drip.

THIS WAS THE CIVIL WAR

By MERTON T. AKERS
United Press International

The first land battle of any consequence in the Civil War occurred June 10, 1861, at Big Bethel, a crossroads in eastern Virginia on the peninsula between the York and the James Rivers, the sea gateway to Richmond, Confederate capital.

Casualties were light, 76 Yankees killed, 11 Rebels. In contrast to the later fighting, it hardly could be called a battle, but early in '61 with troops marching on the perimeter of the Confederacy, a clash would be called a battle. In another year the Bethel fight would not rate two lines in a dispatch.

But it was a Confederate victory and they made the most of it.

SOUTH GETS HEROES

The battle proved to southerners that their boast that one Confederate soldier could lick eight Yankees any day was sound. Their new troops had stood and fought against odds of about 4-to-1 and won. Moreover, they had pursued the beaten enemy. No ground had changed hands, no army was crushed, but the fight did spotlight a couple of heroes for the South — John Bankhead Magruder and Daniel Harvey Hill.

Half a continent away in Vicksburg, Miss., William Howard Russell, London Times correspondent who was touring the South, heard the Confederates talking about Big Bethel:

He wrote June 14 in his diary: The news of the defeat of an expedition from Fortress Monroe against a Confederate post at Great Bethel, has caused great rejoicing. The accounts show that there was the grossest mismanagement on the part of the Federal oficers."

HARD ROAD

In Richmond, John B. Jones, a War Department clerk and a newspaperman who had been forced to flee from Baltimore because of his secessionist sympathies, wrote on June 11:

It is coming in earnest. The supposed thunder, heard down the river yesterday, turns out to have been artillery. A fight has occurred at Bethel, and blood — Yankee blood — has flowed pretty freely ... The road to Richmond is a hard one to travel."

Mary Boykin Chesnut, whose husband was with the Confederate troops at Manassas in northern Virginia, wrote in her diary June 12:

Colonel Magruder has done something splendid on the peninsula. Bethel is the name of the battle. Three hundred of the enemy killed, they say."

Magruder had what it took to be a hero. Called "Prince John" by his old Army friends, he was a handsome, impatient, theatrical officer of 51 and a host who knew his food and wine and how to serve them.

"Prince John" was not in the battle. He was in command of the area with headquarters at Yorktown, Va., but he nevertheless was not a man to lag in reporting a victory on his front. While the fighting was going on, he sent a series of dispatches to Richmond by couriers, describing the progress. The man who commanded on the field was Daniel Harvey Hill, a colonel leading the 1st North Carolina Infantry, an exceptionally well drilled outfit recruited from the North Carolina Military Institute, where he had been superintendent. Both Magruder and Hill later became major generals.

SLAVE REPORTS

First word that the Confederates had moved out from Yorktown toward Hampton, Va., and Fortress Monroe came from an escaping Negro slave, George Scott. Fleeing from his master near Yorktown, Scott made his way to Fortress Monroe, one of the few forts in the South which the Confederates had not seized. Enroute Scott noted the Confederates had fortified two points between Yorktown and the fortress. He told his story to Maj. Gen. Benjamin F. Butler, commanding at Fortress Monroe, and Maj. Theodore Winthrop was sent to check the slave's information. Winthrop found the Confederates entrenched at Big Bethel and Little Bethel about three miles southeast.

Suspecting Magruder was planning an advance toward Hampton on the James River and the fortress, Butler assembled an expedition of seven regiments under the command of Brig. Gen. Ebenezer W. Pierce, an inexperienced and, as it turned out, incompetent, officer. He was ordered to attack.

FEDERAL MOVE

The force of 4,400 men moved in three columns and were ordered to meet at a crossroads near Little Bethel for the attack on Big Bethel. This was a complicated maneuver, difficult for seasoned troops, virtually impossible for soldiers only one stage advanced from recruits. The simplest moves are the best," Napoleon had written, but Butler was a politician, not a strategist.

The inevitable happened. The 3rd New York, wearing gray uniforms, was fired on by the 7th New York as the regiments ap- Civil War Stnd Hd Sat World N

So far as my observation extended, he was the only one of the enemy who exhibited even an approximation to courage during the whole day," Hill said in his report of the battle.

The gesture was typical of Winthrop, a dedicated Union man who had laid down his pen at the start of the war and enlisted in the 7th New York. He was a writer of promise. Several of his novels, among the first to be written on the western theme, were published after his death. He was a Yale graduate and numbered among his noted ancestors a colonial governor of Connecticut.

He soon rose to a majority and as a staff officer for Butler volunteered for dangerous duty at every opportunity. While scouting before the Big Bethel battle he crept so close to the Confederate lines that he was forced to lie 24 hours in the brush to escape dectection.

Snead, Jim Demaret Pad U.S. Golf Lead

Yanks Lead Favorites In Canada Cup

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

DORADO BEACH, P. R. (AP) — Sam Snead uncorked another fantastic round of golf at windswept Dorado Beach Friday and with the aid of elder statesman Jimmy Demaret gave the United States team a huge lead over favored Australia in the Canada Cup international tournament.

Snead shot his second straight 66 over the links to give the pair 32 strokes. He had a bogey on the last hole and didn't care. The 49-year-old Demaret improved on his opening day performance with a two-under par 70.

The Americans thus reached the halfway point of the tournament with an aggregate of 257, six strokes ahead of Australia's Peter Thomson and Kel Nagle. No other team was even close.

For the record time Snead matched the competitive record for the 7,115-yard par 36-36—72 course for a 36-hole total of 138. But he can't be completely happy about one couple. He and Ben Arda of the Philippines.

Arda, who succeed Ward Dorado that has been seriously ill and who was thinking of pulling out of the tournament, shot a second 69 for 139. Then he could not be at that home Sunday.

Top money in the individual competition is $1,000 in addition to the $500 paid every player. Behind Snead, second for Team second place is worth $500.

Snead's performance has virtually turned the tournament into a rout and Demaret's Australian partner, Jimmy Bolt, played consistent golf for two rounds to keep the Canadian and Italian teams from gaining ground.

BOSTON (AP) — Lee Thomas of the Boston Red Sox connected for a two-run homer and Don Wertz added a pair of runs batted in as Boston defeated the Baltimore Orioles 4-3 in the ninth inning Friday night.

The Sox' winner, which traveled a total of 420 feet into the right field bleachers, came on a 1-2 pitch after Jim Pagliaroni drew only the second walk given up by the Birds' Billy Hoeft. Tom Brewer ran for Pagliaroni and trotted home ahead of Wertz.

Jim Gentile and Jerry Adair scored the Orioles' runs on 23 in the ninth inning. Gentile opened the inning with a single off Schwall's glove and Adair followed with a double to left center.

The Sox, hitless through the first four innings, crashed through for a 1-0 lead in the fifth and seemingly had the game won when they scored another in the eighth.

Solons Win

WASHINGTON (AP)—Washington right-hander Dick Donovan Friday night received solid support for the first time this season and he easily throttled the Kansas City Athletics 12-4 for his best victory after five losses.

The dozen runs represented more backing than Donovan had received in all five previous losses. All five had been low-scoring, one-run decisions.

The Senators walloped 16 hits off Kansas City pitching, including a homer and double by Dale Long who drove in five runs and a double and two singles by Donovan. Long's home run came in the fifth with two men aboard.

Bud Daley, the first of four Kansas City pitchers, absorbed the loss, his sixth compared to four victories.

Indians, 6-4

CLEVELAND (AP)—John Romano's two-run homer in the eighth inning broke a 4-4 deadlock and gave the Cleveland Indians a 6-4 victory over the Los Angeles Angels Friday night.

Romano's shot over the left field fence, his eighth of the season, kept his batting streak alive at 16 games. Sharing ahead of him was Willie Kirkland, who reached first on a fielder's choice.

Frank Funk, the third Cleveland pitcher, hurled the last two innings and won his seventh game in 10 decisions. He struck out the side in the ninth inning. Funk is tied with Frank Lary of Detroit and Steve Barber of Baltimore for the most wins in the American League.

Yanks Again

CHICAGO (AP)—Two home runs BUNS BY Yogi Berra and another by Roger Maris helped southpaw Whitey Ford and the New York Yankees inflict a 6-2 defeat on the Chicago White Sox Friday night before a crowd of 38,140, largest of the season.

Ford gained his seventh triumph of the season and his first against the White Sox since July 19, 1959. During that period the Sox had beaten Ford five times.

Ford was reached for a two-run homer by Al Smith in the first inning but settled down after that, scattering a total of seven hits. A 5-2 lead fashioned in the first four innings was never in jeopardy.

Berra started the Yankee scoring with a homer in the second inning and the New Yorkers picked up three more in the third on a sacrifice fly by Tony Kubek and Maris' 13th homer with a man on.

Rawls Ahead

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Betsy Rawls shot near par golf Friday and coasted past the halfway mark in the Women's Western Open with a 145 for the 36 holes.

Her 76 was one over regulation figures and seven over her blistering 69 Thursday.

Title Fight

Boxing Ills

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey called for strong federal medicine to cure boxing's ills Friday — ills which Tunney said included allowing a badly injured man to fight for the heavyweight title.

Rose Bowl Football

CHICAGO (AP) — Now that Minnesota has opened the way for Big Ten renewal of a Rose Bowl contract, the conference will have to woo a pact offer from the Athletic Association of Western Universities, known as the Big Five.

The shoe is on the other foot in the Pasadena, Calif., post-season football classic which, up until this year, found the Pacific Coast group pressing for Big Ten participation on a contract basis.

Little League Baseball

In a Minor League game played at Southside Park Dew Music won over Purity Ice Cream, 17-6. The winning battery was McGee and Ford. The losing battery was Thompson, Biggars, Lee and Ross.

In a Little League game played at the same site Twin City Printing won over the Palace, 33-9. The winning battery was Buddy Wright, Deno Kokinos, and Graves. The losers were Smith, Tippett, Denton, Inzina and Benton. For the winners Wright, Peters, Kokinos and Graves all got three hits.

In a Minor League game North Monroe Lions won over First Presbyterian, 13-8. The leading batter for North Monroe Lions was Hicks with two for three. The winning battery was Touchstone and Ernest. The leading batter for the losers as Rosenburg with two for three. The losing battery was May and Johnson.

In a Northside Little League contest Van Trow beat Gay Clothing, 17-6. The winning battery was Saget and Able. The losers were Kain and Faucett. Leading the inners was Saget who collected two hits for three trips to the plate. Meeks homered twice for the winners. For the losers Doug Tidwell went four for four, an also hit a home run.

Redleg Rally Too Late, Chicago Takes 7-6 Victory

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Chicago Cubs barely overcame a spectacular ninth inning uprising by the Cincinnati Reds and won 7-6 in a drizzling rain Friday night.

Rookie Jack Curtis (1-1) had a shutout going until the bottom of the eighth when Jerry Zimmerman singled and Elio Chacon, running for the Red catcher, scored on a bad throw to the infield by George Altman.

The Reds added two more runs in the ninth when Gene Freese homered and scored behind Frank Robinson, who walked.

Then Jerry Lynch doubled with the bases full, scoring Wally Post, Pete Whisenant and Don Blasingame. Blasingame had reached base on a walk while the others singled.

The Cubs outhit the Reds 13-9, chasing starter Bob Purkey (5-3) after five innings, during which the veteran right-hander gave up four runs and nine hits. The 24-year-old Curtis was relieved by Don Elston in the ninth.

Altman started off the Cub scoring parade in the first by singling home Ron Santo. The Cubs added two in the fourth when Altman doubled and Ed Bouchee homered.

Another run scored in the fifth as Richie Ashburn singled, advanced to third on another single and a sacrifice, and crossed the plate on Ernie Banks' sacrifice fly.

In the seventh, Ashburn drew a walk. Don Zimmer sacrificed and reached first base safely when relief pitcher Marshall Bridges threw too late trying to catch Ashburn at second. Ashburn scored on Santo's single and Zimmer made it 6-0 on another Banks' sacrifice fly.

Zimmer singled again in the ninth and Banks sacrificed to score him.

Cards Triumph

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Young Ray Sadecki fashioned a masterful four-hitter as the St. Louis Cardinals edged the Milwaukee Braves 3-1 Friday night on a sixth inning rally featured by Ken Boyer's two-run homer.

Sadecki, a 20-year-old sophomore southpaw, struck out eight and walked only two in outdueling Milwaukee right-hander Carl Willey and handing the Braves their fourth straight loss.

The victory moved the Cardinals into fifth place, a half a game ahead of the Braves.

Willey baffled the Cards on one hit in the first five innings before being tagged for all three St. Louis runs in the sixth.

Bill White led off with a triple to right and then Boyer reached out and lined his eighth homer. With two out, Alex Grammas walked and took third on a single by Hal Smith, his second of three hits, and scored on Sadecki's line safety to left.

Willey allowed a total of six hits, struck out seven and walked five before being lifted for a pinch hitter in the seventh. He was charged with his second loss in four decisions.

The lone Milwaukee run off Sadecki, who has a 4-3 record, came on Eddie Mathews' 10th homer in the fourth. The blast came after Mathews had struck out on seven straight trips to the plate.

Phillies Roll

PITTSBURGH (AP)—John Buzhardt blanked the Pittsburgh Pirates on nine hits Friday night as the Philadelphia Phillies overpowered the defending world champions 6-0 behind a 12-hit barrage.

Buzhardt struck out three and walked only one in positing his first victory of the season after losing five straight.

The big right-hander was in serious trouble only in the second and seventh innings, but both times he pitched out of danger.

Pancho Herrera sparked the Phillies' hitting attack with a pair of doubles and two runs batted in. Tony Gonzalez, Kenny Walters, Tony Taylor and Lee Walls also chipped in with two hits each. Six of Philadelphia's hits were doubles.

Right-hander Bob Friend, who won his first four games this season, was tagged with the loss—his sixth in a row as a starter and his seventh in 12 decisions.

The Phils kayoed Friend in the third inning, erupting for four hits and three runs. Buzhardt's double, singles by Tony Taylor and Lee Walls, an infield out and Pancho Herrera's two-base hit accounted for the runs.

Snead, Jim Demaret Pad U.S. Golf Lead

Yanks Lead Favorites In Canada Cup

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

DORADO BEACH, P. R. (AP) — Sam Snead uncorked another fantastic round of golf at windswept Dorado Beach Friday and with the aid of elder statesman Jimmy Demaret gave the United States team a huge lead over favored Australia in the Canada Cup international tournament.

Snead shot his second straight 67 over the long, steamy-hot par 72 course. He had a bogey on the last hole and didn't like it. The leg-weary, 51-year-old Demaret improved on his opening day performance with a two-under-par 70.

The Americans thus reached the halfway point of the tournament with an aggregate of 277, six strokes ahead of Australia's Peter Thomson and Kel Nagel. No other team was even close.

For the second time Snead matched the competitive record for the 7,115-yard, par 36-36—72 course for a 36-hole total of 134. But he couldn't completely shake off one competitor, little Ben Arda of the Philippines.

Arda, who received word Thursday that his ife is seriously ill and who was thinkng of pulling out of the tournament, shot his second 69 for 139. Then he cabled that he'll start home Sunday.

Top money in the individual competition is $1,000-in addition to the $500 paid every player. It's worth sticking around for. Even second place is worth $500.

Snead's performance has virtually turned the tournament into a rout and Demaret's is hardly less impressive. Jimmy hadn't played competitive golf for over a month before he came here and hadn't done well even then.

Detroit Wins 2-0 Shutout Victory Over Minnesota

By DAVE DILES

DETROIT (AP)—Jim Bunning pitched a strong four-hitter and home runs by Rocky Colavito and Al Kaline carried the veteran Detroit right-hander to a 2-0 victory over the Minnesota Twins Friday night.

Bunning, victim of poor batting support in most of his previous 11 starts, needed only Colavito's 13th home run off the facing of the upper deck in left field in the second inning. Kaline hit his fourth to almost the same spot in the sixth.

The defeat was the sixth in a row for the Twins and their 11th in 12 games. The victory kept the Tigers' first-place margin over Cleveland at two games.

Kaline's four homers this season have been hit in four straight games against the Minnesota club.

Bunning had to put down only one major threat and it came in the ninth. The Twins loaded the bases with one out on a single, Bunning's only walk and an error by thirdbaseman Steve Boros.

But Bunning got Dan Dobbek on a doubleplay grounder to first base, just beating the Twins' outfielder to the bag himself for the final out.

Red Sox Win

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox, on a long, lofty two-run homer by old pro Vic Wertz, pulled out a 4-2 triumph over the Baltimore Orioles in the ninth inning Friday night.

The lusty smash, which traveled at least 420 feet into the right field bleachers, came on a 1-2 pitch after Jim Pagliaroni drew only the second walk given up by the Birds' Billy Hoeft. Tom Brewer ran for Pag, and trotted home ahead of Wertz.

Thus, youth and age served the Sox. Schwall at 23 is the youngest player on the Boston roster and Wertz at 36, the oldest.

The Sox, hitless through the first four innings, crashed through for a 1-1 tie in the fifth and seemingly had the game won when they scored another in the eighth.

Solons Win

WASHINGTON (AP)—Washington right-hander Dick Donovan Friday night received solid support for the first time this season and he easily throttled the Kansas City Athletics 12-4 for his first victory after five losses.

The dozen runs represented more backing than Donovan had received in all five previous losses. All five had been low-scoring, one-run decisions.

The Senators walloped 16 hits off Kansas City pitching, including a homer and double by Dale Lone—who drove in five runs—and a double and two singles by Donovan. Long's home run came in the fifth with two men aboard.

Bud Daley, the first of four Kansas City pitchers, absorbed the loss, his sixth compared to four victories.

Indians, 6-4

CLEVELAND (AP)—John Romano's two-run homer in the eighth inning broke a 4-4 deadlock and gave the Cleveland Indians a 6-4 victory over the Los Angeles Angels Friday night.

Romano's shot over the left field fence, his eighth of the season, kept his hitting streak alive at 16 games. Scoring ahead of him was Willie Kirkland, who reached first on a fielder's choice.

Frank Funk, the third Cleveland pitcher, hurled the last two innings and won his seventh game in 10 decisions. He struck out the side in the ninth inning. Funk is tied with Frank Lary of Detroit and Steve Barber of Baltimore for the most wins in the American League.

Yanks Again

CHICAGO (AP)—Two home runs RUNS BY Yogi Berra and another by Roger Maris helped southpaw Whitey Ford and the New York Yankees inflict a 6-2 defeat on the Chicago White Sox Friday night before a crowd of 38,140, largest of the season.

Ford gained his seventh triumph of the season and his first against the White Sox since July 19, 1959. During that period the Sox had beaten Ford five times.

Ford was reached for a two-run homer by Al Smith in the first inning but settled down after that, scattering a total of seven hits. A 5-2 lead fashioned in the first four innings was never in jeopardy.

Berra started the Yankee scoring with a homer in the second inning and the New Yorkers picked up three more in the third on a sacrifice fly by Tony Kubek and Maris' 13th homer with a man on.

Berra walloped his eighth homer to open the fourth inning.

Rawls Ahead

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Betsy Rawls shot near par golf Friday and coasted past the halfway mark in the Women's Western Open with a 145 for the 36 holes.

Her 76 was one over regulation figures and seven over her blistering 69 Thursday.

Title Fight

Boxing Ills

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey called for strong federal medicine to cure boxing's ills Friday — ills which Tunney said included allowing a badly injured man to fight for the heavyweight title.

Rose Bowl Football

CHICAGO (AP) — Now that Minnesota has opened the way for Big Ten renewal of a Rose Bowl contract, the conference will have to woo a pact offer from the Athletic Association of Western Universities, known as the Big Five.

The shoe is on the other foot in the Pasadena, Calif., post-season football classic which, up until this year, found the Pacific Coast group pressing for Big Ten participation on a contract basis.

NATIONAL ROUNDUP

Redleg Rally Too Late, Chicago Takes 7-6 Victory

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Chicago Cubs barely overcame a spectacular ninth inning uprising by the Cincinnati Reds and won 7-6 in a drizzling rain Friday night.

Rookie Jack Curtis (1-1) had a shutout going until the bottom of the eighth when Jerry Zimmerman singled and Elio Chacon, running for the Red catcher, scored on a bad throw to the infield by George Altman.

The Reds added two more runs in the ninth when Gene Freese homered and scored behind Frank Robinson, who walked.

Then Jerry Lynch doubled with the bases full, scoring Wally Post, Pete Whisenant and Don Blasingame. Blasingame had reached base on a walk while the others singled.

The Cubs outhit the Reds 13-9, chasing starter Bob Purkey (5-3) after five innings, during which the veteran right-hander gave up four runs and nine hits. The 24-year-old Curtis was relieved by Don Elston in the ninth.

Altman started off the Cub scoring parade in the first by singling home Ron Santo. The Cubs added two in the fourth when Altman doubled and Ed Bouchee homered.

Another run scored in the fifth as Richie Ashburn singled, advanced to third on another single and a sacrifice, and crossed the plate on Ernie Banks' sacrifice fly.

In the seventh, Ashburn drew a walk. Don Zimmer sacrificed and reached first base safely when relief pitcher Marshall Bridges threw too late trying to catch Ashburn at second. Ashburn scored on Santo's single and Zimmer made it 6-0 on another Banks' sacrifice fly.

Zimmer singled again in the ninth and Banks sacrificed to score him.

Cards Triumph

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Young Ray Sadecki fashioned a masterful four-hitter as the St. Louis Cardinals edged the Milwaukee Braves 3-1 Friday night on a sixth inning rally featured by Ken Boyer's two-run homer.

Sadecki, a 20-year-old sophomore southpaw, struck out eight and walked only two in outdueling Milwaukee right-hander Carl Willey and handing the Braves their fourth straight loss.

The victory moved the Cardinals into fifth place, a half a game ahead of the Braves.

Willey baffled the Cards on one hit in the first five innings before being tagged for all three St. Louis runs in the sixth.

Bill White led off with a triple to right and then Boyer reached out and lined his eighth homer. With two out, Alex Grammas walked and took third on a single by Hal Smith, his second of three hits, and scored on Sadecki's line safety to left.

Willey allowed a total of six hits, struck out seven and walked five before being lifted for a pinch hitter in the seventh. He was charged with his second loss in four decisions.

The lone Milwaukee run off Sadecki, who has a 4-3 record, came on Eddie Mathews' 10th homer in the fourth. The blast came after Mathews had struck out on seven straight trips to the plate.

Phillies Roll

PITTSBURGH (AP)—John Buzhardt blanked the Pittsburgh Pirates on nine hits Friday night as the Philadelphia Phillies overpowered the defending world champions 6-0 behind a 12-hit barrage.

Buzhardt struck out three and walked only one in positing his first victory of the season after losing five straight.

The big right-hander was in serious trouble only in the second and seventh innings, but both times he pitched out of danger.

Pancho Herrera sparked the Phillies' hitting attack with a pair of doubles and two runs batted in. Tony Gonzalez, Kenny Walters, Tony Taylor and Lee Walls also chipped in with two hits each. Six of Philadelphia's hits were doubles.

Right-hander Bob Friend, who won his first four games this season, was tagged with the loss—his sixth in a row as a starter and his seventh in 12 decisions.

The Phils kayoed Friend in the third inning, erupting for four hits and three runs. Buzhardt's double, singles by Tony Taylor and Lee Walls, an infield out and Pancho Herrera's two-base hit accounted for the runs.

HEAVY HITTERS

Rebs Put Charles Dykes On AAA All-State Team

By TED CASTILLO
Baton Rouge Morning Advocate
(Written for the La. Sports Writers Association)

A crop of better than .300 hitters and a crack pitching corps feature the 1961 Louisiana Sports Writers Association's Triple-A All-State baseball team.

Shortstop Dalton Jones of Istrouma heads the list of sluggers with a .509 regular-season batting mark followed by catcher Frank Melito of De La Salle who clubbed the ball at a .481 clip and Jesuit first baseman Rusty Staub, a .474 batter.

Other averages range from Bolton outfielder Sammy Despino's .320 to Bossier City infielder Robert Clifton's .443.

Jack Vaughn, who had a 7-1 regular-season record and was 10-3, including the playoffs, leads the pitching staff which posted a combined won-lost record of 26-9. Other hurlers are Charlie Johnson, 8-2, with Fair Park; Ed Thomas, who posted a 6-2 mark for Nicholls, and West Jefferson ace, Lou Blanda, 5-4 on the season. All four are right-handers.

EXTRA HONORS

Jones and Staub, whose teams met in the finals of the Triple-A playoffs, were seleteed as co-winners of the outstanding player honor while Kevin Trower, who guided Jesuit to the state championship, was named the division's "Coach-of-the-Year."

Another Blue Jay choice was outfielder-pitcher Pat Screen, who batted .368 in addition to a 10-4 mound mark.

Besides the state finalists, three other schools, De La Salle, Bolton and Fair Park, placed two players on the all-star squad while in addition to Nicholls and West Jefferson, other schools with one representative include Baton Rouge High, West Monroe and Bossier City.

Melito and jack-of-all-trades Allan Montreuil, who nailed down one of the team's utility berths without opposition, are the two selections from De La Salle, which battled Jesuit down to the wire in District 5-AAA.

BOLTON CLAIMING TWO SPOTS

Ousted by Istrouma in the semifinals, Bolton also claimed neutDsse s.apltiwhlboedoiremhrot semifinals. Bolton also claimed two berths—outfielder Despino, a Jessie James on the basepaths, and utility man Bob Stewart, the Bears regular shortstop.

Besides their prowess at the plate, the two catchers, Phil Johnson and Melito, were considered excellent defensive men. Melito, in particular, was touch on base stealers, allowing but two thefts during the season.

Johnson led for the RBI leadership in 1-AAA with 22 and collected 24 safeties.

Only a junior, Vaughn was the only pitcher to beat Jesuit in the playoffs. He stopped the Jays, 4-2, on five hits before losing a 3-2 heartbreaker which decided the series. Big Jack had amazing control, walking but 10 men in 57 and two-thirds innings of regular-season competition.

Despite an early-season injury, Charlie Johnson, a repeater from last year's all-state team, posted a 1.10 ERA, striking out 87 batters in 64 innings.

Thomas, who won six straight games after losing his first two starts, whiffed 65 and walked but 14 in 48 stanzas. At the plate, he hit a robust .448 with 13 safeties in 29 times at bat.

Blanda gave up but five earned runs in 52 frames and sported the staff's best ERA mark, 0.96.

One of two Louisiana prep stars that Ted Williams came south to view, Staub was the Jesuit slugger and a classy fielder around the initial sack. It was his home run that started the Jays towards an 11-4 win over Istrouma in the second game of their playoff series.

Second sacker Clifton numbered 35 hits, 20 stolen bases, 22 RBI's and 13 runs among his accomplishments, while third baseman Dykes, a good hitter and fielder of West Monroe in runs batted in with his .439 plate record.

Jones gathered 20 hits in 57 at bats for Istrouma's state finalists. He had 11 extrabase blows, including seven three-baggers and two homers, and plated 13 runs during the regular season.

Noted for his catch hitting, Chatelain counted 10 doubles among his 19 hits and batted in 13 runs while scoring 12. He was the only member of the BRHS team to hit over .300.

A unanimous pick for the all-state football squad, Screen gained another honor when selected for the team as outfielder. In addition to a fine .368 batting mark, the Jay grid ace posted

OPEN LA-ARK PLAY

Sports-Ruston To Meet Here Today

The Twin-City Sports lift the lid on their 1961 La-Ark campaign by taking on last year's champ Ruston in Legion Stadium here tonight starting at 7:45 p.m.

Starting on the mound, according to manager Vivian Petty, will be Fred Southerland from LSU, a former Neville High ace. Southerland was hampered by a sore foot in the Tiger's rise to the SEC title this spring, but Petty believes he is now ready to go.

Behind the plate will be Kelton Bacon of West Monroe, one of the big reasons behind Louisiana Tech's acquisition of title number four in a row.

Northeast State college will contribute George Bryan on first, and Eddie McGowan at second. Francis Genusa or ex-Northeast baseballer Red Rushing will hold down third, while Ike McMallin, a Ouachita and Northeast diamond man is slated for duty at third.

10 pitching victories for Coach Trower.

Also a track sprinter, Despino, who stole six bases during the playoffs with Istrouma, hit well over .300 and was another regular from last year's team.

The utility men, considered just as important as the other members of the team by the selectors, are Montreuil and Stewart.

While playing both he batted and outfield, Montreuil hit an even .300. Additionally, he won five of seven pitching decisions.

"Allan is one of the finest ball players in the state," says his coach Johnny Mobley. "Due to a pitching shortage, we had to use him and he helped us on the mound and put us in the district playoff with Jesuit."

Stewart sported a .360 slugging average with one homer, two triples, seven doubles and 14 RBI's. A junior, he will be back with Bolton again next season.

BASTROP, FARMERVILLE FALL

Monroe, Ruston In Legion Wins

Monroe's American Legion baseball crew continued its winning ways here yesterday afternoon by slopping hard - trying Bastrop, 6-3.

The Brown - Rivers - Scoggin outfit played a perfect game in the field, committing no errors, used a big fourth inning and six Bastrop errors to hold on to victory.

The locals big inning came the fourth time around, after back-to-back singles by Carl Guinn and Charlie Biggar. An error by the first baseman Whitworth allowed Guinn and Biggar to move into scoring position and a booming double to deep left field by centerfielder Ralph Roberts brought them both in for the first two Monroe runs. Lynn Causey scored on an error by Bastrop shortstop Head and Roberts stole home from third base to complete the scoring in the fourth inning.

Bastrop scored all of their runs in the third frame. Monroe pitcher Randall Fallin issued free passes to three Bastrop batters and was relieved by Ronnie Factor. James Chann lined out a single on Factor to score Cox with the first run for Bastrop. Whitworth drove in the other two runs with a double to left field. Lynn Causey was called in from right field and pitched the local team out of further trouble.

Monroe's extra base blows were by Ralph Roberts in the fourth, a double, and by Joey McGinn in the sixth, a triple.

Next game for the Brown - Rivers - Scoggin team will be Monday, June 5th, when they travel to Ruston for their first game of the season with the T. L. James Contractors. Monroe now stands 2-0 in league play.

Ruston Wins 16-5

DUBACH, La. (Special) — Farmerville opened the 1961 La-Ark League baseball season last night with an easy 15-2 victory over Dubach. The winning pitcher for the Farmerville team was Bobby Lockwood. Fuller was tagged for the loss for Dubach.

Lockwood and Bob Albritton went three for three for the winners. For Dubach Maxwell Green, shortstop, collected two hits for four trips to the plate. Bill Britt was the leading hitter for the losers. The right fielder had two for three.

Farmerville was the only La-Ark League team in action last night. The Homer Oiler-Bastrop Barron game was postponed. The Twin City Sports will open their campaign tonight at Legion Field against Ruston, the defending La-Ark League champion.

OPEN LA-ARK PLAY

Sports-Ruston To Meet Here Today

The Twin-City Sports lift the lid on their 1961 La-Ark campaign by taking on last year's champ Ruston in Legion Stadium here tonight starting at 7:45 p.m.

Starting on the mound, according to manager Vivian Petty, will be Fred Southerland from LSU, a former Neville High ace. Southerland was hampered by a sore foot in the Tiger's rise to the SEC title this spring, but Petty believes he is now ready to go.

Behind the plate will be Kelton Bacon of West Monroe, one of the big reasons behind Louisiana Tech's acquisition of title number four in a row.

Northeast State college will contribute George Bryan on first, and Eddie McGowan at second. Francis Genusa or ex-Northeast baseballer Red Rushing will hold down third, while Ike McMullin, a Ouachita and Northeast diamond man is slated for duty at third.

Farmerville Opens La-Ark With Victory

RUSTON La. (Special) — Firstsacker Arnold Ramsey got four hits in four trips and drove in five runs as Ruston came from behind to shell Farmerville 16-5 after a late start in American Legion ball here last night. Farmerville jumped to a 5-0 lead in the first one and a half innings, but Ruston roared back, doing most of their damage on six and four run sprees in the third and fifth.

Farmerville used four hurlers, unsuccessfully, to stem the tide. It was Ruston's second win against no losses in this year's play.

Dickinson Keeps Memphis Open Link Superiority

MEMPHIS (AP)—Lanky Gardner Dickinson, swinging in a gold-plated groove, boomed to a seven stroke lead in the $30,000 Memphis Open golf tournament Friday with a 5-under-par 65.

The handsome one-time protege of the famed Ben Hogan danced a happy little jig when his fifth birdie putt went in the cup on 15. He added another on 18 to log a 63-65—128, the lowest 36-hole total on the circuit this year.

The 120-pounder from Tequesta, Fla., who hasn't won a tournament since 1957, opened with a bogey and played with frowning concentration until his game turned with a birdie on 4. From there on he could do no wrong.

Don Whitt, who started this second round just a stroke behind Dickinson, sagged to a 33-38—71 over the 6,423 yard 34-36—70 Colonial Country Club course.

Two of Whitt's front nine birdies were offset by bogeys on 8 and 15. A bogey 4 on the short par-3 17th was the final blow, dropping him back to a six-man tangle at 135.

CARRY BACK SEEKS TRIPLE CROWN

Top Field Ready For Belmont Race

NEW YORK (AP)—Carry Back picked up a speedy playmate named Globemaster Friday, but remained a heavy favorite to win the $125,000-added Belmont Stakes and become the ninth horse to sweep the triple crown series for 3-year-olds.

With the Kentucky Derby and Preakness already locked in the vault, Carry Back is expected to be an odds-on choice at around 4 to 5 in the mile and one-half final jewel of the triple Saturday afternoon at Belmont Park.

However, owners and trainers of six of his eight rivals apparently need some more convincing. The six have been chasing Carry Back without success from Kentucky to Maryland, and now New York, and the Belmont stacks up as one of the best in many years.

Carry Back, owned by Mrs. Katherine Price of Miami and trained by her husband, Jack, rallied from 11th place to win the Derby May 6 in Louisville. Fifteen started in the Derby. Then on May 20 in Baltimore he threw another scare into his backers by charging up from next to last in a nine-horse field to grab the Preakness.

The loaded question is: Will the little ham actor character—one of the most popular horses in many a moon—be able to snatch the brass ring this time?

Your Woman's World

SOFTENING touches in the modern room here, designed by Harold Schwartz, give it a warm look that is a new note. Planting area by the window is rich, luxurious. A medley of colorful pillows makes a window seat of the step-up area which leads to an outdoor terrace. Small velvet stools and old, bent wood chairs are unexpectedly anachronistic notes. Colorful blue and green area rug of Spanish origin is another exciting accent.

Modern Decor Has Become More Mellow With Time

Modern decorating has acquired some new aspects in recent months which do much to relieve its original slick hardness. Even when the furniture is sharp in line and the backgrounds hard and uncluttered, some of these modern rooms have a gaiety and warmth that is eminently hospitable.

The white wall, though not doomed, is giving way to pale grays and creamy ivories which, because of the slight tint which colors them, seem easier on the eyes, and yet do not compete with the vivid and brilliant modern paintings which usually decorate them.

A profusion of plants rather than the single rubber plant or stiff philodendron is another modifying factor. Softer plants which trail and droop, bamboo for example, also contribute warmth, particularly because most of these newly popular plants are tropical in origin.

Piles of pillows, once thought too cozy in character for the intellectual, modern interior may now be found scattered about such a room where they add character and color. They may be tossed on the floor to invite casual sitting, set on a ledge to make a seat of a step or tossed on a sofa to make it look softer and more inviting.

The colorful, often intricately patterned area rug is still another ingredient which adds a surprise fillup to a simple modern room. Colorful weavings from all over the world are finding their place on hard tile floors where they shine like jewels in their simple settings. Some of them may be odd — Persians or Moroccans — others are colorful modern weavings made in Mexico or Spain or perhaps Scandanavia.

Old things, too, lend their pervasive charm to modern rooms. An old Indian lacquered screen can be at its best in modern surroundings. An 18th century Venetian chest, authentic or reproduced, may add just the right note from the past to give a sense of permanence to a room whose prime ingredients stem from the 20th century. Old crystal sconces on a wall may seem particularly enchanting, in a similar way, if hanging above a severe, marble - topped, metal - based contemporary console.

Bride Decides What Groom Will Wear

By FLORENCE de SANTIS

On one day at least, a wife dictates the choice of her husband's clothes, and that's the day she marries him. The bride decides whether she will have a daytime or evening wedding, whether she will wear a formal white gown, a semi - formal or day - type dress.

The groom then wears the outfit that tradition has declared best suits her choice of dress.

Daytime weddings include the hours from morning until 6 p.m.

If the bride wears a formal white gown, that is, full - length, the groom wears a morning coat, commonly called a cutaway, in dark gray or black, with striped trousers in two shades of gray.

With the cutaway is worn a waistcoat which either matches the coat or is made of white linen, pearl gray flannel or boxcloth.

The shirt is starched or pleated and has a separate collar, either the starched wing model or fold style. The wing collar calls for an ascot -style cravat in gray and silver pattern. Accessories are black silk socks, black polished calf shoes, black silk topper, gray gloves.

If the bride's gown is a short formal, the groom wears semi - formal day wear, with the jacket cut like a business suit, but in oxford gray or black. The homburg is the correct hat.

When the bride is married in a dressy day - type dress, colored instead of white, the groom may wear a regular business suit, in navy blue or oxford gray, whichever suits the color of the dress.

Mrs. Sewell Feted At Luncheon

On Friday, June 2, Mrs. Mullard Williams entertained with a luncheon complimentary to Mrs. Pat Sewell, who leaves Monroe Sunday, June 4 to spend the summer in New Orleans. The private dining room of the Paragon Club was the setting for the party. Before her marriage Mrs. Sewell was Miss Sandra Knowles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack N. Knowles. Covers were laid for a few close friends of the honoree.

Clintons Hosts At Brunch For School Faculty

On Saturday, May 27, between the hours of nine and eleven o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. W. David Clinton were hosts at a brunch for the active and the retired members of the Farmerville school faculty. Upon entering the lovely new home, guests were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Clinton and their daughter, Jean. Also present was Mrs. W. N. Reed, aunt of Mr. Clinton who was visiting from Magnolia, Ark.

The dining table was overlaid with an imported white linen cutwork cloth, and centered with a lovely arrangement of roses and Bells of Ireland. It was laden with a delectable array of refreshments. Alternating in presiding over the table were Mrs. S. J. Davis and Mrs. Ingram Ballard, who were assisted by Mrs. Blake Albritton, Mrs. E. J. Albritton, Mrs. Chiles Carpenter and Mrs. Frank Wilson.

Diamond Stockings

Diamonds for your legs, ma'am? Women's Wear Daily reports that $1,500 buys a pair of diamond - studded stockings. The pair is a promotion gimmick for a stocking maker. But if a buyer comes along, the jeweled stockings will be sold. The firm once brought out a $750 pair of stockings decorated with rubies, sapphires and a few diamonds. This also was a promotion stunt. But three pairs were sold — in Texas of course.

'Round The World Theme Of Party Honoring Grads

Hosts for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Sam House Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Dick Madden, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Townsend Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Madden who entertained at a progressive dinner on Friday night, May 26.

The setting was enhanced by appropriate signs such as "The Fleet's In" and "Cajun Cooking", highlighted by kerosene lamps. The refreshment table was spread with a pink cloth overlaid with black fish net centered with an arrangement of fruit in a black pottery container. The table skirts held a pilot's wheel. Iced shrimp, dip and crackers graced the refreshment table.

The Italian salad was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Townsend, Jr. where individual tables were set up in an imaginary vineyard where grape clusters hung from the ceiling. The tables were covered with red-checked cloths centered with straw - covered wine bottles holding candles. Favors were wooden salad bowls.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Madden, the main course of smoked turkey, rice and broccoli was served using Japan as the theme.

Japanese lanterns lighted the walk-way to the lake-side home and guests were greeted by Martha Madden and Betty Brasher who wore Japanese costumes.

The reception rooms were made festive with Japanese umbrellas which were presented as favors. The refreshment table held a scene featuring Japanese figurines driftwood and yellow lilies.

For dessert the group journeyed to Bellaggio Plantation where the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam House Jr., was transformed into the tropical isle of Hawaii.

Exotic fruits and plants carried out the tropical theme and coconut float and punch were served from a table covered with a pale pink damask cloth. The center piece was a tropical plant surrounded by fruit. Coffee was served in the living room where the focal point was an exotic arrangement of mammoth bamboo shoots and fruit.

Guests for the affair were the honorees and Dinah Lewis, Ann Bonner, Pat Fortenberry, Martha Russell, Claudia Terral, Joan Edwards, Peggy Madden, Gayle Grossman, Georgianne Townsend, Andrea Marcus, Tommy Madden, Betty Brasher, Martha Madden, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Grossman Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Marcus.

Open House To Be Held For Public

Open house at recently-organized Charmingdale Country club is scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, June 3 and 4, with varied activities scheduled throughout the weekend.

The public is invited and plans are underway for a gala weekend of swimming, dancing, golfing, horseback riding and other activities.

Recent Bride And Groom Feted With Open House

The lovely new home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Files, Sr., was the setting for an Open House honoring Mr. and Mrs. James E. Files, Jr., recent bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lanier, parents of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Files, Sr., of Oak Ridge, parents of the groom, on Sunday, May 28. Feteing the event with Mr. and Mrs. Files, was Miss Lucille Huffmond.

In the foyer of the home an antique table held the family Bible and a cut glass vase contained an arrangement of pink roses. Mrs. J. E. Files, Sr., Mrs. J. E. Files, Jr., Mr. Files, Mrs. Lanier, and Miss Lucille Huffman composed the receiving line. The ladies wore corsages of white dutch iris, petunias, and gardenias.

The focal point in the dining room was a side-board centered with a five - branch silver candelabra holding pink tapers, and an arrangement of pale pink and orchid gladioli and asters. The dining table was overlaid with a white imported cut work cloth, on which a single silver candelabra reposed. In the center of the table a hogarth curve was formed by pink roses, delphinium and leather leaf fern, sided by tall pink tapers. A silver punch bowl containing green punch, and silver trays holding an assortment of nuts, sandwiches, and confections, completed the appointment.

Mrs. Jack B. File and Mrs. M. T. Rester alternated at the punch bowl. Tea girls were Carolyn Files, Linda and Sheila Rester. Assisting with the courtesies were Mrs. T. R. Files, Mrs. George Files, Mrs. A. H. Files, Mrs. J. M. Files, and Mrs. Conrad McDuffie.

On the porch, where Mrs. T. R. Files assisted Mr. J. E. Files and Mr. Lanier in receiving guests, large baskets of asters and hydrangea completed the spring setting.

Approximately 100 guests from Oak Ridge called between the hours of 4 and 6 p.m. to meet Mr. and Mrs. Files Jr. Those attending from Monroe were: Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lanier, Mrs. M. T. Rester, Misses Linda and Sheila Rester, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Files, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Files, and Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor.

Garden Club Meets At Walker Home

The members of the Bayou DeSiard Garden Club met for their regular monthly meeting on Wednesday, May 31, at the home of Mrs. Alfred Ware, to begin their annual tour of gardens. The tour included the yards of Mrs. H. W. Tolson and Mrs. R. D. Farr. From there the members assembled back at the home of Mrs. Walker for refreshments and the business meeting.

The entrance hall of the Walker home was decorated with magnolias, and the den, where the guests were seated, contained a lovely arrangement of calendulas. In the dining room, the tea table was most attractive with an arrangement of red roses. A large silver punch bowl graced the opposite end of the table, and trays of cookies, compotes of nuts, and mints completed the tea table. Throughout the other rooms were unusual bouquets of spring flowers.

Club members attending the meeting were: Mrs. Lucien A. Branch, Mrs. Dan Cox, Mrs. H. E. Dixon, Mrs. P. N. Edwards, Mrs. R. D. Farr, Mrs. R. T. Farr Jr., Mrs. E. J. Foster, Mrs. Cruisman Gillette, Mrs. John Harris, Mrs. J. D. Kelly, Mrs. Marcus Mapp, Mrs. John McCarter, Mrs. James Padgett, Mrs. Barney Pate, Mrs. Jack Rushing, Mrs. A. H. Smith, Mrs. H. W. Tolson, Mrs. Carl Walker, Mrs. George Walker, and Mrs. Alfred Ware. Guests present were Mrs. Amos Seamster, Mrs. H. J. Lary, and Mrs. Frank Welder. Assisting with the courtesies with Mrs. Walker were Mrs. Mac Masee.

PECHGLO PANTIE SALE!

SOFTENING touches in the modern room here, designed by Harold Schwartz, give it a warm look that is a new note. Planting area by the window is rich, luxurious. A medley of colorful pillows makes a window seat of the step-up area which leads to an outdoor terrace. Small velvet stools and old, bent wood chairs are unexpectedly anachronistic notes. Colorful blue and green area rug of Spanish origin is another exciting accent.

Modern Decor Has Become More Mellow With Time

Modern decorating has acquired some new aspects in recent months which do much to relieve its original slick hardness. Even when the furniture is sharp in line and the backgrounds hard and uncluttered, some of these modern rooms have a gaiety and warmth that is eminently hospitable.

The white wall, though not doomed, is giving way to pale grays and creamy ivories which, because of the slight tint which colors them, seem easier on the eyes, and yet do not compete with the vivid and brilliant modern paintings which usually decorate them.

A profusion of plants rather than the single rubber plant or stiff philodendron is another modifying factor. Softer plants which trail and droop, bamboo for example, also contribute warmth, particularly because most of these newly popular plants are tropical in origin.

Piles of pillows, once thought too cozy in character for the intellectual, modern interior may now be found scattered about such a room where they add character and color. They may be used on the floor to invite casual sitting, set on a ledge to make a seat of a step or tossed on a sofa to make it look softer and more inviting.

The colorful, often intricately patterned area rug is still another ingredient which adds a surprise fillup to a simple modern room. Colorful weavings from all over the world are finding their place on hard tile floors where they shine like jewels in their simple settings. Some of them may be odd — Persians or Moroccans — others are colorful modern weavings made in Mexico or Spain or perhaps Scandanavia.

Old things, too, lend their pervasive charm to modern rooms. An old Indian lacquered screen can be at its best in modern surroundings. An 18th century Venetian chest, authentic or reproduced, may add just the right note from the past to give a sense of permanence to a room whose prime ingredients stem from the 20th century. Old crystal sconces on a wall may seem particularly enchanting, in a similar way, if hanging above a severe, marble - topped, metal - based contemporary console.

Bride Decides What Groom Will Wear

By FLORENCE de SANTIS

On one day at least, a wife dictates the choice of her husband's clothes, and that's the day she marries him. The bride decides whether she will have a daytime or evening wedding, whether she will wear a formal white gown, a semi - formal or day - type dress.

The groom then wears the outfit that tradition has declared best suits her choice of dress.

Daytime weddings include the hours from morning until 6 p.m. If the bride wears a formal white gown, that is, full - length, the groom wears a morning coat, commonly called a cutaway, in dark gray or black, with striped trousers in two shades of gray.

With the cutaway is worn a waistcoat which either matches the coat or is made of white linen, pearl gray flannel or boxcloth.

The shirt is starched or pleated and has a separate collar, either the starched wing model or fold style. The wing collar calls for an ascot -style cravat in gray and silver pattern. Accessories are black silk socks, black polished calf shoes, black silk topper, gray gloves.

If the bride's gown is a short formal, the groom wears semi - formal day wear, with the jacket cut like a business suit, but in oxford gray or black. The homburg is the correct hat.

When the bride is married in a dressy day - type dress, colored instead of white, the groom may wear a regular business suit, in navy blue or oxford gray, whichever suits the color of the dress.

Mrs. Sewell Feted At Luncheon

On Friday, June 2, Mrs. Milliard Williams entertained with a luncheon complimentary to Mrs. Pat Sewell, who leaves Monroe Sunday, June 4 to spend the summer in New Orleans. The private dining room of the Paragon Club was the setting for the party. Before her marriage Mrs. Sewell was Miss Sandra Knowles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack N. Knowles. Covers were laid for a few close friends of the honoree.

Clintons Hosts At Brunch For School Faculty

On Saturday, May 27, between the hours of nine and eleven o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. W. David Clinton were hosts at a brunch for the active and the retired members of the Farmerville school faculty. Upon entering the lovely new home, guests were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Clinton and their daughter, Jean. Also present was Mrs. W. N. Reed, aunt of Mr. Clinton who was visiting from Magnolia, Ark.

The dining table was overlaid with an imported white linen cutwork cloth, and centered with a lovely arrangement of roses and Bells of Ireland. It was laden with a delectable array of refreshments. Alternating in presiding over the table were Mrs. S. J. Davis and Mrs. Ingram Ballard, who were assisted by Mrs. Blake Albritton, Mrs. E. J. Albritton, Mrs. Chiles Carpenter and Mrs. Frank Wilson.

Diamond Stockings

Diamonds for your legs, ma'am? Women's Wear Daily reports that $1,500 buys a pair of diamond - studded stockings. The pair is a promotion gimmick for a stocking maker. But if a buyer comes along, the jeweled stockings will be sold. The firm once brought out a $750 pair of stockings decorated with rubies, sapphires and a few diamonds. This also was a promotion stunt. But three pairs were sold — in Texas of course.

'Round The World Theme Of Party Honoring Grads

Hosts for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Sam House Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Dick Madden, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Townsend Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Madden who entertained at a progressive dinner on Friday night, May 26.

The setting was enhanced by appropriate signs such as :"The Fleet's In" and "Cajun Cooking", highlighted by kerosene lamps. The refreshment table was spread with a pink cloth overlaid with black fish net centered with an arrangement of fruit in a black pottery container. The table skirts held a pilot's wheel. The public is invited and plans are underway for a gala weekend of swimming, dancing, golfing, horseback riding and other activities.

Recent Bride And Groom Feted With Open House

The lovely new home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Files, Sr., was the setting for an Open House honoring Mr. and Mrs. James E. Files, Jr., recent bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lanier, parents of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Files, Sr., of Oak Ridge, parents of the groom, on Sunday, May 28. Feteing the event with Mr. and Mrs. Files, was Miss Lucille Huffmond.

In the foyer of the home an antique table held the family Bible and a cut glass vase contained an arrangement of pink roses. Mrs. J. E. Files, Sr., Mrs. J. E. In the family room were massive arrangements of yellow, bronze, and red day lilies in white urns. A table held a white metal cart filled with snapdragons, raintree blooms, petunias and glads.

On the porch, where Mrs. T. R. Files assisted Mr. J. E. Files and Mr. Lanier in receiving guests, large baskets of asters and hydrangea completed the spring setting.

Approximately 100 guests from Oak Ridge called between the hours of 4 and 6 p.m. to meet Mr. and Mrs. Files Jr. Those attending from Monroe were: Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lanier, Mrs. M. T. Rester, Misses Linda and Sheila Rester, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Files, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Files, and Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor.

This Letter Set Off Heated Family Argument

Dear Ann Landers: We have a swimming pool and I don't like some of the neighborhood and the [illegible] owner calls many of the women customers "Dot" [illegible] "sweetie" and other pet names. He has called my wife "honey" [illegible]

YOUR PROBLEMS

This Letter Set Off Heated Family Argument

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: We have a store in our neighborhood and the owner calls many of the women customers "Doll," "Honey," "Sweetie" and other such names. He has called my wife "Sugar" in my presence and I don't like it.

Am I wrong to object? My wife says she doesn't like him to get so chummy either but she's afraid to say anything for fear of hurting his feelings. The owner's wife calls the male customers 'Good-lookin'" and so on which leads me to think that they are just informal people with poor taste.

Will you give your opinion of this in print? I know other customers must feel as we do. —ANNOYED

Dear Annoyed: I'm sure the store owner and his wife mean only to be friendly. If you and your wife prefer that he call you Mr. and Mrs. then say so.

Dear Ann Landers: Your letter about women appearing in bars and cocktail lounges unescorted set off a heated discussion in our family.

My sister-in-law insists that the same holds true for women who go to restaurants alone in the evening. I say a woman can go to a respectable hotel dining room or a high-type restaurant for dinner, unescorted and not be considered fair game for romantic males. As a matter of fact, being an unmarried career girl, I enjoy such an evening about twice a week.

I'm sure my sister-in-law meant to cast some shadow of doubt on my character when she went off on this tangent. Her words were, "I'm positive Ann Landers meant to put lone female diners in the same category with babes who rivet themselves to barstools."

How about this, Ann? —SPARKS FLYING

Dear Flying: I meant no such thing. People go to restaurants to dine. They go to cocktail lounges to drink or to find company. A wolf on the prowl will not search in a restaurant or hotel dining room—he'll head for the cocktail lounge or the hotel's bar.

Dear Ann Landers: I want to thank you for one dozen beautiful red roses. Let me explain, in case you think I've slipped a cog:

Several weeks ago you said something in your column about women picking up after untidy husbands. You wrote: "It's not worth fighting over. If your husband is the sloppy type, you're not going to change him. If he's neat, consider yourself lucky, and —send his mother a dozen roses."

My daughter-in-law sent me a dozen roses with your column attached . . . and I want to thank you. —MRS. H. D.

Dear Mrs. H. D.: It's always fun to hear about the interesting things that happen out in Reader-Land as a result of something that appeared in the column. I appreciate it when readers take a minute out of their busy lives to keep me posted. I call these little notes "Day Brighteners." Many thanks.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "Left Field": You're lucky to be in the ball park. My honest opinion is that she's much too good for you.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "High and Dry": I suspect you were higher than you were dry when you wrote that letter. Please write again when you can think more clearly.

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for "Ann Landers'" booklet, "Necking and Petting—And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

DEAR ABBY

Bride-To-Be Too Young If Wants Mom On Trip

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I asked a girl (she is 17) to marry me, and she said yes. I am 22. She is a very good girl and I never made one wrong move toward her. We plan to get married this summer when I get my two weeks' vacation. We decided to take a drive through the Canadian Rockies. She asked me yesterday if I minded if her mother came along to help drive. I never heard of a mother going along on a honeymoon but, knowing this girl is very close to her mother (she is a widow), I said I thought it would be okay. Now I realize it is way out of line and I wonder if maybe I shouldn't tell her I changed my mind? How do I get out of this situation, please? —SPOKE TOO FAST

DEAR SPOKE: Your "bride" appears to be very young indeed. In fact, I think she is too young to leave her mother. You'd be wise to get to know her better before signing a lifelong contract.

DEAR ABBY: I have known this friend of mine for years. I got the shock of my life when she and I went shopping together. I noticed she shied away from me, and when I looked up I saw her take something off the counter and quickly slip it into a sack she was carrying. I was so frightened I got her out of that store as fast as I could. Later, when I got the chance, I looked in her sack and there it was.

Am I as guilty as she for not reporting her? What should I have done? Now I am afraid to go anywhere with her or even let her in my house unless I can watch her every minute. Please advice me. —WORRIED STIFF

DEAR WORRIED: You did your friend a disservice by keeping quiet. She is either sick (kleptomania) and needs treatment, or she is a common thief. In any case you should have told her you saw her take the item and helped her to right the wrong.

DEAR ABBY: How does a respectable, middleaged, childless couple make friends? We are not social climbers, but we would like to have a nice circle of friends to socialize with. My husband and I are educated people, dress well, have a lovely home and are modern in every way. But we can't seem to make friends. We have entertained people, but they never seem to invite us back. Have you any suggestions? —OUT OF IT

DEAR OUT: Instead of trying to cultivat "friends"—try doing something rewarding and constructive, and friends will appear. Get active in church work, politics, a civic project, or a volunteer group. The most attractive people are always found doing something for the less fortunate.

French See First Lady In Paris Hat

PARIS (UPI) —Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy said her official adieu to France Friday night and, in a fashion sense, her farewell was one of the most dramatic occasions of her visit.

For the first time, in Europe at least, America's First Lady wore a hat that not only covered her hair but part of her face as well. It was a white cloche-style hat, far removed from the pillboxes which perch on the back of her head.

With the hat, Mrs. Kennedy wore a well-cut wool coat of deep strawberry pink. The overall effect was stunning.

Mrs. Kennedy's press aides were so secretive about the hat and coat that it was regarded as almost certain they were no part of the made-in-America wardrobe she was expected to wear here. Later, they disclosed the hat was a Givenchy of Paris creation.

"We are not mentioning the nationality of the coat," said one aide. But fashion experts thought it also was by Givenchy.

Mrs. Kennedy "defected" from American fashions Thursday night to wear a gown by Givenchy at the gala at Versailles. Otherwise she has remained loyal to American designers.

Before leaving to join President Kennedy at the official departure ceremonies on the grounds of the Elysee Palace, Mrs. Kennedy made a "thank you" speech in French to the republican guard, unofficially dubbed the democratic guard during the Kennedy visit.

She explained that her husband was with President Charles de Gaulle and that she spoke in his behalf. She complimented the colorful guardsmen for their participation in the public events during the three-day stay.

Gen. Eisenhower Voices Approval Of Vienna Meet

NEW YORK (UPI) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, on his first visit to New York since he left the White House, Friday voiced approval of the Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting in Vienna.

"It's a good thing for natonal heads to get to know each other," he told newsmen at a brief conference marking the start of a two-day stay here.

His arrival by train from Washington with Mrs. Eisenhower made New York host to the three living former presidents. Harry S. Truman and Herbert Hoover were staying within a short distance of the Park Lane Hotel, where the Eisenhowers checked in.

The three former presidents had no plans to see each other.

Eisenhower said he is looking forward to a leisurely round of private meetings and sightseeing.

School Option Law Attacked In Court Brief

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Atty. Gen. William Clark of Illinois Friday attacked Louisiana laws which permit people of a particular section to decide by referendum to close public schools.

Clark said in a statement it was a dodge to avoid integration.

He said, "if the principle behind this legislation is upheld in Louisiana it might well be upheld later in Illinois either for a similar or for an entirely different purpose."

He filed a brief with the United States district court for the Eastern District of Louisiana. He filed as a friend of the court and at the court's request.

His brief contends that the Louisiana Legislature violated the "due process" clause of the federal constitution. The brief said the effect would be to deny the children of the state equal protection of the law.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Baby Teeth Come Out When Child Is About Six

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

"Dear Mrs. Eldred:

"When do the baby teeth loosen? I have heard that baby teeth do not loosen until they decay and then they rot out. Is this true?" Mrs. W. S.

Mercy no. Somesone has fed you a most preposterous idea about teeth. The baby teeth begin to fall out at about six years of age. They come out in about the same order as they came in, the two lower and four upper teeth first and then the molars and canines.

When there is decay in a child's tooth, even if it is a baby one, it should be filled with a temporary filling so that it will be preserved until it is ready to come out. This "holds" a place for the permanent tooth.

Pulled

Teeth don't literally "fall" out, sometimes they have to be pulled when they become loose and wobbly in the mouth. As children often are reluctant to allow this ceremony, the mother may have to be generous with caramels and other sticky foods hoping they will do the onerous job.

Once the tooth is out the child will be proud to put it under his pillow at night so the "fairies" will find it and leave a small, silver coin in its place. This is one of those nice, universal customs which increases the child's desire to get rid of a loose tooth for the monetary benefits.

Incidentally, all of the 20 baby teeth may not be lost until the child's 13th or 14th year.

Any reader who needs or wants a personal answer to her questions should include a stamped, self-addressed envelope. This is for my convenience in returning the answers to her. Otherwise the letter must be published in the column.

Mrs. P., I know you wanted a personal answer but did not give me your addrses. You should have no difficulty at all in getting rid of your daughter's half-worn clothes. Talk to the teacher in one of your older children's classes.

She would know mothers in her room who would be grateful for them. Talk to your minister or apply to the Y. W. C. A. or to any of the character - building groups, Boy or Girl Scouts, Blue birds, etc.

I can appreciate your desire to have some child make use of these nice clothes and I know if you keep your eyes and ears open the opportunities will present themselves. (Readers: Please do not write telling me you could use clothes. This mother may be thousands of miles from you.)

If you would like to have our 25 - cent booklet, "The School Child's Food and Food Habits," send 25 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

LARGEST GRANT YET

$2.23 Billion Aid Pledged To India

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, five other nations and the World Bank Friday pledged $2.23 billion in economic aid to help India launch her third five-year plan.

It was the largest commitment of economic aid every made by a group of Western nations to a single country.

At the end of a three-day meeting at the World Bank, the group of six nations—who call themselves the Aid India Club—agreed to make $1.30 billion available during the next 12 months and $930 million the year after that.

The commitments are subject to appropriate action by the congresses and parliaments of the countries in the group. The World Bank listed the commitments, mostly long-term, low-interest loans, as:

Canada, $56 million, an increase of $20 million over its original offer in April; France, $30 million; Germany, $364 million, an increase of about $100 million over last April; Japan, $80 million; the United Kingdom, $250 million, an increase of $46 million; the United States, $1.5 billion, and the World Bank and International Development Association, $400 million.

Last April, the United States made a surprise offer of $1 billion over the next two years if the other nations would match this amount.

U.S. officials were highly gratified that the funds were more than matched for the first year of the plan. The commitments for the second year fell short by $220 million.

Another meeting of the Aid India Club will be held next fall in an effort to consider what further resources might be made available.

U.S. officials said it is hoped that other countries will join the club. There were indications that Italy, the Netherlands, Austria, Denmark, Norway and Sweden will be asked to participate in the Indian aid program.

Negro Man, 57, Crossing Street Is Hit By Car

A 57-year-old Negro man was dragged approximately 15 feet Friday night when he was hit by an auto as he ran across Grammont Street, Monroe police reports showed.

He was hit by a vehicle driven by Thomas Murphy, 31, of Route One, Sterlington

Witnesses said the man ran into the side of the vehicle. A witness, Henry Wilson, of Tony's Alley, said Jackson was talking to him before he ran into the street.

Downtown Area Program Slated For Merchants

A program for the Greater Monroe Downtown area will be announced to local merchants this month, prior to acceptances by the Chamber of Commerce.

Operations will begin on July 1, according to George Rorex, chairman of the Greater Monroe Downtown Division of the Chamber.

He said Friday that subcommittees will report to the downtown steering committee at a 7 a.m. meeting on Monday, June 12.

One week later, a mass meeting of retail merchants from the downtown area will meet with the steering committee at the Virginia Hotel at 2:30 p.m., to hear what is proposed.

June 26, the Chamber will present the program to associated members, wholesalers, finance companies, discount houses in downtown Monroe.

U.S. Unveils Lounge For Air Travelers

CHANTILLY, Va. (AP) — The Federal Aviation Agency unveiled Friday a mobile passenger lounge for the air traveler of the future.

It is intended to carry passengers between the Dulles Terminal — now under construction — and the airplane parking areas as much as three miles away.

Capable of carrying 90 persons on each run, the 54-foot-long wheeled waiting room is designed to increase passenger convenience and reduce the walking required at this first airport designed for the jet age from the ground up.

If the vehicle proves to be useful and reliable, the FAA plans to order 20 initially and may require 50 by the time the new airport is in full operation, now scheduled for the fall of 1962.

The Chrysler Corp., contractor for the lounge, and the Budd Co., main subcontractor for body construction, say the machine is the largest passenger-carrying vehicle ever operated on rubber tires.

About 17.5 feet tall and 16 feet wide it compares in size to eight intercity buses arranged two abreast and two buses high.

Negro Youth, 3, Hurt In Mishap

A three-year-old Negro boy, Benny Ray Reed, of 1700 Grammont St., was hit by an automobile Friday evening and taken to E. A. Conway Memorial Hospital for treatment.

Police said the car was driven by Sam Jacobs Jr., 61, of 104 S. 28th St.

Boys' Club To Operate Youth Camp

Applications now are being taken for attendance at a two-week youth camp which will be operated this summer near Volman Lake by the West Monroe Boys' Club, it was announced Friday at a meeting of the organization's directors.

Slated to begin late in June or early July, the camp will accent a full round of outdoor activities for eligible West Monroe youngsters up to the age of 14, a club spokesman said. Operating out of facilities formerly employed by Monroe Jaycees in a similar program, play will be supervised by a director in constant attendance.

Applications should be referred to Boys' Club officers, Lake Oxford, John McCormick, Eugene Scott and Harold Roberts, or to Buster Crowley, head of a committee set up to administer the camp.

Directors last week underwrote a budget of $1,000 for the summer operation, which is in addition to normal local functions which will be undertaken by the newly-formed group later in the year.

Indications are that the camp may be continued from year to year if initial responses prove favorable, board members have stated.

Also at Thursday's session, directors tore into a proposed budget for 1962, it's first full year of activity. Deadline for submission of a finalized schedule of expenses to representatives of the parish United Givers Fund is June 7, it was pointed out.

Debate Opens In Senate On Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate opened debate on an administration-backed $6.1 billion catch-all housing bill Friday with opponents attacking key features of the measure.

Several non-controversial amendments were approved by voice vote. Roll-call votes were deferred until Wednesday on major changes proposed for the big measure, one of President Kennedy's priority domestic programs.

One amendment approved, sponsored by Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., would extend the G.I. home loan guarantee program for World War II veterans until July 25, 1967, and for Korean conflict veterans until Jan. 31, 1975.

Under this program, the Veterans Administration underwrites loans of up to $7,500 for veterans' housing. This would be in addition to the bill's existing provision for $1.2 billion in direct federal loans to veterans for rural housing.

Litt Out VA Section

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., floor manager for the bill said the entire VA section would be lifted out after the measure was passed and tacked on to a pending House-passed veterans aid bill. This would reduce the price tag on the overall housing bill to $4.9 billion.

Another non-controversial amendment, sponsored by Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., also was approved. It would make small private and cooperative water facilities eligible for loans under the public facilities program.

Sen. Homer E. Capehart, R-Ind., offered two major amendments aimed at eliminating or sharply reducing provisions of the bill. One would kill the administration's plan for 40-year no-down payment mortgages for housing for moderate income families. The other would whittle down federally-insured home improvement loans to a maximum of $7,000 for 15 years.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N. Y., introduced an amendment in the nature of a substitute for the 40-year no-down-payment mortgage feature. It was co-sponsored by Sen. Prescott Bush, R-Conn.

Shoplift Spree Ends In Arrest Of Negro Youth

The youth was identified as Patrick Hunter, 17, of 51 A Tex., Ave., Monroe.

Light Earthquake Jars Coast Cities

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A light earthquake jarred Oakland and San Francisco Friday night at about 9:02 p.m. PDT. There were no immediate reports of damage.

In both cities the quake was described as a single jolt lasting only a few seconds. Some callers to newspapers reported they heard a rumble just preceding the quake. They said it sounded like a far away explosion.

AT ALEXANDRIA

Crime Spree Brings 5-Year Sentences

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP)—Two young Canadians, wanted in several states on charges ranging from theft to armed robbery, drew five-year prison terms in U.S. District Court here Friday.

District Judge Edwin F. Hunter passed sentence on Allan David Graveline, 22, and Allan Dahlberg, also 22. They pleaded guilty to inter-state transportation of a stolen auto and illegal entry into the U.S. from Canada. The two said they were from Winnipeg and Calvary, Canada.

U.S. District Attorney T. Fitzhugh Wilson told the court the pair had admitted to two armed robberies in New Orleans and detainers had been placed on them for crimes of which they are suspected in other states.

They were apprehended in Crowley May 6 after driving a stolen car from North Dakota to Louisiana.

18 Generals In Air Force Reassigned

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House Friday announced a major shake-up in the Air Force high command with 18 generals to be reassigned and seven retired.

The changes are a follow-up of the appointment of Gen. Curtis E. LeMay as new Air Force chief of staff.

The reassignments were approved by President Kennedy and involve 13 promotions. The retirements are because of age.

Gen. Samuel E. Anderson, commander of the Air Force logistics command will become air deputy to the Supreme Allied Commander Gen. Lauris Norstad, in Europe. He will replace Gen. Leon W. Johnson who has been placed on the retirement list.

The President nominated Lt. Gen. Truman H. Landon, to be promoted to the rank of general and to become commander-in-chief of the American air forces in Europe. He will replace Gen. Frederic H. Smith, the new vice chief of staff whose appointment already has been announced.

Lt. Gen. Francis H. Griswold, vice commander-in-chief of the Strategic Air Command (SAC) was assigned to be commandant of the National War College. The top job at the college rotates among the Air Force, Navy and Army. Griswold replaces Army Lt. Gen. Thomas L. Harrold.

Lt. Gen. John P. McConnell, now commander of the Second Air Force Strategic Air Command, will succeed Griswold as vice commander-in-chief of SAC.

Lt. Gen. W. Mundy, now commandt of the Industrial College of the Armed Forces, will become commander-in-chief of the Alaskan Command. He succeeds Lt. Gen. Frank A. Armstrong Jr., who will be retired.

Lt. Gen. Robert W. Burns, commander of U. S. forces in Japan and commander of the 5th Air Force in the Pacific, has been reassigned as chairman of the Inter-American Defense Board. The job rotates among the services. He replaces Army Lt. Gen. Lemuel Mathewson.

West Monroyan Hurt In Rodeo

Bobby Claude Fuqua, 23, of West Monroe was confined at St. Francis Hospital last night after sustaining injuries when thrown by a horse in a rodeo at Bastrop.

COUNTERFEIT ROCK 'N' ROLL

HACKENSACK, N.J. (UPI) — Two businessmen were sentenced to jail and a third was fined $1,500 Friday for selling counterfeit rock 'n' roll records. They were accused of selling bogus records of "Ding A Ling", sung by Bobby Rydell, who testified before the grand jury which indicted the men.

Robert Arkin of the Bronx, New York, was given two concurrent sentences of one to one and a half years in state prison and fined $1,000. He is president of Bonus Platta-Pak, Inc., Fort Lee, N.J.

Louisiana Oil Output Rate Is Defended

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Former Gov. Sam Jones of Louisiana vigorously defended Louisiana's crude oil production rate Friday after hearing pleas for equitable sharing of market demand by all oil producing states.

Jones said one of the pleas made at the midyear meeting of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission implied Louisiana does not have a market demand proration statute for conservation of the crude oil.

He received permission from Gov. Price Daniel of Texas, the compact chairman, to make a "personal privilege" reply.

"We have a law to prorate to demand in Louisiana," he said. "We've grown considerably but we do not feel we have done considerable violence to market demand."

Jones said from 20 to 25 per cent of Louisiana's current production is from offshore areas the state is administering under a temporary agreement with the Interior Department.

"Louisiana at present doesn't get one penny income from the wells involved in the offshore dispute but those wells are expensive to drill and require special allowables," he said.

"Texas has done the best job of limiting production to market demand. "Texas, thank God, has held an umbrella over the oil industry but we in Louisiana have been manning the sea walls and going a job there on a problem that is great and intricate."

He said Louisiana the past three years has discovered 85 per cent of the nation's new proved crude reserves but has received only 11 per cent of increased market.

Louisiana is producing about 1,158,000 barrels of crude daily. Texas produces about 2,449,000 a day. Four years ago Louisian was producing 1,013,000 barrels a day. Texas 3,330,000

14 'Riders' Are Expelled By University

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Fourteen "Freedom Riders" were dismissed from Tennesse A. & I. University Friday and their sponsors were enjoined from sending additional bus riders to Alabama to test that state's segregation laws.

The discipline committee of A. & I. sent letters to the 14 telling them that as a result of their convictions at Jackson, Miss., they would be "denied the privilege or re-entering, continuing your education or entering graduate school" at the state Negro university.

It noted that the state board of education had a policy of dismissing students convicted of charges involving misconduct. Noting that they had appealed their convictions, the letter said their cases may be reconsidered if it develops that they have not violated the board's policy.

Although the letter stated that the 14 were placed on probation, State Education Commissioner Joe Morgan said he interpreted it as meaning they were dismissed from the Negro college.

Morgan said he approved the letter before the school sent it to the students.

Dog Chases Boy On Bicycle; Cause Of Mishap

A dog chasing a boy on a bicycle was blamed for an accident on Webster St. Friday resulting in injuries to the youth, police reports showed.

Injured was Patrick McHenry, 16, of 1600 McGuire, whose bicycle collided with an auto driven by James E. Blackmon Jr., 35, of 1515 McGuire.

Blackmon said McHenry's bike came down the street at him and that the youth was looking back. McHenry said he was looking behind him because a dog was chasing him.

He was treated for slight abrasions at St. Francis Hospital and released.

Negro Is Booked On Two Charges

Dorothy May Henderson, 25, Negro, 1207 College Ave., was booked Friday for theft and disturbing the peace.

Police said the woman was picked up at United Dollar Store and charged with attempting to steal two pairs of men's socks and one pair of women's stockings valued at $1.17.

$2.23 Billion Aid Pledged To India

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, five other nations and the World Bank Friday pledged $2.23 billion in economic aid to help India launch her third five-year plan.

It was the largest commitment of economic aid every made by a group of Western nations to a single country.

At the end of a three-day meeting at the World Bank, the group of six nations—who call themselves the Aid India Club—agreed to make $1.30 billion available during the next 12 months and $930 million the year after that.

The commitments are subject to appropriate action by the congresses and parliaments of the countries in the group. The World Bank listed the commitments, mostly long-term, low-interest loans, as:

Canada, $56 million, an increase of $20 million over its original offer in April; France, $30 million; Germany, $364 million, an increase of about $100 million over last April; Japan, $80 million; the United Kingdom, $250 million, an increase of $46 million; the United States, $1.5 billion, and the World Bank and International Development Association, $400 million.

Last April, the United States made a surprise offer of $1 billion over the next two years if the other nations would match this amount.

U.S. officials were highly gratified that the funds were more than matched for the first year of the plan. The commitments for the second year fell short by $220 million.

Another meeting of the AId India Club will be held next fall in an effort to consider what further resources might be made available.

U.S. officials said it is hoped that other countries will join the club. There were indications that Italy, the Netherlands, Austria, Denmark, Norway and Sweden will be asked to participate in the Indian aid program.

Negro Man, 57, Crossing Street Is Hit By Car

A 57-year-old Negro man was dragged approximately 15 feet Friday night when he was hit by an auto as he ran across Grammont Street, Monroe police reports showed.

He was hit by a vehicle driven by Thomas Murphy, 31, of Route One, Sterlington.

Witnesses said the man ran into the side of the vehicle. A witness, Henry Wilson, of Tony's Alley, said Jackson was talking to him before he ran into the street.

Downtown Area Program Slated For Merchants

A program for the Greater Monroe Downtown area will be announced to local merchants this month, prior to acceptances by the Chamber of Commerce.

Operations will begin on July 1, according to George Rorex, chairman of the Greater Monroe Downtown Division of the Chamber.

He said Friday that subcommittees will report to the downtown steering committee at a 7 a.m. meeting on Monday, June 12.

One week later, a mass meeting of retail merchants from the downtown area will meet with the steering committee at the Virginia Hotel at 2:30 p.m., to hear what is proposed.

June 26, the Chamber will present the program to associated members, wholesalers, finance companies, discount houses in downtown Monroe.

Landlords from the downtown area will hear the program at 2:30 p.m. on June 28.

U.S. Unveils Lounge For Air Travelers

CHANTILLY, Va. (AP) — The Federal Aviation Agency unveiled Friday a mobile passenger lounge for the air traveler of the future.

The huge air-conditioned vehicle, an airline waiting room on wheels, carried newsmen and photographers on a demonstration run at Dulles National Airport.

It is intended to carry passengers between the Dulles Terminal — now under construction — and the airplane parking areas as much as three miles away.

Capable of carrying 90 persons on each run, the 54-foot-long wheeled waiting room is designed to increase passenger convenience and reduce the walking required at this first airport designed for the jet age from the ground up.

If the vehicle proves to be useful and reliable, the FAA plans to order 20 initially and may require 50 by the time the new airport is in full operation, now scheduled for the fall of 1962.

The estimated cost of the lounges is about $240,000 each.

The Chrysler Corp., contractor for the lounge, and the Budd Co., main subcontractor for body construction, say the machine is the largest passenger-carrying vehicle ever operated on rubber tires.

About 17.5 feet tall and 16 feet wide it compares in size to eight intercity buses arranged two abreast and two buses high.

Negro Youth, 3, Hurt In Mishap

A three-year-old Negro boy, Benny Ray Reed, of 1700 Grammont St., was hit by an automobile Friday evening and taken to E. A. Conway Memorial Hospital for treatment.

Police said the car was driven by Sam Jacobs Jr., 61, of 104 S. 24th St.

Boys' Club To Operate Youth Camp

Applications now are being taken for attendance at a two-week youth camp which will be operated this summer near Volman Lake by the West Monroe Boys' Club, it was announced Friday at a meeting of the organization's directors.

Slated to begin late in June or early July, the camp will accent a full round of outdoor activities for eligible West Monroe youngsters up to the age of 14, a club spokesman said. Operating out of facilities formerly employed by Monroe Jaycees in a similar program, play will be supervised by a director in constant attendance.

Applications should be referred to Boys' Club officers, Lake Oxford, John McCormick, Eugene Scott and Harold Roberts, or to Buster Crowley, head of a committee set up to administer the camp.

Directors last week underwrote a budget of $1,000 for the summer operation, which is in addition to normal local functions which will be undertaken by the newly-formed group later in the year.

Indications are that the camp may be continued from year to year if initial responses prove favorable, board members have stated.

Also at Thursday's session, directors tore into a proposed budget for 1962, it's first full year of activity. Deadline for submission of a finalized schedule of expenses to representatives of the parish United Givers Fund is June 7, it was pointed out.

Debate Opens In Senate On Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate opened debate on an administration-backed $6.1 billion catch-all housing bill Friday with opponents attacking key features of the measure.

Several non-controversial amendments were approved by voice vote. Roll-call votes were deferred until Wednesday on major changes proposed for the big measure, one of President Kennedy's priority domestic programs.

One amendment approved, sponsored by Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., would extend the G.I. home loan guarantee program for World War II veterans until July 25, 1967, and for Korean conflict veterans until Jan. 31, 1975.

Under this program, the Veterans Administration underwrites loans of up to $7,500 for veterans' housing. This would be in addition to the bill's existing provision for $1.2 billion in direct federal loans to veterans for rural housing.

Lift Out VA Section

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., floor manager for the bill said the entire VA section would be lifted out after the measure was passed and tacked on to a pending House-passed veterans aid bill. This would reduce the price tag on the overall housing bill to $4.9 billion.

Another non-controversial amendment, sponsored by Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., also was approved. It would make small private and cooperative water facilities eligible for loans under the public facilities program.

Sen. Homer E. Capehart, R-Ind., offered two major amendments aimed at eliminating or sharply reducing provisions of the bill. One would kill the administration's plan for 40-year no-down payment mortgages for housing for moderate income families. The other would whittle down federally-insured home improvement loans to a maximum of $7,000 for 15 years.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N. Y., introduced an amendment in the nature of a substitute for the 40-year no-down-payment mortgage feature. It was co-sponsored by Sen. Prescott Bush, R-Conn.

Shoplift Spree Ends In Arrest Of Negro Youth

West Monroe police Friday booked a 17-year-old Negro youth on four counts of theft following a shoplifting spree in which the youth struck at four different West Monroe firms.

The youth was identified as Patrick Hunter, 17, of 51 A Tex., Ave., Monroe.

Light Earthquake Jars Coast Cities

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A light earthquake jarred Oakland and San Francisco Friday night at about 9:02 p.m. PDT. There were no immediate reports of damage.

In both cities the quake was described as a single jolt lasting only a few seconds. Some callers to newspapers reported they heard a rumble just preceding the quake. They said it sounded like a far away explosion.

AT ALEXANDRIA

Crime Spree Brings 5-Year Sentences

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP)—Two young Canadians, wanted in several states on charges ranging from theft to armed robbery, drew five-year prison terms in U.S. District Court here Friday.

District Judge Edwin F. Hunter passed sentence on Allan David Graveline, 22, and Allan Dahlberg, also 22. They pleaded guilty to inter-state transportation of a stolen auto and illegal entry into the U.S. from Canada. The two said they were from Winnipeg and Calvary, Canada.

U.S. District Attorney T. Fitzhugh Wilson told the court the pair had admitted to two armed robberies in New Orleans and detainers had been placed on them for crimes of which they are suspected in other states.

They were apprehended in Crowley May 6 after driving a stolen car from North Dakota to Louisiana.

18 Generals In Air Force Reassigned

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House Friday announced a major shake-up in the Air Force high command with 18 generals to be reassigned and seven retired.

The changes are a follow-up of the appointment of Gen. Curtis E. LeMay as new Air Force chief of staff.

The reassignments were approved by President Kennedy and involve 13 promotions. The retirements are because of age.

Gen. Samuel E. Anderson, commander of the Air Force logistics command will become air deputy to the Supreme Allied Commander Gen. Lauris Norstad, in Europe. He will replace Gen. Leon W. Johnson who has been placed on the retirement list.

The President nominated Lt. Gen. Truman H. Landon, to be promoted to the rank of general and to become commander-in-chief of the American air forces in Europe. He will replace Gen. Frederic H. Smith, the new vice chief of staff whose appointment already has been announced.

Lt. Gen. Francis H. Griswold, vice commander-in-chief of the Strategic Air Command (SAC) was assigned to be commandant of the National War College. The top job at the college rotates among the Air Force, Navy and Army. Griswold replaces Army Lt. Gen. Thomas L. Harrold.

Lt. Gen. John P. McConnell, now commander of the Second Air Force Strategic Air Command, will succeed Griswold as vice commander-in-chief of SAC.

Lt. Gen. W. Mundy, now commandt of the Industrial College of the Armed Forces, will become commander-in-chief of the Alaskan Command. He succeeds Lt. Gen. Frank A. Armstrong Jr., who will be retired.

Lt. Gen. Robert W. Burns, commander of U. S. forces in Japan and commander of the 5th Air Force in the Pacific, has been reassigned as chairman of the Inter-American Defense Board The job rotates among the services. He replaces Army Lt. Gen. Lemuel Mathewson.

West Monroyan Hurt In Rodeo

Bobby Claude Fuqua, 23, of West Monroe was confined at St. Francis Hospital last night after sustaining injuries when thrown by a horse in a rodeo at Bastrop.

COUNTERFEIT ROCK 'N' ROLL

HACKENSACK, N.J. (UPI) — Two businessmen were sentenced to jail and a third was fined $1,500 Friday for selling counterfeit rock 'n' roll records. They were accused of selling bogus records of "Ding A Ling", sung by Bobby Rydell, who testified before the grand jury which indicted the men.

Robert Arkin of the Bronx, New York, was given two concurrent sentences of one to one and a half years in state prison and fined $1,000. He is president of Bonus Platta-Pak, Inc., Fort Lee, N.J.

Louisiana Oil Output Rate Is Defended

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Former Gov. Sam Jones of Louisiana vigorously defended Louisiana's crude oil production rate Friday after hearing pleas for equitable sharing of market demand by all oil producing states.

Jones said one of the pleas made at the midyear meeting of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission implied Louisiana does not have a market demand proration statute for conservation of the crude oil.

He received permission from Gov. Price Daniel of Texas, the compact chairman, to make a "personal privilege" reply.

"We have a law to prorate to demand in Louisiana," he said. "We've grown considerably but we do not feel we have done considerable violence to market demand."

Jones said from 20 to 25 per cent of Louisiana's current production is from offshore areas the state is administering under a temporary agreement with the Interior Department.

"Louisiana at present doesn't get one penny income from the wells involved in the offshore dispute but those wells are expensive to drill and require special allowables," he said.

"Texas has done the best job of limiting production to market demand. "Texas, thank God, has held an umbrella over the oil industry but we in Louisiana have been manning the sea walls and going a job there on a problem that is great and intricate."

He said Louisiana the past three years has discovered 85 per cent of the nation's new proved crude reserves but has received only 11 per cent of increased market.

Louisiana is producing about 1,158,000 barrels of crude daily. Texas produces about 2,449,000 a day. Four years ago Louisian was producing 1,018,000 barrels a day. Texas 3,330,000.

14 'Riders' Are Expelled By University

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Fourteen "Freedom Riders" were dismissed from Tennesse A. & I. University Friday and their sponsors were enjoined from sending additional bus riders to Alabama to test that state's segregation laws.

The discipline committee of A. & I. sent letters to the 14 telling them that as a result of their convictions at Jackson, Miss., they would be "denied the privilege or re-entering, continuing your education or entering graduate school" at the state Negro university.

It noted that the state board of education had a policy of dismissing students convicted of charges involving misconduct. Noting that they had appealed their convictions, the letter said their cases may be reconsidered it if develops that they have not violated the board's policy.

Although the letter stated that the 14 were placed on probation, State Education Commissioner Joe Morgan said he interpreted it as meaning they were dismissed from the Negro college.

Morgan said he approved the letter before the school sent it to the students.

Dog Chases Boy On Bicycle; Cause Of Mishap

A dog chasing a boy on a bicycle was blamed for an accident on Webster St. Friday resulting in injuries to the youth, police reports showed.

Injured was Patrick McHenry, 16, of 1600 McGuire, whose bicycle collided with an auto driven by James E. Blackmon Jr., 35, of 1515 McGuire.

Blackmon said McHenry's bike came down the street at him and that the youth was looking back. McHenry said he was looking behind him because a dog was chasing him.

He was treated for slight abrasions at St. Francis Hospital and released.

Negro Is Booked On Two Charges

Dorothy May Henderson, 25, Negro, 1207 College Ave., was booked Friday for theft and disturbing the peace.

Police said the woman was picked up at United Dollar Store and charged with attempting to steal two pairs of men's socks and one pair of women's stockings valued at $1.17.

BUSINESS HIGHLIGHTS

DIVIDEND ACTIONS TRIAL

NEW YORK (UPI) — Favorable dividend actions are still trailing the year ago period despite the pickup in business, Standard & Poor's Corp. reported Friday.

The statistical agency said that dividend changes usually lag behind business and if expected more liberal payouts late in the year as corporate profits mount.

URGES AMENDMENT

WASHINGTON—President Keith Funston of the New York Stock Exchange urged the Kennedy administration to amend its "blunderbuss" reorganization plan for the SEC and avoid possible abuses by some future commission. Funston told a Senate banking subcommittee this type of legislation may be necessary in the case of other agencies but we do not believe the broad brush should be used in dealing with laws administered" by the SEC.

AUTO PRODUCTION UP

DETROIT—U.S. auto production in May jumped by 21.4 per cent over April but trailed the May 1960 figure by 11.3 per cent, according to Ward's Automotive Reports. The statistical agency said that car output this week slumped due to the Memorial Day holiday which produced three-day work weeks in most plants.

STEEL PRICES DROP

PITTSBURGH —The average prices of finished steel products have dropped to their lowest level in nearly three years, figures of the Bureau of Labor Statistics indicated. The bureau's index is at the lowest point since July 1958, the month before the last general steel price boost.

RETAIL SALES DOWN

NEW YORK —Retail sales in the Memorial Day holiday week were unchanged from a year ago, but down from the previous week, dollar volume in the week ended May 31 ranged from 2 per cent lower to 2 per cent higher than a year ago.

LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO (AP) — The butcher hog market Friday recovered all its sharp setback of Thursday as prices turned 50 to 75 cents a hundredweight higher on the smallest Friday supply in four months.

Buyers said the strike of meat truck drivers Thursday probably was the factor in the small supply of 3,000 head which met a good demand and sold out early. The supply of 30,000 head for the four trading days this week was down 11,000 from the five-day run of last week.

Mixed 1-2 and 1-3 grades weighing 190-230 lbs sold at $17.50-18 and mixed 1-3 and 2-3 in the 200-240 lb range at $16.75-17.50. Heavier offerings were $16 and up. Sows $13.25-15.25.

No sales were reported in the cattle and sheep markets where supplies were meager.

GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures prices climbed steadily into a generally firm range Friday in dragy dealings on the Board of Trade while soybeans, in a tightening range, finished mostly about steady.

Wheat posted the best gains, all of major fractions or better. Corn and rye slipped a little from their best prices of the day but still held most of their advance.

The support was credited to short covering for the weekend. Trade volume was light with the demand only slightly larger than offerings.

Soybean price ranges, narrowing recently, held within a four-cent spread on the active July contract. Limited bulges were of short duration and prices most of the time were on the minus side.

At the close, wheat was ⅝-1¼ cents a bushel higher, July $1.86⅝; corn ¼-⅝ higher, July $1.16¾; oats ¼ higher to ⅛ lower, July 67¼; rye ½-¾ higher, July $1.15; soybeans 1 cent lower to ½ higher, July $2.96½-96.

COTTON

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures closed 15 cents a bale higher to 40 cents lower Friday. Trading was slow, reflecting quiet conditions in spot cotton and the cotton textile market.

Traders were also inclined to await further cotton crop developments. Scattered commission house selling was absorbed through trade buying and short covering.

Award Contract For Bridge On Bayou D'Arbonne

FARMERVILLE (Special) — Louisiana Highway Director Ray W. Burgess has announced that a contract for $587,933 has been awarded to Robbie A. Sims Division of W. R. Fairchild Construction Co., Ltd., of Farmerville for a 962-foot bridge and approaches across Bayou D'Arbonne, on state routes 33 and 15 in Union Parish.

Burgess said plans call for grading, drainage structures, two lanes of bituminous mixture for hot application and a 932-foot reinforced concrete grinder span bridge.

The contractors will be required to provide for and maintain traffic during the approximately 15 months of construction.

Project engineer for the department will be Thomas G. Watts of Ruston.

Stock Mart Closes With Modest Gain

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market closed with a modest gain Friday after a week of erratic and mostly scrambled price movements.

Stocks were among the steadiest performers, apparently in continued response to generally improved industry operations and a brighter outlook. U.S. Steel ran up 1⅛ to 89⅛. Lukens added ¾ to 74¾ and National rose 2 points to 94.

With traders normally reluctant to commit themselves heavily in advance of a weekend, volume trailed off on the rise to 3,670,000 shares from 3,770,000 the day before.

The market narrowed considerably as only 1,289 issues crossed the tape, against 1,306 in the previous session. A total of 560 declined, 10 to new lows, while 502 advanced, 67 to new highs.

Coppers buckled under successive scrap price reductions with Anaconda slipping 2 points to 59 and Phelps Dodge down a small fraction. Improved auto sales brought fair support into this section of the list. Ford stood out with a rise of 1⅝ at 85¾. General Motors with a gain of ⅛ at 43¾ and Chrysler with a gain of ¾ to 42⅞.

The Dow - Jones industrial average ran up 2.33 to close the week at 697.70 on the late buying. Helping matters here was a rise of 2 points in GE and a point or more in Woolworth, Westinghouse, International Harvester, General Foods and Du Pont. American Tobacco, American Telephone, International Nickel and Procter & Gamble were among the easier blue chips.

American Viscose topped the market in activity with 85,000 shares, closing at 56 up 2⅛. Following were Diners Club up 2¼, Libby, McNeill up ⅞, Sperry Rand up ⅝ and American Airlines ahead ⅜.

On the American Stock Exchange, prices were mostly mixed in routine trading. Colonial Sand jumped 1⅝, Aiken Chemical fell 2½ and Technicolor rose more than 3. Volume on the day slipped to 1,690,000 shares from 1,630,000 the day before.

Former Resident Of West Monroe Dies In Bastrop

Daughter Dies, Mother Starves Self To Death

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI) — An 84-year-old mother tenderly placed a pillow under the head of her dead daughter, then lay down on a sofa herself to await death from starvation several days later, a coroner's deputy said Friday.

The mother was identified as Mrs. Elizabeth Farley, and her daughter as Catherine Farley, 46, both formerly of Oneida, N.Y.

The bodies of the two women were found Thursday in their apartment. Deputy coroner Don Bouchette said the daughter had been dead six to eight days, and the mother about five days. Neither woman weighed more than 75 pounds.

After the daughter died, Bouchette said, Mrs. Farley apparently placed a pillow beneath the younger woman's head and wrapped a blanket around her.

"It looks as though when the daughter died," he said, "the elderly mother was unable to help her, or was so grief-stricken that she herself covered the body of the daughter and then lay down and waited for death."

Bouchette said there was food in the icebox and that the mother and daughter had between $4,000 and $5,000 in their savings and checking accounts. There were two unopened railroad retirement checks on a table in the living room.

Five Transistor Radios Stolen

Burglars took five transistor radios from Henry Gerson Furniture Co., 1217 DeSiard St., between 6 p.m. Thursday and 9:40 a.m. Friday, Monroe police reported.

Police said entry was made through a back window. Value of the radios was not learned. The radios were enclosed in plastic cases.

TOTAL OVER $14 BILLION

Solons Approve Big Money Bills

WASHINGTON (AP)—Funds for new public buildings and veterans hospitals in 22 cities were recommended Friday by the House Appropriations Committee as it approved two money bills amounting to $14,412,664,000.

In its biggest action of the year to date, the committee voted $4,984,566,000 for the Agriculture Department and $8,428,098,000 for 23 independent federal agencies. The recommendations are subject to action by the House and later the Senate.

Despite a reduction of $342,141,000 in new funds requested by President Kennedy for the fiscal year starting July 1, the committee boosted by $1,850,339,500 the amounts received by the same agencies for the present fiscal year.

Largest single allotment was $4,679,571,000 for the Veterans Administration, allocated $45,275,000 less than the President requested and $345,127,000 less than was appropriated this year. Funds approved for the Veterans Administration provide for new hospital facilities at Palo Alto, Calif., Brecksville, Ohio, Charleston, S. C., and Wood, Wis.

The General Services Administration's $535,390,000 allotment included $171.6 million to construct new federal buildings in Decatur, Ala., Los Angeles and Long Beach, Calif., Denver, Colo., Statesboro and Winder, Ga., Chicago, Santa Fe, N. M., Wyandotte, Mich., New York City, Bryson City and Thomasville, N. C., Pembina, N. D., Cincinnati, Medford, Ore., Johnstown and Lebanon, Pa., and Derby Line, Vt.

Funds approved for other independent agencies included $1.2 billion for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, $250 million for the National Science Foundation and $723.5 million for the Federal Aviation Agency.

Although $140,678,000 less than the President requested, the $5,943,566,000 allotted to the Agriculture Department was $1,920,284,000 more than the department received this year. This was due primarily to a shifting in financing procedures.

For the first time, the Appropriations Committee ordered the department's foreign assistance programs put on a pay-as-you-go basis instead of financing them, as in past years, through the Commodity Credit Corporation. The committee said it did not believe the CCC, which primarily handles price support programs, should have its financial ability strained by footing the bill for special foreign programs.

The committee earmarked $1.6 billion of new agriculture funds to pay for the foreign programs during the coming year and $1,951,915,000 for the same programs during the present year.

BUSINESS HIGHLIGHTS

DIVIDEND ACTIONS TRIAL

NEW YORK (UPI) — Favorable dividend actions are still trailing the year ago period despite the pickup in business, Standard & Poor's Corp. reported Friday.

The statistical agency said that dividend changes usually lag behind business and it expected more liberal payouts late in the year as corporate profits mount.

URGES AMENDMENT

WASHINGTON—President Keith Funston of the New York Stock Exchange urged the Kennedy administration to amend its "blunderbuss" reorganization plan for the SEC and avoid possible abuses by some future commission. Funston told a Senate banking subcommittee, this type of legislation may be necessary in the case of other agencies but we do not believe the broad brush should be used in dealing with laws administered" by the SEC.

AUTO PRODUCTION UP

DETROIT—U.S. auto production in May jumped by 21.4 per cent over April but trailed the May 1960 figure by 11.3 per cent, according to Ward's Automotive Reports. The statistical agency said that car output this week slumped due to the Memorial Day holiday which produced three-day work weeks in most plants.

STEEL PRICES DROP

PITTSBURGH —The average prices of finished steel products have dropped to their lowest level in nearly three years, figures of the Bureau of Labor Statistics indicated. The bureau's index is at the lowest point since July 1958, the month before the last general steel price boost.

RETAIL SALES DOWN

NEW YORK —Retail sales in the Memorial Day holiday week were unchanged from a year ago, but down from the previous week, dollar volume in the week ended May 31 ranged from 2 per cent lower to 2 per cent higher than a year ago.

LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO (AP) — The butcher hog market Friday recovered all its sharp setback of Thursday as prices turned 50 to 75 cents a hundredweight higher on the smallest Friday supply in four months.

Buyers said the strike of meat truck drivers Thursday probably was the factor in the small supply of 3,000 head which met a good demand and sold out early. The supply of 30,000 head for the four trading days this week was down 11,000 from the five-day run of last week.

Mixed 1-2 and 1-3 grades weighing 190-230 lbs sold at $17.50-18 and mixed 1-3 and 2-3 in the 200-240 lb range at $16.75-17.50. Heavier offerings were $16 and up. Sows $13.25-15.25.

No sales were reported in the cattle and sheep markets where supplies were meager.

GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures prices climbed steadily into a generally firm range Friday in dragy dealings on the Board of Trade while soybeans, in a tightening range, finished mostly about steady.

Wheat posted the best gains, all of major fractions or better. Corn and rye slipped a little from their best prices of the day but still held most of their advance.

The support was credited to short covering for the weekend. Trade volume was light with the demand only slightly larger than offerings.

Soybean price ranges, narrowing recently, held within a four-cent spread on the active July contract. Limited bulges were of short duration and prices most of the time were on the minus side.

At the close, wheat was ⅝-1⅛ cents a bushel higher, July $1.86⅝; corn ¼-⅝ higher, July $1.16¾; oats ¼ higher to ⅛ lower, July 67⅛; rye ½-¾ higher, July $1.15; soybeans 1 cent lower to ½ higher, July $2.96½-96.

COTTON

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures closed 15 cents a bale higher to 40 cents lower Friday. Trading was slow, reflecting quiet conditions in spot cotton and the cotton textile market.

Traders were also inclined to await further cotton crop developments. Scattered commission house selling was absorbed through trade buying and short covering.

Award Contract For Bridge On Bayou D'Arbonne

FARMERVILLE (Special) — Louisiana Highway Director Ray W. Burgess has announced that a contract for $587,938 has been awarded to Robbie A. Sims Division of W. R. Fairchild Construction Co., Ltd., of Farmerville for a 962-foot bridge and approaches across Bayou D'Arbonne, on state routes 33 and 15 in Union Parish.

Burgess said plans call for grading, drainage structures, two lanes of bituminous mixture for hot application and a 952-foot reinforced concrete grinder span bridge.

The contractors will be required to provide for and maintain traffic during the approximately 15 months of construction.

Project engineer for the department will be Thomas G. Watts of Ruston.

Stock Mart Closes With Modest Gain

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market closed with a modest gain Friday after a week of erratic and mostly scrambled price movements.

Steels were among the steadiest performers, apparently in continued response to generally improved industry operations and a brighter outlook. U.S. Steel ran up 1⅛ to 89½. Lukens added ⅞ to 74⅞ and National rose 2 points to 94½.

With traders normally reluctant to commit themselves heavily in advance of a weekend, volume trailed off on the rise to 3,670,000 shares from 3,770,000 the day before.

The market narrowed considerably as only 1,289 issues crossed the tape, against 1,306 in the previous session. A total of 560 declined, 10 to new lows, while 502 advanced, 67 to new highs.

Coppers buckled under successive scrap price reductions with Anaconda slipping 2 points to 59 and Phelps Dodge down a small fraction. Improved auto sales brought fair support into this section of the list. Ford stood out with a rise of 1⅝ at 85⅞, General Motors with a gain of ¼ at 45⅜ and Chrysler with a gain of ⅜ to 42⅞.

The Dow - Jones industrial average ran up 2.33 to close the week at 697.70 on the late buying. Helping matters here was a rise of 2 points in GE and a point or more in Woolworth, Westinghouse, International Harvester, General Foods and Du Pont. American Tobacco, American Telephone, International Nickel and Procter & Gamble were among the easier blue chips.

American Viscose topped the market in activity with 85,000 shares, closing at 56 up 2⅜. Following were Diners Club up 2¼, Libby, McNeill up ⅜, Sperry Rand up ⅜ and American Airlines ahead ⅛.

On the American Stock Exchange, prices were mostly mixed in routine trading. Colonial Sand jumped 1⅝, Anken Chemical fell 2½ and Technicolor rose more than 3. Volume on the day slipped to 1,690,000 shares from 1,830,000 the day before.

Daughter Dies, Mother Starves Self To Death

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI) — An 84-year-old mother tenderly placed a pillow under the head of her dead daughter, then lay down on a sofa herself to await death from starvation several days later, a coroner's deputy said Friday.

The mother was identified as Mrs. Elizabeth Farley, and her daughter as Catherine Farley, 46, both formerly of Oneida, N.Y.

The bodies of the two women were found Thursday in their apartment. Deputy coroner Don Bouchette said the daughter had been dead six to eight days, and the mother about five days. Neither woman weighed more than 75 pounds.

After the daughter died, Bouchette said, Mrs. Farley apparently placed a pillow beneath the younger woman's head and wrapped a blanket around her.

"It looks as though when the daughter died," he said, "the elderly mother was unable to help her, or was so grief-stricken that she herself covered the body of the daughter and then lay down and waited for death."

Bouchette said there was food in the icebox and that the mother and daughter had between $4,000 and $5,000 in their savings and checking accounts. There were two unopened railroad retirement checks on a table in the living room.

Five Transistor Radios Stolen

Burglars took five transistor radios from Henry Gerson Furniture Co., 1217 DeSiard St., between 6 p.m. Thursday and 9:40 a.m. Friday, Monroe police reported.

Police said entry was made through a back window. Value of the radios was not learned. The radios were enclosed in plastic cases.

TOTAL OVER $14 BILLION

Solons Approve Big Money Bills

WASHINGTON (AP)—Funds for new public buildings and veterans hospitals in 22 cities were recommended Friday by the House Appropriations Committee as it approved two money bills amounting to $14,412,664,000.

In its biggest action of the year to date, the committee voted $4,984,566,000 for the Agriculture Department and $8,428,098,000 for 23 independent federal agencies. The recommendations are subject to action by the House and later the Senate.

Despite a reduction of $342,141,000 in new funds requested by President Kennedy for the fiscal year starting July 1, the committee boosted by $1,850,339,500 the amounts received by the same agencies for the present fiscal year.

Largest single allotment was $4,879,571,000 for the Veterans Administration, allocated $45,275,000 less than the President requested and $545,127,000 less than was appropriated this year. Funds approved for the Veterans Administration provide for new hospital facilities at Palo Alto, Calif., Brecksville, Ohio, Charleston, S. C., and Wood, Wis.

The General Services Administration's $535,390,000 allotment included $171.6 million to construct new federal buildings in Decatur, Ala., Los Angeles and Long Beach Calif., Denver, Colo., Statesboro and Winder, Ga., Chicago, Santa Fe, N. M., Wyandotte, Mich., New York City, Bryson City and Thomasville, N. C., Pembina, N. D., Cincinnati, Medford, Ore., Johnstown and Lebanon, Pa., and Derby Line, Vt.

Funds approved for other independent agencies included $1.2 billion for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, $250 million for the National Science Foundation and $723.5 million for the Federal Aviation Agency.

Although $140,678,000 less than the President requested, the $5,948,566,000 allotted to the Agriculture Department was $1,920,284,900 more than the department received this year. This was due primarily to a shifting in financing procedures.

For the first time, the Appropriations Committee ordered the department's foreign assistance programs put on a pay-as-you-go basis instead of financing them, as in past years, through the Commodity Credit Corporation. The committee said it did not believe the CCC, which primarily handles price support programs, should have its financial ability strained by footing the bill for special foreign programs.

The committee earmarked $1.6 billion of new agriculture funds to pay for the foreign programs during the coming year and $1,951,915,000 for the same programs during the present year.

Voice Of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Princess Grace and Prince Rainier of Monaco should announce a happy news story soon . . . Lucille Ball spent the holidays at the Concord in the Catskills, accompanied by her best beau, comedian Gary Morton, her mother and her son, Desi Jr. Despite Lucy's frequent appearance with Gary, her close friends doubt that they'll marry... singer Jimmy Darren is greatly relieved after the actor's check-up at his doctors. He began to suffer defects in his vision when his eyes became inflamed by gunpowder during the shooting of "Guns of Navarone" and for a while he believed he was going blind.

Betsy's office copy in the Gene Kelly-Debbie Reynolds picture "The Mark" is banned by the head of the movie distributor Embassy. The reason? The subject matter is unsuitable.

Irene Ellington has been seeing a lot around with celebrities during the past couple of weeks because the people keep on the town. Sam Woodward has a new girl. Nobody has a date to the Sinatra's. On Monday and Tuesday some have decided to see another ex.

The battle between Eva Lassie and Jackie Gleason over the Big Time of the Good Year continues to be heated. Jackie attended Eva's opening concert in Fairmont for other purpose but ended up seeing after the first act. He went back stage to tell Eva he had a previous commitment. Eva booed him out of the house. She could be heard far outside the star dressing room and as a result Jackie left during the other performance. Some Day Eva's Jackie. No one else has talked to me like that before.

Bookseller Tex Peirce and a couple Hollywood writers have taken up plenty of space together recently. He's being pursued by Rita Hayworth friends that Ben Bodkopez, who temporarily replaced Joey in Las Vegas, She has married another lawyer. Producer Robert Gilman wants Montgomery Clift for the leading role in the cinema biography of Edgar Allan Poe.

Some book publishers are said to be worried. Several are hoping to persuade Gary Cooper author to write the story of his romance in the last months when he was dying of cancer. Pretty personal? He can and encouraged the approach to decide what's good for publication for himself.

The writing moguls are keeping a careful eye on author Irving Pichel's $500,000 anti-trust suit against motion picture companies. Pichel's attorneys have a "blacklist victims" while the industry maintains there is no such thing as a blacklist. The outcome of the case will study the proceedings to protect other writers under similar circumstances.

George Hamilton says he has an "exclusive deal" to star with Peter Lawford in "Sex and the Single Girl." Warners has not signed him to do a film with Lee Remick. Lawford has been trying to get Hamilton for his company, MGM Records, at the behest of his wife Pat Kennedy. Hamilton is being pursued by Robert Wagner, who is one of the few actors who could remain married to the same woman for 27 years. His reasoning: "Movie actors, especially in America, look for a new dame about twice a year. And if that's the case, how the hell are you going to stay interested in one woman for any length of time?"

Woody Herman, who is set to open at St. Bobby Darin and Trini Lopez, at Chicago's Cafe Au Go Go on 1st Ave., is already booking at the Town on 1st Ave. It doesn't sound like good natured Mr. Herman.

Funeral Is Held For Mrs. Holley Of Sterlington

Funeral services were conducted at 2:30 p.m. Friday at the Mount Union Baptist Church near Lillie for Mrs. Essie Evelyn Holley, 74-year-old sister of a Monroe man. Elmer Nash, who died Tuesday in her Sterlington home.

Officiating were the Rev. Jim Mathews and George Jones, with interment followed in the Mount Union Cemetery under direction of Gay's Funeral Home of Oak Grove.

A native of Union Parish, Mrs. Holley had been a resident of the area for [illegible] years.

She is survived by four sons, L. W. of Lake C. W. Collins, Bossier City, Ray and Horace E. Holley of Sterlington; two daughters, Mrs. R. C. Mollice, Bastrop, Ore., Mrs. and Mrs. Bess McMahan Sterlington; two sisters, Mrs. Pearl Hooper, Monroe, Route Four, Ramey [illegible] and Essie Nash, Monroe; and 15 great grandchildren.

New Brief Is Filed In St. Helena Case

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Attorney Gen. Jack Gremillion told a three-judge federal court Friday a brief he prepared against St. Helena Parish officials in public schools would not ask the federal government to use the states to desegregate the schools.

In a new brief he filed Gremillion contended only a majority vote was needed in the parish before the court.

The Gremillion brief has asked attorneys general of all 50 states to file briefs in the case. Dozens out of both sides efforts to [illegible] public schools desegregated.

Attorney Gen. Gremillion charged that the school's were desegregated last November. St. Helena, a [illegible] parish in southeastern Louisiana, and big East Baton Rouge became the next targets. A final date for desegregation in these two parishes has not been set.

The Louisiana Legislature has provided a system of grants in aid for support of private, segregated schools. St. Helena voters already have taken the first step under a new state law—in balloting in favor of this.

Louisiana settles the state's hat on suit on school closing

Zale Declares Stock Dividend

A cash dividend of 25 cents per share of common stock, payable July 10, to shareowners of record June 9, has been declared by directors of the Zale Jewelry Company.

Board members further stated that as of May 5, the Dallas-based organization, listed on the American Stock Exchange, was operating 195 stores in 32 states.

Princess Grace and Prince Rainier of Monaco should announce a happy news story soon . . . Lucille Ball spent the holidays at the Concord in the Catskills, accompanied by her best beau, comedian Gary Morton, her mother and her son, Desi Jr. Despite Lucy's frequent appearance with Gary, her close friends doubt that they'll marry... singer Jimmy Darren is greatly relieved after the latest check-up by his doctors. He began to suffer defects in his vision when his eyes became inflamed by gunpowder during the shooting of "Guns of Navarone," and for a while he believed he was going blind.

Peggy Cass isn't carrying any torch for her estranged husband, Carl Fisher. She seems to be having a merry whirl with composer Bob Merrill in Hollywood . . . Britain's official entry in the Cannes Film Festival — "The Mark" — is banned by the leading movie distributor in England. The reason? "The subject matter is unsuitable."

Duke Ellington has been struggling along with substitute drummers for the past couple of weeks because his regular man on the skins, Sam Woodyard, has vanished. Nobody has a clue to his whereabouts . . . Orson Welles and his young wife have decided to give it another try.

The Funny battle between Elsa Lancaster and Jayne Mansfield (even the cast is unlikely!) is the Big Talk of Hollywood. According to the favored version, Jayne attended Elsa's opening concert in Filmland the other night, but wanted to leave after the first act, so went backstage to tell Elsa she had a previous engagement. Elsa bawled her out in tones that could be heard far outside the star dressing room, and as a result Jayne sat through the entire performance in tears. Jayne's post mortem: "No one ever talked to me like that before."

Bandleader Tito Puente and his sultry Ida, whose various tribulations have taken up plenty of news space, are together again. Ida is happily telling friends that Bien Rodriquez, who temporarily replaced her in Tito's love life, has married another fellow . . . Producer Roger Corman wants Montgomery Clift for the leading role in the cinema biography of Edgar Allan Poe.

Some book publishers just won't quit. Several are hoping to persuade Gary Cooper's widow to write the story of his courage in the last months when he was dying of cancer. Their argument: His calm and uncomplaining approach to death would prove an inspiration to millions.

The writing unions will keep a careful eye on author Louis Pollock's $300,000 anti-trust suit against major motion picture companies. Pollock alleges he is a "blacklist victim," while the industry maintains there is no such thing as a blacklist. The guilds representing writers will study the proceedings to protect other scribes under similar circumstances.

Connie Francis says she has an "exchange deal" in the works with Frank Sinatra. He wants to do a duet disc with her, the way she tells it, and he's willing to wax an album for her company, MGM Records, if she'll do one for his firm, Reprise . . . Robert Ryan admits he's one of the few actors who could remain married to the same woman for 22 years. His reasoning: "Movie acting, especially in America, tends to create almost total self-interest. And if that's the case, how the hell are you going to stay interested in one woman for any length of time?"

Woody Harris, who writes songs with Bobby Darin, and Tobi Harthson, a curvaceous cutie, are a steady twosome at the Toast on 1st Ave . . . It doesn't sound like good-natured Martha Raye, but Chicago interviewers are complaining that when she went to the Windy City to do a TV show she broke appointments without notifying the reporters that she didn't intend to show up.

The Stork Club has a new Chinese elevator operator who doubles in brass. He also serves as interpreter for Sherman Billingsley when the boss wants to say a few words to the chaps in the kitchen who prepare the moo goo guy pan . . . Actress Anna Neagle will front the chain of Fred Astaire dancing studios in Britain . . . Joanne Gilbert, set for the title role in the Las Vegas version of Gypsy," bowed out of the cast after a week's rehearsal. The reason given was "severe congestivitis."

In case you don't believe Manhattan had an unusually cold Spring, make note of the fact that Hildegarde swept into Voisin the other night in a full length coat of Russian sable . . . Brigitte Bardot, in the silliest publicity gambit of the year, is reportedly "forbidding" the producers of "The Truth" to release any more pictures showing her cutting her wrists. First of all, they're released — and some have been printed, full-page size. Secondly, if she didn't want them released, why did she pose for them?

Youth To Help In Directing Key Club Meet

One of 16 members of the Neville High School Key Club attending the organization's 18th annual convention July 9-12 in Philadelphia, Pa., will be John P. Burton Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Burton of 1411 Park Ave., in Monroe.

Young Burton, as one of the trustees of Key Club International, will participate in the direction of activities for the nearly 2,500 youths expected for the confab. Each trustee has been assigned a definite role in operations.

Key Club International is a high school boys' service organization sponsored by Kiwanis International.

Funeral Is Held For Mrs. Holley Of Sterlington

Funeral services were conducted at 2:30 p.m. Friday in the Mount Union Baptist Church near Lillie for Mrs. Evie Evelyn Holley, 74-year-old sister of a Monroe man, Elmer Neal, who died Thursday in her Sterlington home.

Officiating were the Revs. Jim Matthews and George Jones, with interment following in the Mount Union Cemetery under direction of Gay's Funeral Home of Oak Grove.

A native of Union Parish, Mrs. Holley for several years had been a resident of Sterlington.

She is survived by four sons, L. W., of Lillie, J. W., Collinston, Woodrow, Rayville, and Horace E. Holley of Sterlington; two daughters, Mrs. R. C. New Brief Is Filed In St. Helena Case

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion told a three-judge federal court Friday a ruling against St. Helena Parish closing its public schools would enable federal government to use the states to dictate to the public.

In a new brief he filed, Gremillion touched on a major issue now before the courts.

The three-judge court has invited attorneys general of all 50 states to file briefs in the case, growing out of Louisiana efforts to resist public school desegregation.

After two New Orleans elementary schools were desegregated last November, St. Helena, a rural parish in southeastern Louisiana, and big East Baton Rouge became the next targets. A final date for desegregation in these two parishes has not been set.

The Louisiana Legislature has provided a system of grants in aid for support of private, segregated schools. St. Helena voters already have taken the first step—under a new state law—in balloting in favor of this.

Gremillion today filed his 35-page brief with the clerk of federal district court here.

Louisiana argues the state's local option law on school closing, as used by the St. Helena Parish school board in an election several weeks ago, does not violate the due process clause of the 14th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution.
